Welcome

Welcome to the University of Waikato's graduation ceremonies. Graduation is a highlight of the University year as it is a time when the University and the community come together to formally acknowledge and celebrate the achievements of their scholars. This makes it a happy and important occasion for graduands, their families and friends. For these reasons the University endeavours to make each ceremony part of a special day for all participants. I hope you enjoy graduation and I wish all graduands future success and happiness.

A Brief History of the University of Waikato Te Whare Wānanga o Waikato

The University of Waikato/Te Whare Wānanga o Waikato celebrated its 40th anniversary in 2004. We embraced the opportunity presented by this significant milestone to reflect on our many achievements and successes since 1964, while at the same time looking ahead with great optimism to the future.

The University had its genesis in 1956, when a small group of visionary individuals began working towards the founding of a university for the people of the South Auckland region. A college, a sub-branch of Auckland University, was established in 1959 and in 1965, after opening its doors in 1964, the University of Waikato was officially opened by the then Governor-General, Sir Bernard Fergusson (later Lord Ballantrae).

From these modest beginnings, on what was largely farmland and with only a handful of temporary buildings and staff, the University of Waikato now employs approximately 1600 staff. We offer more than 200 qualifications and have approximately 13500 students, of whom more than 5500 complete a qualification annually. Our main campus in Hamilton covers some 65 hectares and provides comprehensive teaching, research and cultural facilities, student accommodation, banks and cafes, excellent sports and recreation amenities and extensive gardens.

The Hamilton campus is located close to a recently established Innovation Park, making us exceptionally well placed to contribute to the local and national economies by enhancing business capability in the region and increasing opportunities for the commercialisation of intellectual property.

The University of Waikato at Tauranga provides students in the Tauranga/Bay of Plenty area with the opportunity to complete qualifications locally, with many of the programmes being provided in co-operation with the Bay of Plenty Polytechnic. We also continue to deliver programmes in various locations throughout our region and more than 20 of our qualifications are available entirely or mostly through online study.

Co-operation and collaboration are fundamental principles to the way the University of Waikato operates. We are a member of the Tertiary Education Alliance, alongside the Bay of Plenty Polytechnic, Tairāwhiti Polytechnic, Waiariki Institute of Technology, Western Institute of Technology and Wintec. This alliance is a highly successful example of a co-operative approach to education planning and provision. It provides clear academic pathways through agreed articulation, credit and contractual teaching arrangements, and as a result, students in the region can take advantage of a variety of tertiary opportunities that would not otherwise be so accessible.

We define our region in terms of the tribal boundaries of the 16 iwi affiliated to Te Rōpu Manukura. It extends from Manukau down to Wanganui, across to Kahungunu, along the East Coast up to Hikurangi, continuing up to the Bay of Plenty, to the Coromandel and back to Manukau. We sit at the heart of a community of strong regional partnerships and take pride in the extent to which we reflect and serve the strengths and interests of our region.

From its inception the University has always been at the forefront of initiatives in support of Māori aspirations, working closely with local iwi, particularly Tainui, to make the University accessible to Māori students and to foster an environment of success. Today we are proud to have the highest proportion of Māori students of any New Zealand university.

We continue to foster a culture of internationalisation, measured through the diversity of our student and staff profiles, the support and celebration of that diversity, a long-standing pride in our reputation for the pastoral care of our international students, and the measures we take through curriculum, programme design and our global networks and connections to international influences.

We are proud of our evolution into a truly New Zealand institution which, as our motto reflects, supports our country's nation-building policies and reflects our nation's identity.

The University Crest

THE UNIVERSITY OF
WAIKATO
Te Whare Wānanga o Waikato

The motto, Ko Te Tangata, means 'For the People' and reflects the University's philosophy that people are central to the institution and its most valued resource. The outside red border is a stylised fern frond or pitau that symbolises new birth, growth, vitality, strength and achievement. Inside the border is the University's coat of arms. The open book surrounded by the four stars of the Southern Cross is a symbol of learning. The crest design is in the University's colours of black, red and gold.

Ceremonial Traditions

Elements of university graduation ceremonies have evolved from the 12th century when the first universities emerged in Europe. The organisation of medieval universities was modelled on the established institutions of the day – the church, the monastery, and the guild.

Latin was the language used by medieval scholars, and it is from Latin that the words 'university' and 'degree' are derived. The Latin term universitas means a guild or union and universities started as a scholastic guild – a self-constituted community of teachers and scholars.

The word graduate comes from the Latin word gradus, which means step. Admission to study a bachelors degree was the first step taken towards completing a university education. The second step was to become a 'master'. Masters were Master of Arts graduates whose degrees licensed them to teach. The Chancellor, an officer of the cathedral, originally granted teaching licences.

Ceremonial Robes

In the Middle Ages the corporate existence of universities was recognised and sanctioned by civil or ecclesiastical authority. The regalia worn by graduates and university staff today reflect this mix of medieval governance. Robes worn by the Chancellor resemble those worn by the Lord Chancellor of England. Graduates and academic staff wear gowns similar to the dress of medieval clergy. Hoods are also fashioned on an everyday medieval garment, although the coloured lining was a later addition to indicate the wearer's university and degree.

The academic gowns and hoods worn by graduates and University staff today are fashioned on everyday medieval garments.

God of Nations at Thy feet
In the bonds of love we meet
Hear our voices we entreat
God defend our free land

Guard Pacific's triple star
From the shafts of strife and war
Make her praises heard afar
God defend New Zealand
