IMPORTANT NOTICE

The information contained in the Calendar is correct at the time of publication. Certain information, and in particular that relating to fees, admission regulations and papers, is subject to a continuous process of review. The University therefore reserves the right to change its policies, procedures, statutes, regulations, papers and any other content of the Calendar at any time. Any alterations and amendments to the Calendar will be reflected in the web version, calendar.waikato.ac.nz, which is the authoritative version.

Unless specifically stated otherwise, all policies, procedures, statutes and regulations printed in this Calendar are effective from 1 January 2010 and supersede those in any prior Calendar. Matters concerning enrolment and examinations apply to the academic year for which the student is formally enrolled for the relevant paper(s).

While in most cases there are no specific time limits for completing qualifications, over the years the degree structures and papers may change in response to developments in their areas. Occasionally core papers or requirements are changed or discontinued.

Candidates will have their overall programmes of study confirmed as meeting the requirements for the award of a qualification on the basis of the relevant regulations in the Calendar in their final year of study. However, if the regulations have changed since the candidate first enrolled for the qualification, the relevant Dean or Director may decide in individual cases, under the Personal Programmes of Study Regulations and the Delegation of Powers Statute, to vary or waive particular requirements. Students who are uncertain about whether papers passed under previous regulations will meet current requirements should consult the relevant Chairperson of Department, Dean or Director.

Detailed transitional regulations will be printed in the Calendar from time to time if substantial changes are made to the structure of a particular qualification.

The University of Waikato

The University of Waikato/Te Whare Wānanga o Waikato had its origins in 1956, when a small group of visionary individuals began working towards the founding of a university for the people of the South Auckland region. In 1959 a College was established in Hamilton, as a branch of the University of Auckland, and in 1964 the new University of Waikato enrolled its first students. The official opening ceremony for the University took place in 1965, in the presence of the Governor-General, Sir Bernard Fergusson (later Lord Ballantrae).

From these modest beginnings, on what was largely farmland and with only a handful of staff and temporary buildings, the University of Waikato now provides over 80 qualifications to a student population of approximately 13,000, of whom more than 3,500 complete a qualification annually. In 1998 the University of Waikato started to offer papers in Tauranga.

Today, the University employs approximately 2,000 staff and makes a major contribution to the social and cultural life, as well as the economy, of the Waikato and Bay of Plenty regions. A recent study has shown that the University of Waikato is a major driver of the region's prosperity, generating 3% of the Waikato's total regional revenue and nearly $1 billion for the New Zealand economy as a whole. In the core Waikato region, economic activity by the University accounts for 5% of overall revenue - this means that for every dollar spent by the University in 2008 it resulted in $1.21 of flow-on revenue across the core Waikato economy. The study also shows that every job at the University generates another job in New Zealand, with two-thirds of these flow-on jobs located in the core Waikato region. It is widely recognised that future economic growth and wealth in the Waikato and the Bay of Plenty depend heavily on the educational success of the people, and the creation of knowledge to drive innovation. These in turn depend on strong connections between the University and the communities it serves.

The University has embarked on the delivery of an ambitious new Vision for the future. The key themes of the Vision are Excellence, Distinctiveness and International Connectedness. We are committed to delivering a world-class education and research portfolio, providing a full and dynamic university experience which is distinctive in character, and pursuing strong international linkages to advance knowledge.

The University of Waikato is building for the future on a foundation of excellence in teaching and research. Our students are taught in a research-intensive environment, by world leaders in their fields. We foster excellence in learning and scholarship, and as the creators of knowledge, we encourage our students to be leaders and innovators. We produce graduates who are globally competitive by ensuring that our academic staff are internationally connected and benchmarked against the best in the world.

Excellence with regard to educational and research outcomes relies on the recruitment, retention and support of world-class staff and the provision of world-class facilities. Academic leadership and a culture of high performance are therefore among the highest investment priorities for the University.

Closely associated with its student focus is the University's strong reputation for its excellent and innovative approach to student learning support and its track-record of effectiveness in supporting students in the transition into university study. It is committed to strengthening pathways from schools to university, and working closely with polytechnics and wānanga to increase progression into degree-level study. As well as offering effective learning support to all students, the University's Pathways College offers English language and foundation programmes that are specially tailored to the needs of international students.

The University of Waikato invests heavily in the pastoral care of its students. The campus environment in Hamilton is shared with the wider community, and the University works closely with the Hamilton City Council and other local government agencies in the region to foster a dynamic student culture. The development and well-being of every student as an individual, and as a 'whole person', is an important dimension of the University's uniqueness. The Halls of Residence on campus, where pass rates of students are significantly higher than average, are a clear example of the University's focus on a supportive learning environment.

In the period 2007 - 2010, the University will invest over $98 million in a capital programme to support learning, teaching and research. All of this is designed to enhance the student learning experience. A new Student Hub, a 'one-stop-shop' for services to students, is one of the major new building projects which will be phased in over the next two years.

A core element of our Vision is the development of the institution's distinctiveness. The University of Waikato is distinctive in three respects. Firstly, it offers teaching and research excellence across a broad range of subjects. The University's national leadership in Computer Science, Management, Education and the Sciences has been clearly demonstrated through its top national research rankings in those areas. Secondly, the University has a unique reputation for being student-centred, for treating students as individuals, and demonstrating a genuine concern for their well-being. Thirdly, the University offers a genuinely Aotearoa/New Zealand identity, which extends beyond the excellence of its teaching and research and its student focus, and is unique in New Zealand. The University of Waikato is aligned unambiguously with an Aotearoa/New Zealand national and cultural identity. Our three composite elements of Sustainability, Māori and Leadership, are infused through all we do, and guide our academic and strategic decision-making.

As stated in our Vision, the University is pursuing strong international linkages to advance knowledge. Over the next few years, it will invest in the establishment of a small number of elite international alliances, through which it will enhance its international reputation and profile, build staff capability through academic collaboration, enhance student learning through shared curriculum development and student exchanges, and collaborate in quality assurance, best practice and benchmarking. International strategic links will bring opportunities to increase research and commercialisation revenue. We will also use these strategic links to support our efforts, in collaboration with our regional business stakeholders, to achieve economic development and transformation outcomes.

Increasing external research investment, from national and international organisations, into the University is fundamental to growing the University's research capability, capacity and reputation. Effective engagement with industry partners, both directly and through collaborative government-funded research, is also vital for successful knowledge transfer. Contract research is an opportunity to attract external funding to build and maintain robust research platforms in areas of strategic importance for the University. In turn, these platforms provide leverage for commercialisation activities and contract research for other customers and in other fields. Through UniLink the University is proactive in bringing external investment into University research, and through WaikatoLink the University engages with relevant industries to develop research programmes which offer opportunities for commercial development.

The University of Waikato sits at the heart of a strong regional economy and takes pride in the extent to which we reflect and serve the strengths and interests of our region. Through strong links with iwi and our stakeholders, we ensure that our graduates and researchers have skills, knowledge and understandings that contribute to the ongoing prosperity and economic sustainability of the nation.

The future for the University of Waikato is exciting. Our financial base is sound and we have mapped out for ourselves a clear and agreed framework for well-informed strategic investment decisions over the medium-term. Decisions about the University's future will be underpinned by the Vision and the key themes of Excellence, Distinctiveness and International Connectedness. We will continue to work closely with our stakeholders and play an increasingly distinctive role at the centre of a network of provision across our region. We are proud of our evolution into a truly New Zealand institution which, as our motto reflects, supports our country's nation-building policies and reflects our nation's identity - Ko Te Tangata ('For the People').

The University of Waikato at Tauranga

Further information is available on the website: www.scms.waikato.ac.nz.

The School of Education provides degree programmes in teacher education, sport and leisure studies, counselling, human development and education studies. It distinguishes itself among other education schools through its tradition and reputation for innovation, leadership and research.

The School was the first college of education in New Zealand to merge with a University, the first to offer a degree in sport and leisure studies, and the first to offer a teacher education programme online. Leading research undertaken by staff through the Wilf Malcolm Institute of Educational Research (WMIER) and the Centre for Science and Technology Education Research (CSTER) informs teaching and has been instrumental in shaping and developing New Zealand's curriculum, policy and practice. Moreover, in the latest NZ Performance-Based Research Funding results, when university and college of education scores are combined, the School of Education was ranked as number one in Education.

The School of Education offers a portfolio of qualifications at undergraduate, graduate, and postgraduate levels. Three and four-year degree programmes in Teacher Education, along with one-year graduate diploma programmes, prepare competent, knowledgeable and critically reflective beginning teachers. The programmes have New Zealand Teachers Council approval, enabling graduates to register as teachers in New Zealand. A range of specialist postgraduate certificates, diplomas and masters degrees provide qualified teachers with programmes that are practice-related and designed for professionals. The Sport and Leisure Studies programmes cover a broad range of topics such as outdoor adventure experiences, health-related fitness and performing arts. They provide graduates with a framework that critically examines the political, cultural, social, and economic forces that influence people's behaviour in relation to sport and leisure. The School also offers majors in Education Studies and Human Development involving critical inquiry into the theories and practices of lifelong education and the study of human development across the life span. Counsellor Education programmes take a distinctive orientation emphasising what are often called narrative approaches in counselling and therapy. The Master of Counselling is approved by the New Zealand Association of Counsellors.

Further information is available on the website: www.waikato.ac.nz/education.

The School of Law provides an innovative, student-focused Bachelor of Laws (LLB) degree in a stimulating academic environment. The School's founding goals of professionalism, biculturalism, and the study of law in context attract an exciting and diverse group of staff and students. The Law School remains at the forefront in integrating the teaching of law and technology into its LLB degree, and in providing sophisticated information technology for students. The School of Law is also at the cutting edge in preparing students for real-life practice of law by its integration of practical skills in the degree.

The Law Honours degree is designed to provide academically able students with the opportunity to pursue advanced legal research. The School offers two LLM programmes, MPhil, PhD, SJD and LLD degrees, and, in conjunction with the Waikato Management School, the Graduate Diploma in Dispute Resolution. The Diploma in Law is also offered as a qualification for those who wish to gain legal knowledge to advance employment and career development.

There is also a range of graduate and postgraduate certificates and diplomas available. Over 100 students are enrolled in Master of Philosophy and Doctor of Philosophy degrees. The School also operates several academic centres and units including the Honey Research Unit, the Centre for Science and Technology Education Research, the International Global Change Institute, and the Carbon Dating Unit.

Further information is available on the website: sci.waikato.ac.nz.

Throughout its 36 years, Waikato Management School has distinguished itself among New Zealand business schools by the relevance and rigour of its education and research, and its belief that business and enterprise are most successful when they improve the communities, societies, and nations in which they operate. The School's commitment to inspiring the world with fresh understandings of sustainable success is achieved through high quality research; excellent teaching; consulting with business; extensive international connections; and the knowledge and values that graduates take into the workforce.

