What we can do to support schools with dual medium learning

We are committed to working alongside schools providing dual medium education, to design and implement in-school programmes of professional learning that will support and enhance the quality of teaching and leadership for their students.

Tihei Pāngarau!

Pāngarau is an essential area of learning for all students. We believe that Pāngarau contributes to the success and well-being of students, their whānau, hapū and iwi.

Te Whai Toi Tangata provides specialist support focused on raising the quality of teaching, sharing expertise and useful resources to promote student success in Pāngarau.

Te Whai Toi Tangata offers a comprehensive range of Pāngarau services for kura including support for kaiako to learn about and implement effective aromatawai practices, plan for learning, to gather and analyse assessment data, use Te Waharoa Ararau ā-Kura and Te Waharoa Ararau ā-Motu, as well as prepare reports for parents, whānau and the Ministry of Education.

Tailored Pāngarau support for schools can include:

- Pāngarau for Year 0 -10 students - Te Tau me Te Taurangi, Te Ine me Te Āhuahanga, Te Tauanga me te Tūponotanga
- Pāngarau at NCEA Levels 1-3 - Te Tau me Te Taurangi, Te Ine me Te Āhuahanga, Te Tauanga me te Tūponotanga
- Integrating Pāngarau strands with the marau ā-kura, and linking strands and number together
- Assessment for Pāngarau
- Support with Te Waharoa Ararau ā-Kura and Te Waharoa Ararau ā-Motu including annual plans and target setting for NAG 2a
- Strengthening processes for Overall Teacher Judgments (Kia Whakatau Aronga)
- Making effective use of Pāngarau resources already in schools
- Creating no and low cost resources to support Pāngarau teaching and learning
- Integrating Hangarau and Pāngarau and linking Pāngarau to other marau.
- Developing Pāngarau systems in schools e.g. implementation plans, assessment schedules, IEPs for targeted students.
- Developing quality Pāngarau programmes within the kura.

Principal and leadership support

E kore au e ngaro, te kākano i ruia mai i Rangiatea.

The quality of professional leadership is absolutely critical to drive student success in learning. The demands on principals and school leaders are significant and complex, and we offer a number of services to assist both new and experienced leaders such as principal appraisals, use of Pakirēhua, use of student achievement data, mentoring and coaching, NAG2A reporting, teacher registration requirements and the preparation of school charters.

Teaching Te Reo Māori

Ko te reo te mauri o te mana Māori. The language is the life force of the mana Māori.

Te reo Māori is the indigenous language of New Zealand and is embedded in the New Zealand Curriculum and Te Marautanga o Aoteroa. The national curriculum acknowledges the principles of the Treaty of Waitangi and encourages all schools and kura to recognise the importance of te reo Māori and tikanga Māori at all levels from early learning through to primary and secondary school levels.

Te Aho Arataki Marau mō te Ako i Te Reo Māori (Curriculum Guidelines for Teaching and Learning Te Reo Māori) is intended to support English-medium schools to design and shape a curriculum that includes te reo Māori alongside other learning areas.

High quality Māori language in education is critical because it supports the identity, language and culture of all learners and provides all Māori learners the opportunity they need to realise their unique potential and to succeed as Māori. As students learn te reo Māori, they also deepen their knowledge and understanding of tikanga Māori and develop their own personal, group and national identities.

Our facilitators are able to work alongside teachers and schools leaders to develop Māori language programmes for students, and provide practical support to develop knowledge, skills and confidence to use te reo Māori within teaching and learning from Year 1 to 13.

Working alongside clusters/communities of learning

Ehara taku toa i te toa takitahi, engari he toa takitini.

We understand most schools are keenly focused on developing the capability of their own leaders, teachers and whānau to provide high quality education for their students. Sharing knowledge and practice across schools and their communities has also been integral to whanaungatanga and continuing to build the collective success and well-being of our people.

Facilitators from Te Whai Toi Tangata can support your leaders and teachers to take advantage of being part of a wider learning community. There are many ways we can work alongside schools and communities that would like to work more collaboratively on shared priorities – to co-construct and facilitate specific focused professional learning sessions, to guide inquiry into teacher and leadership practice using the Pakirehua model, and to work alongside tumuaki and principals who would like to establish a professional learning group.

Teacher Led Innovation Fund

Mā te mōhio, ka mārāma; Mā te mārāma, ka mātau; Mā te mātau, ka ora!

Schools hold a critical role in the revitalisation of the Māori language and education that reflects the language, culture and identity of their students, whānau and iwi. The spirit of innovation thrives within Māori medium settings, and there are opportunities for schools to pursue the creation of knowledge and research that contributes to the maintenance of kaupapa Māori within dual medium settings. Te Whai Toi Tangata is well positioned to collaborate with teachers and schools interested in submitting proposals for the Teacher Led Innovation Fund to undertake innovative research that will accelerate student success in education.

If you have innovative ideas and projects that you would like to explore further, we have experienced facilitators who can work alongside teachers and schools. We can contribute to discussions or decision making processes to help your school and teachers take advantage of being part of a wider learning community and/or undertaking inquiry into practice with other teachers to develop innovative ways of helping students succeed at kura.

Contestable funding to support innovation research is available from the Ministry of Education. For more information about the Teacher Led Innovation Fund, you can contact your regional Ministry of Education office or search their website: www.education.govt.nz

About Te Whai Toi Tangata

Te Whai Toi Tangata (Institute of Professional Learning) is a bilingual, bicultural professional learning and development organisation founded on a base of more than two decades of internationally recognised delivery and research.

We are an integral part of the Faculty of Education at the University of Waikato. This Institute provides high quality research informed programmes of professional learning and development that contribute to improved professional practice in early childhood centres, kura, schools and tertiary institutions nationally and internationally.

Te Whai Toi Tangata has a team of experienced facilitators familiar with research and effective practice, and who can deliver support in te reo Māori. We are able to work effectively in both Māori medium and dual medium settings. We work collaboratively with researchers and with other facilitators who have specialist knowledge in areas such as Ihumanea (Gifted and Talented) and Learning with Digital Technologies.