The latest Tertiary Education Commission's 2006 Performance Based Research Funding (PBRF) report ranked the School first in both the Management, and Accounting and Finance categories. The School is proud that the quality of its research-led education has been independently endorsed by the world's three leading accreditation agencies: the Association for the Advancement of Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB), Association of MBAs (AMBA), and European Quality Improvement System (EQUIS). Together these accreditations are known as the Triple Crown, and it puts the Waikato Management School in a select group of leading business schools worldwide. Less than 1% of business schools globally have earned this distinction of excellence.

Waikato Management School offers Honours degrees to top students, graduate and postgraduate diplomas across 26 subject areas and specialist masters degrees in Management Studies and Electronic Commerce. Mission

To combine the creation of knowledge through research, scholarship and creative works with the dissemination of knowledge through teaching, publication and performance.

Our Special Character

The University of Waikato/Te Whare Wānanga o Waikato offers a uniquely New Zealand model of university education. Our motto, 'Ko Te Tangata', which means 'For the People', reflects our philosophy that we are in, of, and for the community.

We are defined by

- a genuinely diverse, participative and free-thinking learning environment, which inspires and affirms academic excellence
- our readiness to push back conventional boundaries and develop new approaches to familiar issues
- our commitment to sustainable and inclusive social, economic and environmental development
- our ability to create new New Zealand ideas through our global networks and connections
- our capacity to use science and technology in innovative ways that benefit the nation and ensure environmental sustainability in New Zealand
- our commitment to partnerships with Māori, as intended by the Treaty of Waitangi
- our commitment to kaupapa and tikanga Māori within our campus environment and community
- our commitment to build and enhance the Pacific dimensions of our special character, in the interests of both New Zealand-born and Island-born Pacific people
- our commitment to academic freedom and to public accountability for the exercise of that freedom
- our respect for staff and students and our commitment to their wellbeing
- our commitment to equity of access as a true expression of our respect for the inherent importance of higher education in the personal and professional lives of people individually and collectively.

Our Role and Contribution

The University of Waikato/Te Whare Wānanga o Waikato plays an essential leadership role in the prosperity of our region and our country. Though we are heirs to standards, values and traditions that have evolved over centuries, we are not limited by the past. Our gaze is firmly on the present and future needs of this nation.

We are a New Zealand institution that looks at the world from a New Zealand perspective. We sit at the heart of a community of strong regional partnerships and take pride in the extent to which we reflect and serve the strengths and interests of our region. We embody the spirit of our region—of Waikato.

We are also an international university. We consciously measure our performance against internationally established criteria, and our teachers, researchers and students inspire, and are inspired by, an international community of scholars.

We are committed to the recruitment and retention of world-class staff who excel at teaching, research and management in areas that are of particular strategic value to New Zealand. We pursue a research and research-management strategy that supports our country's nation-building policies and promises a generous return in terms of our nation's identity and the wealth and wellbeing of New Zealanders.

We are committed to the generation of knowledge for its intrinsic value in intellectual and social terms, and because knowledge is an essential driver in the improved performance of the New Zealand economy, the creation of new industries and the sustainable development of our environment. Our research strategy acknowledges our location in the heartland of New Zealand's dairy and forestry industries and the need for innovative research, in collaboration with other research providers, to add value to the output of our primary industries.

We adhere to the concept of a university education that is, by definition, research-led. Through sustained research intensity and the attraction of high levels of external research funding from public sector and industry sources, we aim to maintain a highly competitive research profile which is measured by the quality and productivity of our academic staff.

We are committed to meaningful partnerships under the Treaty of Waitangi and to providing leadership in research, scholarship and education relevant to the needs and aspirations of iwi and Māori communities. We value our relationship with Tainui as mana whenua, and we are committed to the iwi forum of Te Rōpū Manukura as a partner of the University. We are dedicated to supporting our Māori student and staff communities with a focus on leadership and academic excellence.

We are committed, in partnership with our Pacific Island stakeholders, to the establishment of more concerted strategies in support of increased access, participation and achievement by Pacific peoples, for the benefit of Pacific economic aspirations as well as New Zealand's social wellbeing and economic development.

Our focus on our local communities is balanced by our commitment to a culture of internationalisation, which is measured through the diversity of our student and staff profiles, the support and celebration of that diversity, a long-standing pride in our reputation for the pastoral care of our international students, and the measures we take through curriculum, programme design and global networks and connections to expose our students to international influences.

We are committed to the proactive management and stewardship of our resources and assets, through robust planning, strong quality management processes, effective risk identification and consistent performance monitoring and assessment.

Through an organisational culture that is characterised by strong leadership and through effective and harmonious arrangements for governance and management, we ensure proper standards of integrity, conduct and concern for the public interest.

Through the provision of a beautiful and safe campus environment, a culture of optimism, passion for learning, mutual respect, inclusiveness, and fair and equitable work-sharing and rewards, we strive to provide all our staff with opportunities for challenging and professionally rewarding careers.

We will constantly expand our modes of teaching and our links and connections with regional, national and global networks in order to provide varied and flexible learning pathways and support the increasingly diverse needs of our students. Our approach to learning is focused on learning outcomes that enable students to be critical, productive and ethical citizens. We aim to inspire them with Aotearoa—New Zealand understandings of our connected world.

The University's Commitment to the Treaty of Waitangi

The University's Māori identity and heritage are essential elements of our institution's distinctiveness. The specific programmes which underpin the University's commitment to Māori and the Treaty of Waitangi are outlined in the Academic and Investment Plans and the University-wide Māori Plan. The general areas of priority include:

- building on the University's reputation for making a unique and significant contribution to the educational success of Māori,
- enhancing the teaching and research capacity of Māori academic staff, with a focus on leadership and academic excellence,
- providing a distinctive University of Waikato experience for both staff and students which draws on kaupapa Māori and the heritage of our region,
- positioning the University as a leader in research relevant to the needs and aspirations of iwi and Māori communities.

As reflected in our Charter and Vision, the University has been committed to the Treaty of Waitangi from the outset. We are determined to build on this commitment and on our reputation as a leader in partnership with Māori - to further enhance the relevance and value of the University to Māori communities and to the nation as a whole.

Tihe Mauri Ora.

Change of Enrolment Regulations

1. Title
These are the Change of Enrolment Regulations 2003.
2. Date of effect
These regulations are effective from 1 January 2004.
3. Definitions
In these regulations
change of enrolment means any of the following changes to the programme of study in which a student has originally enrolled for a given teaching period:
 - the addition of a paper, with payment of the prescribed fees
 - the deletion of a paper, with refund of the prescribed fees (the paper is deleted from the student's academic record)
 - withdrawal from a paper, without refund of any fees (the paper remains on the student's academic record, annotated as 'withdrawn')
 - change of qualification, major or specified programme.iWaikato means the computer system, accessible to enrolled students, which enables them to apply for change of enrolment on the internet.
4. Application
These regulations apply to papers at 0, 100, 200, 300, 400, 500 and 700 levels.
Note: Policies and procedures with respect to change of enrolment for 800 (MPhil) and 900 (doctoral) level programmes are available from the Postgraduate Studies Office.
5. Fees
The fees referred to in these regulations are available online at www.waikato.ac.nz/sasd/enrolment/fees.shtml.
6. Teaching periods
The teaching periods referred to in these regulations are defined on page 10 of the University of Waikato Calendar.
7. Programme approval
Any change of enrolment constitutes a change to a programme of study and requires the approval of the College, Faculty or School of Studies.
8. Procedure for change of enrolment
 - (1) Applications for change of enrolment must be submitted to the College, Faculty or School of Studies that the student is enrolled in for consideration. They may be submitted either through iWaikato or on an Application to Change Enrolment form, available from the Gateway and the College, Faculty or Schools of Studies.
 - (2) Absence from classes or failure to submit items for assessment does not constitute withdrawal from a paper. A student who does not withdraw from a paper using the procedures outlined in these regulations remains enrolled for the paper and remains liable for any prescribed fees.
 - (3) Attendance at classes and submission of items for assessment does not constitute enrolment in that paper.
9. Timeframe for change of qualification, major or specified programme
Provided that no changes are made to the selection of papers, a student may apply to change a qualification, major or specified programme at any time.

10. Deadlines for adding, and deleting papers

- (1) An application to add a paper (with payment of the prescribed fees), or to delete a paper (with a refund of the prescribed fees) must be submitted to the College, Faculty or School of Studies or through iWaikato by the following deadlines:

Type of Paper	Deadline
Summer School 1 and 2 papers and C, D etc. papers with teaching periods shorter than 17 weeks	5.00pm on the first Friday of the relevant teaching period
Semester A and full-year papers	5.00pm on the second Friday of semester A (12 March 2010)

C, D etc. papers with teaching weeks of 17 weeks or longer	5.00pm on the second Friday of the relevant teaching period

- (2) Where subjects provide for different levels of proficiency on first enrolment (eg Mathematics, languages), a student may apply to transfer, with a transfer of fees, from one paper to a closely related paper in the same subject up until the relevant deadline for withdrawal listed in section 11 of these regulations.

11. Withdrawal from papers (without a refund of the tuition fee)

- (1) Unless exceptional circumstances apply (as provided for under section 12 of these regulations), a student who withdraws from a paper after the deadline for deletion (see section 10 of these regulations) is not entitled to a refund of the fees for that paper; if the fees have not been paid, the student remains liable for them.
- (2) A student may withdraw from an undergraduate paper (0, 100, 200, 300, or 400 levels and School of Education 700 level) after the deadline for deletion (see section 10 of these regulations) up until the following dates:

Type of paper	Deadline for Change of Enrolment form

- (3) A student may withdraw from a graduate paper (500 or 700 level, excluding School of Education 700 level) after the deadline for deletion (see section 10 of these regulations) at any time before the start of the examination or, if the paper is internally assessed, at any time before the due date for the final item of assessment.

12. Late deletion or withdrawal under exceptional circumstances

Note: Part 4 of the Assessment Regulations 2005 sets out the University's provisions for special consideration in assessment. Students considering withdrawal from papers because of exceptional circumstances beyond their control are encouraged to seek advice first from their College, Faculty or School of Studies, or from the Assessment Office in the Gateway, about whether they might be entitled to special consideration under the Assessment Regulations 2005.

- (1) If, after the deadline for deletion or withdrawal, a student considers that he or she is unable to complete a paper because of exceptional circumstances beyond his or her control, the student may apply in writing to the Director of Student and Academic Services for late deletion or withdrawal.
- (2) The application must be submitted to the Director of Student and Academic Services and must include an account, with appropriate evidence if available, of the circumstances that prompted the application.
- (3) Applications under this section are considered and decided by the Director of Student and Academic Services.
- (4) If the application is approved, the Director of Student and Academic Services may also approve, at his or her discretion, a credit of some or all of the student's fees.

13. Appeals

- (1) A student may appeal against any decision taken under these regulations.
- (2) An appeal, comprising a written statement of the circumstances of the appeal, and supporting evidence if available, must be submitted in writing to the Director of Student and Academic Services not more than seven days after the date on which the student receives notification of the relevant decision. - (3) Appeals under this section are considered and decided by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor, or his nominee, by delegated authority of the Academic Board.
- (4) A decision by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor is notified in writing and is final.

Regulations Governing Payment of Fees and Charges

Fees and Charges Payable

1. A student is deemed enrolled and liable for payment of fees upon signing and acceptance of an Enrolment Agreement, Notification of Change, or other document(s) by which acceptance into a paper or papers is formally agreed.
2. Every person must pay fees and charges (as set out in the Table of Fees and Charges in the University of Waikato Calendar) according to arrangements and terms agreed at the time of enrolment in the Enrolment Agreement or Notification of Change.
3. Students who do not attend a paper in which they have formally accepted a place will be liable for payment of the fees for that paper, unless the withdrawal procedures as detailed in the Change of Enrolment Regulations 2003 on pages 90-92 are followed.
4. Unless the Director of Finance determines otherwise, where a student defaults on a payment and does not pay the outstanding amount within 28 days of the due date that student's enrolment will be cancelled.
5. Cancellation of a student's enrolment does not discharge any outstanding debt.
6. Unless special arrangements are agreed by the Director of Finance, the following penalties apply in addition to the cancellation of the student's enrolment while a debt remains outstanding:
 - (a) the student is not entitled to use the Library, attend lectures, participate in laboratory classes, or otherwise make use of university facilities
 - (b) the student's academic results are withheld
 - (c) the student may not re-enrol at this university
 - (d) the student is not entitled to have his or her academic record transferred to any other institution
 - (e) the award of any qualification is deferred
 - (f) the student's outstanding debt may be referred to a debt recovery agency for collection. The University also reserves the right to recover any additional costs in relation to this debt collection from the student.
7. A student whose enrolment is cancelled for reasons of non-payment of fees may subsequently apply for reinstatement of enrolment, provided
 - (a) the application is submitted to the Director of Finance within four weeks of the date of the cancellation
 - (b) all outstanding fees, charges, and surcharges are paid before or at the time that the application is submitted, and
 - (c) the service charge for the reinstatement of enrolment after cancellation, as prescribed in the Table of Fees and Charges, is paid.
8. An enrolment that is reinstated under this section is deemed to have been continuous.
9. The tuition and resource fees for a particular paper fall due on the payment date for the semester in which teaching for that paper starts, or, where beginning outside of these semesters, the first day of the teaching period of the particular paper.

Payment by Semester

10. These provisions for payment of tuition and resource fees by semester do not apply to students who pay by Student Loan.
11. Unless the tuition and resource fees are being paid by Student Loan, a student who enrolls for more than one semester may elect to pay tuition and resource fees by semester.

12. Payment dates are prescribed for each of the semesters, namely the S (Summer School 1) semester, A semester and B semester.
13. The tuition and resource fees for a particular paper fall due on the payment date for the semester in which teaching for that paper starts.
14. Students who have made arrangements to pay by semester and who discontinue any of their papers remain liable for all payments as they fall due, unless they submit an application to delete the relevant paper by the prescribed deadline (see the Change of Enrolment Regulations 2003 on pages 90-92).
15. All fees and charges other than tuition and resource fees fall due as part of the students' first payment.
16. A surcharge of 10% or $100, whichever is lower, will be levied on any fees that are outstanding at the start date of the semester. This applies to Summer School 1, A and B Semester start dates respectively.

Appeals

17. A student may appeal to the Vice-Chancellor against any decision by the Director of Finance under these regulations.

Admission

All students are required to meet the entry requirements for admission, as set out in the Admission Statute 2008 on pages 66-68.

International students must apply for admission on the Application to enrol form for new international students, available online or from Waikato International.

Permanent residents of Australia and New Zealand, Australian citizens, and students from the Cook Islands, Tokelau or Niue who are New Zealand citizens, are treated as New Zealand students and do not need to apply for admission as international students. Enquiries should be directed to the Student and Academic Services Division in the Gateway.

Intending applicants should note the following general points:

1. All international students enrolling in an undergraduate programme must hold as a minimum requirement an equivalent university entrance qualification; for example, three passes at grade C or better in the GCE 'A' level examinations. Students who have achieved an equivalent to New Zealand University Entrance through a qualification other than NCEA at Level 3 will have their admission assessed on a case by case basis.¹ Please contact the Student and Academic Services Division for detailed guidelines on admission to the University of Waikato.

2. Applicants whose first language is not English are required to provide satisfactory evidence of English language proficiency, generally in the form of an IELTS or TOEFL examination score. Scores can vary according to the qualification sought.

Admission to BA, BCGD, BCMS, BMPD, BMus, BSc (in the School of Computing and Mathematical Sciences), BSocSc and BSPLS

The following minimum scores are considered to be evidence of such competence:

- a TOEFL score of 550 (with at least 5 on the Test of Written English), or
- an IELTS score of 6.0 (with at least 6.0 in the written band), or
- an iBT (Internet Based TOEFL) score of 79-80 with a Writing score of 20.

All other evidence is considered on a case by case basis.²

Admission to BCS, BECom, BMS and BTour

The following minimum scores are considered to be evidence of such competence:

- a TOEFL score of 550 (with at least 5 on the Test of Written English), or
- an IELTS score of 6.0 (with no less than 6.0 in any band), or
- an iBT (Internet Based TOEFL) score of 79-80 with a Writing score of 20.

All other evidence is considered on a case by case basis.²

Admission to BE, BSc (in the School of Science and Engineering) and BSc(Tech)

The following minimum scores are considered to be evidence of such competence:

- a TOEFL score of 550, or
- an IELTS score of 6.0 (in all sections of the test), or
- an iBT (Internet Based TOEFL) score of 79-80 with a Writing score of 20.

All other evidence is considered on a case by case basis.²

Admission to BTchg and LLB

The following minimum scores are considered to be evidence of such competence:

- a TOEFL score of 600 (with at least 5 on the Test of Written English), or
- an IELTS score of 6.5 (with at least 6.0 in the written band), or
- an iBT (Internet Based TOEFL) score of 79-80 with a Writing score of 20.

All other evidence is considered on a case by case basis.²

Admission to graduate/postgraduate programmes

The requirements are higher for admission to graduate qualifications (including higher degrees such as the MPhil, PhD, and EdD). It is generally recommended that students have:

- an IELTS score of at least 6.5 overall (including at least 6.0 or better in the writing band), or
- a Paper-based TOEFL score of 577 plus a TWE (Test of Written English) of 5 or better, or
- a Computer-based TOEFL score of 233 plus a TWE (Test of Written English) of 5 or better, or
- an iBT (Internet Based TOEFL) score of 90 with a Writing score of 22.

However, some qualifications, such as the LLD, SJD, MBA, PGDip(SLT), MA(Applied) in Applied Linguistics and MSc in Biological Sciences, require a higher score. The English language proficiency requirements for admission to particular qualifications are at the discretion of the Dean concerned.

Admission to graduate Law qualifications

The following minimum scores are considered to be evidence of such competence:

- a TOEFL score of 600 (with at least 5.5 on the Test of Written English), or
- an IELTS score of 6.5 (with at least 6.0 in the written band), or
- an iBT (Internet Based TOEFL) score of 100 with a Writing score of 22.

All other evidence is considered on a case by case basis.

Admission to GradDipT

The following minimum scores are considered to be evidence of such competence:

- an IELTS score of 7.0 (with no less than 7.0 in any band), or
- an iBT (Internet Based TOEFL) score of 100 with a Writing score of 22.

All other evidence is considered on a case by case basis.

Notes:

1. Many of the degrees offered at the University of Waikato have prerequisites on their core papers. Applicants who have not achieved specified prerequisites through their study will be required to take additional papers or foundation courses in order to satisfy these prerequisites. Applicants in this situation are advised that not all papers may count towards the completion of the degree and that the programme may take an additional period of time.
2. Scores from the computer-based TOEFL test will be considered on a case by case basis. Generally, a computer-based TOEFL score of 213 and an essay writing score of 4.5 will be considered acceptable for admission.

Tuition Fees and Charges

1. International students are required to pay full cost tuition fees. Students should refer to the Table of Fees and Charges on pages 95-97 for other fees and charges that may be applicable.
2. Application for credit from overseas study prior to enrolment $100.00.
3. Application for credit from overseas study after enrolment $50.00.
4. The New Zealand Government has cultural agreements with the French and German Governments that allow French and German students to pay domestic tuition fees at postgraduate level in New Zealand. The agreement with the German Government also allows German students in receipt of a German Academic Exchange Scholarship (DAAD) to study in New Zealand at undergraduate level and pay domestic tuition fees.
5. New international PhD students are eligible for domestic fees for their PhD studies. Conditions apply. For more information, see the Postgraduate Studies Office website: www.waikato.ac.nz/sasd/postgraduate.

New Zealand Immigration Requirements

1. All international students must hold a valid student permit (or visitor permit for courses of less than three months) for the duration of their studies. Further information regarding the various requirements of Immigration New Zealand (INZ) can be obtained from the nearest New Zealand High Commission, Embassy or INZ Office.
2. An offer of a place at the University does not guarantee that the student will be issued with a student visa.
3. INZ require that tuition fees for the first year of study are pre-paid before a student visa will be issued. Students are also required to provide evidence of additional funds available for living costs of approximately NZ$10,000.
4. The University is required to report to the INZ those students who are not fulfilling the requirements of their student permit.

Pre-paid Tuition Fees Policy

As indicated above, international students are required by the INZ to pre-pay one year's tuition fees to the University of Waikato in order to be granted a student visa. These funds are held against the student's name until they complete their enrolment in person. This policy details the process for refunding these funds if (i) the student travels to New Zealand and does not complete their enrolment, or (ii) completes the first semester of study and does not enrol in the second semester of study and they have a student permit valid for one year.

1. All students must apply in writing for a refund of their pre-paid tuition fees to the Director, Student and Academic Services Division.
2. Students are required to supply a verified copy of their passport and student permit, and a copy of their University of Waikato receipt(s) with their application for a refund.
3. The University of Waikato will notify INZ that the student has not fulfilled the obligations of their visa by completing their enrolment at the University of Waikato.
4. Where a student wishes to attend another institution in New Zealand, the University of Waikato will transfer the pre-paid tuition fees to that institution, upon written confirmation from that institution of the student's intention to study. This should be in the form of a formal letter of offer or invoice which confirms the student's acceptance into a qualification. If the student has already paid their tuition fees at the other institution, the University of Waikato will refund the pre-paid tuition fees to the student, upon written confirmation from the other institution that the fees have been paid. It is the student's responsibility to provide the necessary documentation from the other institution.

5. Where a student will be returning to their home country, the funds will be refunded in one of three ways:
 - (a) an overseas bank draft sent to the overseas address provided by the student
 - (b) an overseas bank draft given to the student which can be banked in the appropriate overseas country, or
 - (c) if it is known that the pre-paid tuition fees have been paid by a third party, the refund may be paid back to that third party.
6. Where a student is wishing to remain in New Zealand without enrolling at an educational institution, the University of Waikato will refund these funds either
 - (a) upon evidence of a valid INZ permit to remain in New Zealand, or
 - (b) confirmation that the INZ has discharged the University of Waikato's duty under the original student permit.
7. If a programme of study is cancelled by the University of Waikato, a full refund of pre-paid tuition fees will be made to the student by bank draft.

International Students Refund Administration Charge

An administration charge of 10%, including GST, is withheld from the refund of pre-paid tuition fees for students who decide not to enrol at the University of Waikato prior to completing their enrolment or during the withdrawal period. A further charge may be imposed to recover Agent Commission paid by the University in relation to the student's enrolment, and fees paid, where the student committed to enrol for the full academic year.

Intermediate Programmes for Other Universities

Intermediate programmes for entry to the following professional courses at other universities may be taken at the University of Waikato: Engineering (Canterbury), Forestry Science (Canterbury), and Surveying (Otago). Details of requirements are available from the Student and Academic Services Division of this University. Students who wish to take intermediate programmes (except Engineering) for the purpose of applying for admission to professional courses at other universities should ensure that they obtain up to date information and approval from the appropriate university for their first year papers at the University of Waikato. Engineering intermediate students do not require such approval unless they wish to take a modified intermediate programme.

In some instances, direct entry to the professional course or exemption from certain papers may be available to candidates with high results in NCEA at Level 3. Enquiries regarding this should be made to the Dean of the School of Science and Engineering prior to enrolment.

A breach of these regulations is misconduct under the Student Discipline Regulations 2008.

Ethical Conduct in Human Research and Related Activities Regulations

Preamble

Any member of the University community who participates in research and specified related activities is required to conduct the research and/or related activities in a manner that conforms with ethical standards set down by the University, by relevant national and international professional bodies, and by the law of the country in which the research is undertaken.

These regulations apply specifically to the following activities: research, teaching, consulting, evaluation, and publications which involve collecting data about and from people and organisations. These regulations also apply to any research where there are ethical issues that are not addressed by the Animal Ethics Committee Code of Ethical Conduct for the use of Animals for Teaching and Research.

Students are referred also to the University's Student Discipline Regulations 2008 in this Calendar and the Higher Degrees Handbook, as amended from time to time, and the Guidelines for Professional Practice and Community Contact in the Conduct of University Research or Related Activities (see Appendix 1 to these regulations).

Staff are referred also to the University's Staff Code of Conduct and the Code of Ethics for Academic Staff.

Students and staff are also referred to the Resources on Ethical Conduct in Research and Related Activities, available from UNILink at the Research Hub.

Ethical Conduct in Human Research and Related Activities Regulations

1. Title
These are the Ethical Conduct in Human Research and Related Activities Regulations 2008.
2. Purpose
Ethical issues arise when University research and/or related activities involve the interests and rights of others. The purpose of these regulations is to facilitate ethical conduct which respects the rights of people, communities, companies, trusts, and other organisations. These regulations explain the standards of ethical conduct and the procedures that apply for the maintenance and monitoring of these standards. All applications to the University's human research ethics review committees will be reviewed for approval on the basis of their compliance with these regulations.
3. Date of effect
These regulations are effective from 1 July 2008.
4. Scope
 - (1) These regulations apply to all
 - (a) staff of the University of Waikato
 - (b) students of the University of Waikato, and
 - (c) any other person authorised to undertake research and/or a related activity on behalf of the University of Waikato, including those employed or contracted in wholly-owned subsidiary entities.
 - (2) Research collaborators or partners are expected to apply for approval of their research and/or related activities from their organisation and must also apply to the relevant University of Waikato Faculty or School of Studies or department committee.

- (3) Under these regulations, all research and/or related activities are required to have formal ethics review and approval.
- (4) Applications for approval are not required for normal teaching activities; but are required for specific teaching that involves the participation of a student or students and has the potential for harm (see section 13 of these regulations), or that involves collection of data from students.
- (5) Applications are not required for University teaching evaluations or for University reviews and quality assurance activities; however, such activities do have ethical implications and should be conducted in a professional way consistent with the University Staff Code of Conduct and should be consistent with the spirit of these regulations.

5. Definitions

In these regulations

research means an inquiry of an investigative, experimental, or critical nature which is driven by a question, hypothesis, or intellectual position capable of rigorous assessment, and the findings of which are open to scrutiny and formal evaluation. It may include any intellectual or creative work published, exhibited, presented, or performed in a written, spoken, electronic, broadcasting, visual, performance, or other medium related activities may include teaching, consulting, evaluation, and publication when these activities involve collecting data about and from people and organisations. These activities are defined as follows:

teaching means teaching in lectures, tutorials, demonstrations, and related educational research consulting means the provision of advice to a client, such advice being based upon the pre-existing professional knowledge and skills of the consultant evaluation means the systematic collection and analysis of information to make judgements, usually about the effectiveness, efficiency, and/or appropriateness of the research and/or related activity publication means any intellectual or creative work published, exhibited, presented, or performed in a written, spoken, electronic, broadcasting, visual, performance, or other medium participant means a live human being or group of live human beings who participate in research and/or related activities whether by observation, questioning, participation in an experiment, provision of specimens or human tissue samples, or by any other means organisation means a social unit of people systematically arranged and managed to meet a need or to pursue collective goals on a continuing basis. Examples include firms, iwi groupings, schools, and professional societies researcher means the person undertaking research and/or related activities harm includes physical, psychological, social, economic, or cultural harm to participants field research means research conducted in person in a natural setting outside of a laboratory.

6. Application procedures

- (1) A staff member, student, or authorised person must not commence research or a related activity until it has been approved by the appropriate authority and in accordance with these regulations.
- (2) Researchers must submit applications for approval for their research or related activity to one of the delegated Faculty or School of Studies or department

- committees (see section 22 of and Appendix 2 to these regulations) within the University.
- (3) Where applications are made to an external ethics committee, an application must also be submitted to, and approved by, the relevant delegated committee within the University (see section 22(3) of and Appendix 5 to these regulations).
 - (4) Applications for approval of research and/or related activities must be submitted in the form prescribed for the relevant Faculty, School of Studies, department, or unit (see Appendix 3 to these regulations).
 - (5) If an ethical issue relating to the research and/or related activity that was not envisaged at the beginning arises during its course, the researcher must stop the research and/or related activity, consult the appropriate authority, and apply for approval. The researcher must not begin the research and/or related activity again until the necessary approval has been obtained.
 - (6) For situations where prior, free, express, and informed consent from participants may not be possible, see sections 10 and 11 of these regulations for guidance in making application for approval of the research or a related activity.
7. Responsibility for ethics in research and related activities
- (1) Individual staff, students, and authorised persons are responsible for ensuring their research and/or related activities comply with these regulations.
 - (2) If a researcher is a student, the staff member responsible for supervising the student's research must take all reasonable steps to ensure that the student complies with these regulations.
 - (3) Paper convenors may apply for ethics approval for an entire paper if it involves students in that paper engaging in research or related activities. Such applications must cover all anticipated research or related activities the student may engage in, and the convenor's, lecturers' and/or tutors' responsibilities. Applications must identify ethical issues and describe practices for addressing them.
8. Value of research or related activities and the public interest
- (1) A researcher must be able to justify to his or her peers the goals and methodology of the research and/or related activity in terms of its reasonably anticipated benefits balanced against any foreseeable risk of harm to the participants.
 - (2) A researcher must normally make available the findings of research in the public domain. Any exception to this must be approved in writing by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor, or by a person to whom authority is delegated in writing by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (see section 10(7) and section 14 of the Dissertations and Theses Regulations 2006).
9. Informed consent of participants
- (1) Researchers must gain participants' prior, free, express, and informed consent in a culturally and socially appropriate manner, unless in the case of approved exceptions. For proxy consent from authorised representatives, see subsection (4)(e) and (4)(f) of this section of these regulations. Exceptions regarding large sample surveys and similar research methods, some cases of field research, and the possibility of gaining informed consent after data collection are dealt with in sections 10, 11 and 14 of these regulations.
 - (2) A researcher must establish explicit processes for reaching agreement with participants. A researcher must not involve a participant in any research and/or related activities unless the researcher is satisfied that the participant has understood the nature of his or her involvement and freely agreed to it in accordance with the principles outlined in this section.

- (3) A researcher must not use explicit or implicit coercion to obtain the agreement, and must not use inducement to obtain the agreement except in accordance with section 18 of these regulations.
- (4) Unless sections 10, 11 or 14 of these regulations apply, a researcher must adhere to the following principles with respect to informed consent of participants:
- (a) A researcher must inform prospective participants of all information relevant to the decision to participate including
 - (i) their right to decline to participate in the research and/or related activities or any portion or any part of these
 - (ii) the form in which the findings will be published
 - (iii) duration and security of data storage
 - (iv) their right to withdraw any information they have provided up until analysis has commenced on their data
 - (v) their right to access and correct personal information
 - (vi) the process for withdrawing information they have provided.
 - (b) The more readily identifiable the participants may be, the more formal the consent should be. Where participants are asked to answer questionnaires that might identify them, answer questions in a formal interview, undergo formal tests, or where they are subjected to formal observation and recording procedures, the process for obtaining informed consent, and the form of the consent, should be similarly formal and recorded in writing or some other reproducible form. Where the participation is more anonymous the consent may be less personalised and less explicit (see section 10 of these regulations).
 - (c) If the research or related activity involves manipulation of, or intervention in, the physical or psychological state of a participant, the participant's consent, or, if subsection (e) of this section applies, the consent of the person with authorised responsibility for the participant, must be recorded in writing or some other reproducible form.
 - (d) Because some research and/or related activities involve collectives, a researcher must recognise the complexities of relationships between individuals and collectives. In some cultures it is common for the leader of a collective to make a decision in respect of participation on behalf of its members. If an individual in a collective wishes to participate or not to participate in the research and/or related activity, regardless of a decision taken on behalf of the collective, the individual's wishes must be respected and all reasonable care taken to ensure that those wishes are also respected by other members of the collective.
 - (e) If a prospective participant is reasonably judged incapable of giving informed consent, the researcher must obtain the proxy consent from the person who has responsibility for the prospective participant's welfare, taking particular care to protect the participant's interests and also taking into account any potential conflict of interest between him or her and the person whose consent is required.
 - (f) A researcher who seeks the proxy consent of another person on behalf of a prospective participant under subsection (e) of this section must make all reasonable effort to involve the prospective participant him or herself in the process and the decision about consent.
 - (g) Staff, students, and other approved persons must obtain informed consent when recording images of participants, participants' possessions, or

- research and/or related activity in which participants are involved, unless the recording of images is of lawful activity occurring in a public place and is culturally appropriate.
- (h) A researcher must provide the information under subsection (a) of this section plainly and in the language and medium that is appropriate for the prospective participants.
 - (i) A researcher must inform participants of their right of access to any data that may have been collected from or about them.
 - (j) A researcher must inform participants of their right to complain about the conduct of the research and/or related activity and must also inform them of the process for making a complaint.
10. Large random sample surveys and informed consent
- (1) A researcher who intends to collect data involving large numbers of people is not required to adhere to all the principles concerning informed consent outlined in section 9(4) of these regulations if the research method makes adherence to all these principles impractical or undesirable and if such a requirement is likely to impact adversely on the researcher's ability to generate reliable information.
 - (2) However, the researcher must declare and justify an intention not to adhere to the principles in section 9(4) of these regulations in the application for approval submitted under section 6 of these regulations.
 - (3) In these situations the researcher must provide the following information, as a minimum, to a participant before the research or related activity begins
 - (a) the anticipated length of the research or related activity
 - (b) the general purpose of the research or related activity
 - (c) the forms in which the data might be published
 - (d) an assurance that the participant will not be identified in any publication or dissemination of research findings.
11. Field research and informed consent
- (1) 'Field' research in this context means research conducted in person in a natural setting outside of a laboratory.
 - (2) In field research situations, prior, free, express, and informed consent must be gained in a culturally and socially appropriate manner from participants.
 - (3) In some forms of field research using such methods as participant observation, participatory research and action research, where obtaining prior, free, express, and informed consent from all participants would be inappropriately intrusive or impractical for social, cultural, or methodological reasons, it is acceptable not to gain such consent.
 - (4) However, the researcher must take care to apply other ethical principles, especially minimising the risk of harm to participants and maintaining the anonymity of participants. It may also be appropriate in such cases that informed consent be sought afterwards but prior to the publication of research findings, from people who have in the course of information collection come to the attention of the researcher.
12. Archiving of data, privacy, storage, and use of information
- (1) All non-identifying data (eg data sets and transcripts) used for publication must be securely kept long enough to allow for academic examination, challenge, or peer review. This period would normally be at least five years. Identifying data such as consent forms, photographs, and videos will be securely stored consistent with agreements made under section 9(4)(a) of these regulations. The responsibility for data storage lies with the department or other equivalent academic unit.

- (2) Where the research and/or related activity is conducted in New Zealand, the researcher must comply with the Privacy Act 1993 and the Official Information Act 1982, and must adhere to the following principles consistent with that legislation
 - (a) participants and informants must not be publicly identified or identifiable without their explicit consent
 - (b) participants must be informed (unless sections 10, 11 and 14 of these regulations apply) that they will not be identified in any publication or dissemination of the research findings without their explicit consent
 - (c) researchers must take all reasonable precautions to prevent unauthorised use, access, modification, or disclosure of personal information
 - (d) data identifying participants must not be kept for longer than required for the purpose for which it is collected (see subsection (1) of this section)
 - (e) except in circumstances specified in the relevant legislation, personal information may be used only for the purpose for which it is collected.
- (3) Where the research and/or related activity is conducted in a country other than New Zealand, the researcher must comply with any legislation that applies in that country with respect to privacy and storage of personal information.
- (4) Even where the research and/or related activity is conducted in a country other than New Zealand, the researcher must comply as far as possible with the spirit of the Privacy Act 1993 and the Official Information Act 1982; however, if there are contradictions between the legislation of New Zealand and the other country, the legislation of the other country must prevail.
- (5) A researcher must include in an application submitted under section 4(3) of these regulations a statement about the conditions under which, and the period for which, any personal information collected for the research and/or related activity is to be stored.
- (6) Data must not be made available to persons or for purposes that are not named on the application.

13. Minimisation of harm

- (1) A researcher must make particular effort to identify physical, psychological, social, economic, or cultural harm to participants before seeking their consent to participation.
- (2) A researcher must minimise both the risk of harm to a participant and the potential for negative consequences of the harm.
- (3) 'Harm' in this context includes pain, stress, emotional distress, fatigue, embarrassment, and exploitation.
- (4) Unless it would be impractical or undesirable to do so in the terms described in section 10 of these regulations, a researcher must consult participants to ascertain any risk of harm that they themselves may identify or concerns that they themselves may have.
- (5) If, during the course of the research and/or related activity, it is apparent to the researcher that the risk of harm to the participant is greater than originally envisaged, the researcher must inform the participant and re-evaluate the research and/or related activity in terms of the principles outlined in this section.

14. Limitation of deception

- (1) Deception of participants conflicts with the principle of informed consent, but in some research and/or related activities it may be necessary to withhold

- information about the purpose of the research and/or related activity or the procedures involved.
- (2) Research and/or related activities involving deception of participants will be approved only if the researcher demonstrates in the application for ethics review that the deception is absolutely essential to the goals of the research and/or related activity.
 - (3) A researcher who undertakes research and/or related activities involving deception of a participant must ensure that the participant is provided with an explanation of the true purpose of the research and/or related activity and the reason for the deception as soon as practicable after the participation.
15. Social and cultural sensitivity
- (1) A researcher must respect the cultural, social, and language preferences and sensitivities of the participant.
 - (2) Where the research and/or related activity potentially affects individuals or groups who are significantly different in culture from the researcher, the researcher must consult an appropriate person before the research and/or related activity begins about appropriate cultural procedures and approaches to the research and/or related activity and about informing the participant or community concerned of the research findings.
 - (3) An application for ethics review under these regulations must demonstrate how the researcher has responded to the advice received from the person consulted.
 - (4) Appropriate consultation and subsequent responses on matters of social and cultural sensitivity are the responsibility of the researcher.
16. Exploitation of relationships
- (1) A researcher must not exploit the relationship between researcher and participant.
 - (2) A researcher must resist any initiative by a participant to exploit the relationship between researcher and participant.
 - (3) 'Exploitation' in this context means the seeking or obtaining of money, goods, services, favours, information or relationships that have no direct bearing on the stated research and/or related activity aims or data gathering.
 - (4) Where a researcher is a staff member and the prospective participant a student, the researcher must not exploit that relationship and must strive to ensure that the student is not disadvantaged through his or her participation or refusal to participate, academically, professionally, or otherwise.
17. Respect for property rights
- (1) A researcher must ensure that procedures or publications associated with the research and/or related activity do not infringe legally determined property rights.
 - (2) A researcher must ensure that procedures or publications associated with the research and/or related activity do not infringe culturally determined property rights to the extent possible and reasonable in all circumstances.
 - (3) Property rights in this context may apply to land, goods, works of art and craft, images, and intangible materials such as spiritual treasures, music, information, and intellectual property.
 - (4) A researcher must identify and address any issues associated with property rights and ownership of data at the time he or she seeks informed consent and monitor these issues throughout the research process.

18. Payment for participation
A researcher must not pay participants for their participation, or arrange for participants to be paid, in money, goods, services, prizes, favours, or in any other form of remuneration or form of hospitality appropriate to the engagement, either directly or indirectly, unless the payment is approved by the appropriate approving authority (see section 22 of and Appendix 2 to these regulations).
19. Professional codes of ethics
A researcher must ensure that his or her research or related activity complies with any professional code of ethical practice or standard relevant to the research and/or related activity.
20. University research and/or related activities in schools and early childhood services
A researcher involved in research and/or related activities in schools or early childhood services must comply with the Guidelines for Observation and Research in Schools and Early Childhood Services (see Appendix 4 to these regulations).
21. Declaration of potential conflict of interest
- (1) A researcher must, in an application submitted under section 4 of these regulations, declare any potential conflict of interest.
 - (2) 'Conflict of interest' occurs where a researcher or related party is, or is reasonably likely to
 - (a) obtain an unfair, inappropriate, or unethical professional, commercial, or personal advantage as a result of or in connection with the research and/or related activity
 - (b) be in a position in relation to the activity or the participants that could appear to affect the researcher's impartiality in the research and/or related activity;
 - (c) obtain a direct or indirect pecuniary benefit or interest as a result of or in connection with the research or related activity.
 - (3) If the research and/or related activity is commissioned or sponsored, the researcher must ensure that the commission or the sponsorship
 - (a) is declared to the participants and in any published findings
 - (b) does not compromise the standard or ethics of the research and/or related activity.
22. Authority for ethical approval and monitoring
- (1) Authority for administering these regulations rests with the University of Waikato Human Research Ethics Committee.
 - (2) The University of Waikato Human Research Ethics Committee is responsible to the Academic Board for the promotion, review, and monitoring of ethical practice in University research and/or related activities and for monitoring compliance with these regulations.
 - (3) Each Faculty and School of Studies has one or more committees with responsibility at the Faculty, School of Studies or departmental level, delegated by the University of Waikato Human Research Ethics Committee, for

- (8) After a thesis has been examined and passed
- (a) one of the fully-bound copies will be lodged permanently in the University Library,
 - (b) the digital copy will be lodged permanently in the University's digital repository,

Note:

1. The requirement to submit a digital copy applies to students who enrolled or re-enrolled in a thesis on or after 1 January 2006.

 may apply to undertake the examination at a different time, a different place, or under special conditions.
 - (4) The application must be submitted to the Director of Student and Academic Services, on the prescribed form, as soon as practicable after the teaching of the paper has started and the need for the special arrangement has been identified.

 - (3) The Special Consideration Sub-Committee may require, as a condition attached to the offer of a special arrangement, that the student contribute part or all of any associated costs.

Part 4

Part 5

- (5) A review of grade results in a grade either being left unchanged, raised or lowered.
- (6) The fee for a review of grade is refunded if the review results in a change of grade.

19. Return of examination script

- (1) A student may apply for a copy of his or her marked examination script.
- (2) An application for a copy of an examination script must be submitted to the Director of Student and Academic Services on the prescribed form, together with proof of identity, not later than three months after the date of the examination concerned.
- (3) Examination scripts are destroyed by the University after the three-month deadline has elapsed.

Part 6

Grades and Annotations

20. Grades

- (1) Grades are confirmed by Boards of Examiners or delegated authorities.
- (2) The schedule of grades used by the University and the range of marks represented by each grade is as follows:

Pass Grades

Fail Grades

D	40-49
E	0-39

- (3) A "...” annotation is used on students’ academic records for theses and papers that may be undertaken over more than one year, and indicates that the enrolment is continuing into a subsequent year.

- (4) A restricted pass ("RP") grade may be awarded at the discretion of a Board of Examiners or delegated authority for a paper in which the student has achieved
- borderline performance, or
 - a D grade compensated by overall good performance in the relevant subject or the relevant subject and closely related subjects.
- Note: A paper for which a Restricted Pass (RP) has been awarded will not be accepted as meeting the prerequisite requirements for any other paper unless the Dean or Director of the College, Faculty or School of Studies in which the other paper is offered approves otherwise.*
- An IC annotation means "Incomplete", and is awarded if a student
 - does not submit a compulsory assessment item, or
 - if an examination was prescribed, does not undertake the examination.
 - An IC annotation is treated as a fail grade.
 - The NC annotation means "No Credit" and indicates that credit for the paper has been refused as a direct consequence of a finding of misconduct.
21. Conceded credit
- A Board of Examiners or delegated authority may award a conceded credit to a candidate for a bachelors degree who has
 - undertaken the required number of papers for the degree,
 - passed all compulsory papers, and
 - passed all papers required for the major, specified programme or stream, but who has narrowly failed one paper in the final year.
 - The award of a conceded credit is based on the candidate's performance in the bachelors degree as a whole as well as the paper in question.
 - The conceded credit is attached to the degree as a whole (and does not affect the fail grade in the paper in question).
 - A student may be awarded one conceded credit only in a bachelors degree.
22. Notification of confirmed grades
- Confirmed grades are notified annually in writing by mail to the address indicated by the student as his or her examination address.
 - Confirmed grades are also published confidentially, using individual student identity numbers, by noticeboard and/or iWaikato (internet).

Part 7

A breach of these regulations is misconduct under the Student Discipline Regulations 2008.
24. Appeals
- A student may appeal against any decision taken under these regulations.
 - An appeal, comprising a written statement of the circumstances of the appeal, together with supporting evidence if available, must be submitted by the student in writing to the Director of Student and Academic Services not more than seven days after the date on which notification of the relevant decision is received.
 - Appeals under this section are considered and decided by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor by delegated authority of the Academic Programmes Committee.
 - A decision by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor is notified in writing, and is final.

Policy on the Use of Māori for Assessment

Statement of Principle

1. In recognition of the status of the Māori language as a tāonga protected under the Treaty of Waitangi, and within the spirit of the Māori Language Act 1987, the University of Waikato endorses the right of its students to use the Māori language in written work for assessment within the University.
2. In keeping with the above and in accordance with its Charter commitments the University seeks to have sufficient suitable staff employed or available throughout its Schools and Departments to ensure that any work submitted in Māori would be assessed in that language by staff competent in the subject under examination and in the Māori language.
3. In the meantime, the use of the Māori language in assessment is subject to conditions set out in this policy statement.

Exceptions

4. There are occasions when, due to the nature of the skills being tested, work submitted for assessment may be required to be in a particular language. In such cases that requirement shall be made explicit in writing, either in the relevant subject entry or prescription in the University of Waikato Calendar or in the paper outline distributed to candidates at the beginning of a paper.

Notice

5. Candidates who intend to present all or part of an examination or piece of internally assessed work in Māori are requested to give notice of their intention of doing so in writing to the Director of Student and Academic Services. This notice of intention is desirable to allow the University the time and opportunity to make proper arrangements for marking including, when necessary, translation and external assessment. If less than 14 days' notice is given, the material presented in Māori will still be accepted. The processing of it may, however, be delayed and the opportunity to have the script marked in the original language may be reduced.
6. Where a candidate who intends to present material in Māori has given the requested notice of intention, he or she will be informed as soon as reasonably possible, as to whether or not the assessment will be based on translation.

Potential for Delays

7. The University will do its best to make the results of an examination or item of internally assessed work presented in Māori available to the candidate within the ordinary time-frame. However the process of assessment in such cases, possibly including translation, may result in delays in the return of coursework or in the publication of results.

Māori-speaking Paper Examiners

8. The examination or internally assessed work will be assessed in Māori by the examiner for the paper if the examiner is considered by the Professor of Māori or his or her nominee to be linguistically competent to do so.

Co-examiners

9. If the examiner of the relevant paper is not competent to assess in Māori, a co-examiner, competent in both the subject under examination and in Māori, may be appointed to conduct the assessment of work presented in Māori in consultation with the examiner.

Translation

10. If no person is available in the circumstances to assess the work in Māori, a translator will be appointed by the Professor of Māori or nominee in agreement with the appropriate chief examiner. The translator will be asked not to correct errors in the original nor to make any embellishments: however ambiguities may be pointed out to the examiner. Where necessary the examiner may seek clarification of the translation of the paper from the translator but contact between the student and the translator is prohibited, as is contact between the student and the examiner. The assessment will then be carried out by the examiner of the paper on the basis of the translation. The University intends that resort to translation be made only when reasonable efforts to find an examiner capable of assessing the work in its original language have been exhausted.
11. In the process of appointing a translator, the University will take all reasonable steps to ensure that the translator is competent in the relevant subject under examination, as well as in the Māori language.

External Assessment

12. If the internal assessment and/or examination script is to be subject to external assessment, the other institution undertaking the external assessment will be requested to indicate whether an external assessor is available to conduct the assessment in Māori. If not, a translation will be obtained for the purpose by the University according to the process explained in sections 10 and 11 of these regulations.

Return of Scripts

13. When any translation is relied upon in the assessment of an examination, a candidate making proper application for the return of a script shall receive also any translation made of the script. When assessed coursework is normally returned to the student, any translation used is likewise to be returned.

Appeals and Reconsiderations

14. An appeal against a decision regarding linguistic or subject competence made under the provisions of sections 8 and 11 of these regulations shall be to the appropriate Pro Vice-Chancellor whose decision shall be final.
15. The regulatory provisions for reconsideration of final grade together with the established appeal provisions will apply, with the addition that the Māori Language Commission is regarded by the Council as the final authority on the accuracy of a translation.

Oral Work

16. The details of this policy apply to written internally assessed work and to examinations. When oral work is assessable, the same principles should apply: however practicalities may necessitate more restricted policy details, such as a requirement on the candidate to give longer notice or a limitation on the use of Māori where oral work involves interaction with other candidates.

Graduation

The University will hold a number of graduation ceremonies in 2010. Graduation will take place in Hamilton during 16 April, 3-6 May and 20-21 October. There will be a graduation ceremony in Tauranga on 9 April.

All students who have completed the requirements for any of the University's qualifications can attend a ceremony. Graduation application forms are forwarded to completing students and these must be completed and returned by the due dates stated on the forms.

Further information regarding the 2010 graduation ceremonies can be obtained from the Student and Academic Services Division in the Gateway.

Included with the statutory declaration, if appropriate, should be the damaged certificate, or a police or insurance report.

The cost for a replacement certificate is specified in the Table of Fees and Charges on page 96.

Qualification Regulations

These regulations apply to candidates beginning their studies in 2010. Candidates who first enrolled in a qualification prior to 2010 are eligible to complete that qualification either under the regulations which applied at the time of first enrolment or the regulations which apply at the time of re-enrolment. Candidates who are resuming their studies for a qualification after an extended absence are advised to consult the Dean or Director of the College, Faculty or School of Studies concerned at the time of re-enrolment regarding the requirements for completion. However, where there have been significant changes in the structure of a qualification or content of the major or specified programme during the candidate's absence, the Dean or Director may prescribe a specific programme of study which will be deemed to satisfy the requirements for completion of the qualification.

Personal Programmes of Study Regulations

1. Title
These are the Personal Programmes of Study Regulations 2009.
2. Date of effect
These regulations are effective from 1 January 2010.
3. Delegation of powers
The powers and authority of the Academic Board referred to in these regulations have been delegated in certain matters under the Delegation of Powers Statute 2008.
4. Definitions
In these regulations
paper means a segment of work in a particular subject and is identified by means of a unique code number. Papers are delivered through lectures, tutorials, practicals and such other coursework as may be required by the department concerned.
programme of study means the selection of papers taken by a candidate in any one academic year for a particular qualification.
equivalent papers are in effect the same papers, one of which was taught in the past with a different paper code.
restricted papers share a significant amount of common content. Candidates may therefore receive credit for only one of the papers listed. Restricted papers may not necessarily be used to satisfy prerequisite or corequisite requirements.
a prerequisite must be passed before a candidate may enrol in the paper for which the prerequisite is specified. (A paper for which a Restricted Pass (RP) has been awarded will not be accepted as meeting the prerequisite requirements for any other paper unless the Dean or Director of the College, Faculty or School of Studies in which the other paper is offered approves otherwise.) a corequisite must be taken either prior to or concurrently with the paper for which the corequisite is specified.
internal assessment means all or some of the following: essays, assignments and reports of various kinds, practical work, work in tutorials and/or seminars and tests.
a field means a general area of academic study that includes a number of related subjects.
a subject is a grouping of papers with a common academic theme, defined in terms of the listings under individual subject headings in the University of Waikato Calendar. A department may offer more than one subject.
a major means a principal area of study a candidate has chosen for a bachelors degree and is selected from those listed in the relevant degree regulations. A candidate is required to take a defined and substantial number of papers in the major at a range of levels up to and including 300 or 400 level.

a supporting subject means an additional subject to the major and is a requirement of some bachelors degrees.

a specialisation means a recognised pathway within a qualification or major which provides an area of focus within the qualification or major.

points is the term used to express the student workload of a paper or programme. A normal full-time academic year comprises 120 points or 1.0 EFTS (Equivalent Full-time Student).

5. Application

These regulations apply to undergraduate certificates, undergraduate diplomas, bachelors degrees, bachelors with honours degrees, graduate certificates, graduate diplomas, postgraduate certificates, postgraduate diplomas, masters degrees and individual paper credits.

6. Admission and re-entry

- (1) In order to be eligible to be enrolled at the University of Waikato, candidates must meet the requirements of Section 224 of the Education Amendment Act 1990.
- (2) The criteria for admission to the University of Waikato in a given year are determined by the Council and are set out in the Admission Statute 2008.
- (3) The criteria for admission to a particular qualification in a given year are determined by the Academic Board and are set out in the Criteria for Admission to Particular Qualifications and the qualification regulations.
- (4) To ensure that a candidate is adequately prepared for a graduate qualification, the Academic Board will require relevant papers in the relevant subject or subjects of the qualifying bachelors degree to have been passed at grades which it deems appropriate.
- (5) Candidates are usually required to have majored in their bachelors degree in the main subject to be presented for a graduate degree. This requirement may be waived in cases where no more than one or two papers in a given subject are proposed to be incorporated into the candidate's graduate degree.
- (6) In exceptional circumstances, based on academic merit, candidates who have no more than 30 points left to complete the requirements of a qualifying degree may be permitted to enrol in a graduate degree, provided that they have completed all of the requirements of the major or main subject of the qualifying degree. The graduate degree will not be deemed to have been completed until the qualifying degree has also been completed.
- (7) The Academic Board may approve limitations on enrolment for programmes or papers due to insufficiency of staffing or resources. Limitations and the criteria for selection are published in the Limitations Statute.
- (8) A candidate who has been awarded a particular qualification in one major or subject may only be re-admitted to the same qualification in another major or subject.
- (9) The criteria for re-entry for returning students are determined by the Academic Board and are set out in Part 3 of the Criteria for Admission to Particular Qualifications.
- (10) In addition, the Academic Board may decline to re-enrol a candidate whose progress during the preceding year or years has not been to the satisfaction of the Academic Board.

7. Enrolment in a programme of study

- (1) The Academic Board may prescribe qualifying or additional papers which must be passed by a candidate either prior to, or concurrently with, the minimum requirements for a qualification. Qualifying or additional papers may be required if the candidate is considered by the Academic Board to be inadequately prepared in a core subject area.

- (2) Enrolment in a programme of study or paper is subject to the approval of the Academic Board. Such approval will be determined on the basis of the candidate's academic background as well as staffing and resources.
 - (3) The personal programme of study of every candidate is subject to the approval of the Academic Board.
 - (4) The papers for qualifications and their prescriptions are defined in the University of Waikato Calendar. Before enrolling for a paper, candidates must meet any requirements specified in the relevant prescription unless approved otherwise by the Academic Board.
 - (5) Particular regulations governing qualifications may be varied or waived by approval of the Academic Board.
8. Maximum student workload
- (1) The normal maximum full-time student workload for an academic year (excluding Summer School) is 120 points.
 - (2) For the purposes of calculating workload, a full-year paper has a workload equivalent to half of its points value during each of the two semesters in which it is taught.
 - (3) The normal maximum full-time student workload for a Summer School semester is 40 points.
 - (4) Approval of the Academic Board is required for a candidate to enrol in a programme of study which has a workload equivalent to more than the normal maximum full-time workload.
9. Completion of a qualification
- (1) The minimum requirements for the completion of a qualification are defined in the relevant regulations.
 - (2) With the approval of the Academic Board, a candidate may be permitted to complete the requirements of a qualification in less than the minimum period of enrolment prescribed in the relevant regulations. Approval will depend on the candidate's academic record and on the availability of suitable teaching and supervision arrangements.
10. Eligibility for Honours or Distinction
 In order to qualify for Honours or Distinction in a particular qualification, a candidate may be required to complete the requirements within a prescribed time period of first enrolling for the qualification.
11. Dissertations and theses
- (1) The Dissertations and Theses Regulations 2006 governing the presentation of dissertations and theses apply in these regulations and any dissertation or thesis required for a graduate qualification must be presented in accordance with these regulations.
 - (2) Enrolment in a dissertation or thesis, or a qualification which requires the completion of a dissertation or thesis, is subject to the availability of a suitable supervisor for the dissertation or thesis.
 - (3) For dissertations and theses, one or more supervisors will be appointed by the Academic Board. If the chief supervisor is also an examiner of the dissertation or thesis, at least one other examiner (who is not also a supervisor) will be appointed.

- (4) A dissertation or thesis must embody the results obtained by the candidate in an investigation relating to some branch of the subject or subjects being presented, or, with the approval of the Academic Board, shall take some other form proposed by the candidate's supervisors and approved by the Dean(s) and chairperson(s) of department(s) concerned. The chief supervisor or sole supervisor will be required to certify that the dissertation or thesis embodies the candidate's own work carried out under the supervisor's direct supervision.
 - (5) Dissertations and theses are assessed in terms of the points value they represent.
12. Date for submission of dissertations, theses and research reports
- (1) The deadline for the submission of any dissertation, thesis or research report will be 4.00pm on the last working day of the paper occurrence which completes the candidate's enrolment in the total points required for the dissertation, thesis or research report.
 - (2) Candidates who expect that they will not submit their dissertation, thesis or research report by the due date may apply to the Dean or the appropriate staff member(s) with delegated responsibility for Graduate Studies of the Faculty or School of Studies in which they are enrolled for an extension of time without the requirement for re-enrolment, provided that the application for an extension is lodged prior to the deadline for submission.
 - (3) Extensions will not normally be awarded for periods of more than 21 days beyond the relevant due date.
 - (4) Candidates who do not submit their dissertation, thesis or research report by the due date, and who have not applied for and been awarded an extension, will be required to re-enrol for a minimum period to be determined by the Dean or the appropriate staff member(s) with delegated responsibility for Graduate Studies of the Faculty or School of Studies in which they are enrolled and will be liable for a further payment of tuition and any other fees and charges for the period of re-enrolment.
13. Resubmission of dissertations and theses
- (1) A dissertation or thesis for a graduate qualification that receives a narrow fail may be returned to the candidate with the offer of an opportunity to revise and re-submit. The decision to offer such an opportunity is at the discretion of the Dean of the Faculty or School of Studies that offers the degree, and is based on a number of factors, including the likelihood that the revision will be successful, and the availability of suitable supervisors and examiners.
 - (2) An offer by a Dean under subsection 13(1) of these regulations will be in writing, and any conditions attached to the offer will be explicit. The period allowed for the revision will be no more than the equivalent of one semester and the deadline for submission will be prescribed. If the offer to revise and submit is accepted, the candidate will be eligible to receive a maximum grade of C and, in the case of a masters degree, will not be eligible for the award of Honours.
 - (3) A candidate's acceptance of an offer to revise and re-submit and associated conditions must be in writing. The candidate must then re-enrol for the equivalent of one semester and pay fees accordingly. For administrative and fees purposes, the candidate will enrol for the particular enrolment period in which the deadline for re-submission falls.
 - (4) A 'provisional fail' is recorded against the first dissertation or thesis enrolment for the period of revision. The 'provisional fail' grade is replaced by a final grade (either a fail grade or a C grade, depending on the outcome), after the revision and re-examination processes are concluded.

- (5) The opportunity to revise and re-submit a particular dissertation or thesis may be offered to a candidate only once.
14. Credit - transfer credit and cross credit
- (1) Transfer credit means credit towards a University of Waikato qualification for papers passed at another tertiary institution.
 - (2) Cross credit means credit towards a University of Waikato qualification for papers passed towards another University of Waikato qualification.
 - (3) A candidate who has passed papers at an appropriate level at the University of Waikato or another tertiary institution may apply for credit in respect of those papers towards a University of Waikato qualification.
 - (4) Applications for credit must be submitted on the prescribed form, together with the prescribed fee, to the Director of Student and Academic Services Division.
 - (5) Applications for credit from another institution must be accompanied by a verified copy of an academic record. If the original document is not in English, the academic record must be accompanied by an official English translation of the record. The University reserves the right to request an original copy of an academic record.
 - (6) The policy on the level and amount of credit which may be awarded from a completed qualification is determined by the Academic Board and is set out below:
 - (a) Credit from a completed qualification is normally only available towards a bachelors degree.
 - (b) Credit is not normally awarded from a completed graduate or postgraduate qualification.
 - (c) Credit from a completed qualification will normally be limited to no more than one third of the completed qualification.
 - (d) Credit towards a University of Waikato bachelors degree from a completed qualification will normally be limited to no more than one third of the University of Waikato degree. For the purposes of this regulation, one third of a bachelors degree is considered to be 120 points at 100 and 200 levels, including a maximum of 60 points at 200 level. Where appropriate, the Dean may, at his or her discretion, permit 20 further points at 100 or 200 level to be credited towards a four-year bachelors degree where the Dean deems a paper to be relevant to the candidate's programme of study.
 - (e) Credit will not normally be awarded for 300 or 400 level papers required for a major in an undergraduate degree.
 - (f) No paper may count towards more than two qualifications.
 - (7) The decision to award credit in individual cases will be made by the Dean of the Faculty or School of Studies concerned.
 - (8) In making decisions on credit, the Dean will consider the relevance and level of the papers completed, the regulations of the University of Waikato qualification concerned, and the credit guidelines maintained by the Student and Academic Services Division.
 - (9) Regardless of the total number of papers which an applicant has passed at other institutions, the total credit awarded will not be more than half of the total requirement of the University of Waikato qualification concerned, unless this is approved under subsections 14(10) or 14(11) of these regulations.

- (10) In individual cases, the Dean or delegated authority may vary subsection 14(9) of these regulations and award credit for up to two thirds of the University of Waikato qualification concerned.
 - (11) In individual cases, the Academic Programmes Committee, under delegated authority of the Academic Board, may award credit for more than two thirds of a University of Waikato qualification, or for more than half of an undergraduate degree that includes 300 and/or 400 level papers for a major.
 - (12) Applicants wishing to appeal a Dean's decision on credit may apply to the Director of the Student and Academic Services Division.
 - (13) The consideration of an appeal will involve the Dean concerned being requested to reconsider the decision. Further appeals against the outcome of a reconsideration will be referred to the Academic Programmes Committee for consideration on behalf of the Academic Board.
15. Completion of a University of Waikato qualification at another New Zealand university
 A candidate who, based on the assessment of the Dean of the candidate's Faculty or School of Studies, has completed the major part of a qualification at the University of Waikato and then moved to another district may, in some cases, complete the University of Waikato qualification by taking the remaining papers at another university in New Zealand. Prior approval of the specific papers, in writing, must be obtained from the Director of the Student and Academic Services Division of this University and the prescribed charge paid. The candidate must advise the Registrar of the other university of the purpose of the enrolment and the papers concerned must be taken on a Certificate of Proficiency (COP) basis at that university. The candidate's academic record will not be transferred.
16. Completion of a qualification of another New Zealand university at the University of Waikato
 A candidate who has completed the major part of a qualification at another New Zealand university may, in some cases, be permitted by that university to complete the qualification by passing specified papers at the University of Waikato. Any such approval must be given in writing by the 'home' university and the candidate will take the papers concerned on an Individual Paper Credit (IPC) basis at the University of Waikato. The candidate's academic record will not be transferred.

Work Placements

Many of our degrees offer work placement opportunities or projects with businesses and community groups. In most cases, these can count as part of your programme of study.

As well as valuable work experience for your CV, some work placements can lead to employment after graduation. Work placements often happen in your last year of study, so you can apply what you have learned in your earlier years in the real world and receive support from your tutors and lecturers.

As well as the subject-specific work and industry placements described under the relevant subject entries, the work placements listed below are available.

For more information and advice on how a work placement might fit into your programme of study, talk to a Student Adviser in your Faculty or School of Studies.

Specialisations

Specialisations provide you with another opportunity to shape your qualification to your interests and needs. They can be used to broaden your knowledge, allow you to focus on an aspect related to your first major, or perhaps provide some cohesion to your elective papers in an area of interest to you. Specialisations meet all of the requirements for a qualification but provide for further specialisation in or beyond the major (bachelors degree), subject (honours or masters degree, graduate certificate, graduate diploma, postgraduate certificate, or postgraduate diploma) or field (undergraduate certificate or undergraduate diploma).

For more information and advice on how a specialisation might fit into your programme of study, talk to a Student Adviser in your Faculty or School of Studies.

Specialisations at degree level

Specialisations at degree level allow students to include complementary study within their overall programme of study. For example, including a language specialisation in a Bachelor of Tourism degree creates a specialised programme in the area of international tourism.

Specialisations available at degree level are:

Advanced Pedagogy	BEd
Agribusiness	BBA(Fin), BCMS, BMS, BSc and BSc(Tech)
Agriculture and Biosystems	BCMS, BMS, BSc and BSc(Tech)

Specialisations at major or subject level

Specialisations at major or subject level allow students to focus in depth on a particular aspect of that subject. For example, within a Computer Science major, specialisations in Applied Computing, Artificial Intelligence, Computer Technology, Data Mining, Games and Multimedia, Information Systems, Internet Applications, Networks, or Software Development are available.

Specialisations available at major or subject level are listed under the subject entries in this Calendar.

Specialisations at field level

Specialisations at field level allow students to focus in depth on a particular aspect of that field. For example, within a Diploma of Management, specialisations in Electronic Commerce, Financial Analysis, or Management Studies are available.

Specialisations available at field level are:

Electronic Commerce	Cert(Mgt) and Dip(Mgt)
Financial Analysis	Cert(Mgt) and Dip(Mgt)
Hospitality Management	Dip(Tour)
Management Studies	Cert(Mgt) and Dip(Mgt)
Tourism Management	Dip(Tour)

Enrolment for Individual Paper Credit (IPC)

Students may be permitted to enrol in a paper without enrolling for a particular qualification. This may be because they have no intention of completing a full qualification, or because the paper is being taken for the purposes of qualifying for admission to a specific qualification. Alternatively, the student may be taking the paper for credit towards a qualification at another institution. Enrolments of this nature are recorded as Individual Paper Credit (IPC) enrolments.

Regulations Governing Enrolment for Individual Paper Credit (IPC)

1. A candidate who enrolls on an IPC basis is liable for all fees and charges prescribed for the paper(s) and must meet any requirements specified in the prescription and paper outline.
2. Enrolment on an IPC basis is subject to the approval of the Dean or Director of the College, Faculty or School of Studies in which the paper is offered.
3. A candidate who has passed a paper taken on an IPC basis may, at a later date, apply to have the paper credited to a University of Waikato qualification. Approval will be based on the regulations for the qualification concerned.
4. A student enrolled on an IPC basis is subject to all general regulations of the University of Waikato.
5. A candidate who completes a paper on an IPC basis will receive official notification of his or her final results from the University of Waikato, and will be eligible to apply for an academic transcript.

Prescriptions for Papers

The following pages contain a brief introduction to the subjects and papers offered by the University. Subjects are set out in alphabetical order. A brief description may be given of the content of each paper as well as equivalents and restrictions, prerequisites and corequisites, required book information, and the internal assessment/examination ratio. Students also receive a paper outline when classes start, which provides more detail about the content, reading and assessment requirements for each paper.

In addition to the papers listed, departments may offer 800 and 900 level papers for MPhil and PhD students. Prospective students are advised to consult the Postgraduate Studies Office and the Chairperson of the Department concerned for more information.

The prescriptions refer to the papers which the University expects to offer. The availability of these papers is subject to change if the University encounters unexpected staffing or resource difficulties. For up-to-date details of 2010 offerings, see the online Catalogue of Papers at papers.waikato.ac.nz.

In all cases where it is necessary to cancel papers, the Policy and Procedure for the Cancellation of Papers will apply, as approved by the Academic Board. Copies are available from the Student and Academic Services Division.

In the prescriptions, each paper is identified by an alpha-numeric code.

For example:

HIST107-10B (HAM)	New Zealand Histories: Fresh Perspectives
HIST	This is the subject code. In this case, History.
107	This is the level of the paper, followed by a unique identifier. 100 = 100 level 200 = 200 level 300 = 300 level
10B	This is the year and semester in which the paper is taught.
(HAM)	This is the location where the paper is taught.

A prerequisite must be passed before a student may enrol in the paper for which the prerequisite is specified. For example, FREN231 French Language Intermediate 1 is a prerequisite for FREN232 French Language Intermediate 2. Students may not enrol in FREN232 until they have passed FREN231. (A paper for which a Restricted Pass (RP) has been awarded will not be accepted as meeting the prerequisite requirements for any other paper unless the Dean or Director of the College, Faculty or School of Studies in which the other paper is offered approves otherwise.)

A corequisite must be taken in association with the paper for which the corequisite is specified. For example ENEL324 Optoelectronics is a corequisite for ENEL382 High Speed Communications. You may enrol in ENEL382 only if you have either already passed ENEL324 or are concurrently enrolled in it.

Equivalent papers are in effect the same papers, one of which was taught in the past with a different paper code. For example ACCT331 Management Accounting is equivalent to ACCT311 Management Accounting. Students who have completed ACCT311 may not receive credit for ACCT331.

Restricted papers share a significant amount of common content. Students may therefore receive credit for only one of the papers listed. For example JAPA101 Basic Japanese: Part A is a restriction for JAPA231 Japanese for Beginners 2: Part A. Restricted papers may not be used to satisfy prerequisite or corequisite requirements.

The required books which may be listed under some of the prescriptions are a conservative list only. Additional required books may be prescribed during the academic year. Lists of recommended reading are usually included in the paper outline provided by the department concerned.

The internal assessment/examination ratio is provided for all papers. The ratio indicates how much of the paper is internally assessed and how much is formally examined. The ratio 1:0 means a paper is fully internally assessed, while the ratio 1:1 shows that the assessment for the paper is evenly weighted between internal assessment and an examination. Examinations are scheduled in a formal examination period. All A semester papers which are not fully internally assessed will be examined at mid-year unless otherwise specified. Tests that form part of the internal assessment requirements may be held outside normal lecture hours.

Teaching activities for all undergraduate papers are listed in the Timetable. Teaching activities, including lectures, tutorials, laboratories and workshops, are scheduled to last 50 minutes and begin on the hour until (and including) 12 noon, and at 10 minutes past the hour from 1:10 p.m. This allows a lunch break of 20 minutes from 12:50 p.m. to 1:10 p.m. for students with continuous teaching activity commitments. Normal teaching hours are between 8.00 a.m. and 6.00 p.m.

A semester is a period for which students enrol in papers, attend classes and submit assessment items. The University of Waikato has two standard semesters (A and B), which each normally comprise 17 weeks. There are also two intensive summer semesters - Summer School 1 (S semester), normally comprising eight weeks in January/February, and Summer School 2 (T semester), normally comprising six weeks in November/December. The semester period includes teaching as well as any study weeks and an examination period. The exact duration of semesters in a particular year is defined by week numbers in the Teaching and Assessment Periods on page 10.

2010: A semester, weeks 9-25
 B semester, weeks 28-44
 S semester, weeks 1-8
 T semester, weeks 45-50

Some papers have start and end dates which differ from the standard semesters set out above. Papers which extend across both the A and B semesters are annotated as Y papers. Papers which are taught in non-standard periods have a C, D, or E etc. suffix.

The period for which a student is eligible for loans and/or allowances, is calculated on the basis of the exact start and end weeks of papers. Students are advised of the start and end dates of their papers in the relevant paper outlines.

Accounting

Accounting is a common language of business and underpins almost all business and organisational activities. An understanding of the role of accounting in providing and interpreting information for decision-making in organisations is important for all managers, regardless of their area of specialisation. The academic requirements of the New Zealand Institute of Chartered Accountants can be satisfied with an appropriate selection of papers.

Accounting is available as a major for the BBA(Fin) and BMS. Accounting may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled. The requirements for the BBA(Fin) and BMS majors are prescribed in the Waikato Management School Student Handbook. To complete a second major in Accounting for degrees other than the BBA(Fin) and BMS, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Accounting, including ACCT209, either ACCT202 or ACCT231, and at least 60 points above 200 level.

Note on Assessment: To be eligible to pass these papers students should normally achieve a minimum grade of D in the internal assessment and the final examination, and an overall grade of C.

Note: Candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in Accounting papers at 200 level, and at least 180 points, including 60 points at 200 level, in any subject(s) before enrolling in Accounting papers at 300 level.

Animal Behaviour

Animal Behaviour is the study of behaviour patterns in animals (including humans), and of how the behaviour of individuals helps to determine the density and distribution of populations. A knowledge of animal behaviour is of increasing importance in areas such as evolutionary biology, conservation biology, and the efficient and humane management of farm animals.

Animal Behaviour is available as a major for the BSc and BSc(Tech). Animal Behaviour may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Animal Behaviour, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Animal Behaviour, comprising BIOL234, PSYC206, PSYC225, either PSYC226 or PSYC227, BIOL333, BIOL338 and PSYC314. It is recommended that students intending to major in Animal Behaviour include STAT121 and STAT221 in their programme of study.

Note on Assessment: Māori language tutorials can be arranged on request, subject to the availability of tutors. However, because of the technical nature of the terminology and accepted international practice, this subject requires that assessment for all papers be presented in English.

Anthropology

Broadly speaking, Anthropology can be defined as 'the study of humanity'. Anthropologists at the University of Waikato are particularly concerned with sociocultural anthropology - the comparative study of the whole range of human societies and cultures, from tribal and peasant through to industrial and global. Here, the distinguishing methodology is the 'ethnographic' or 'face-to-face' study of specific communities and lifeways. The Pacific region, with its diverse societies and cultures, is the main focus of teaching and research in Anthropology.

Anthropology is available as a major for the BA and BSocSc. Anthropology may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Anthropology, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Anthropology, including ANTH203 and at least 60 points above 200 level. It is recommended that students intending to major in Anthropology include ANTH101 and ANTH102 in the first year of their programme of study in order to meet prerequisites for study at 200 level and above. With the specific approval of the Subject Convenor of Anthropology, Department of Societies and Cultures, students may include TOST300.

Note: Candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in Anthropology papers above 100 level, and at least 90 points at 100 and 200 level before enrolling in Anthropology papers above 200 level.

Asian Studies

With a dramatic increase in our exports to Asian countries (from 12% in 1970 to about 40% today, and likely to be 60% by 2010), it has become imperative for young New Zealanders to study the culture, society and languages of our Asian neighbours. Asian Studies is an interdisciplinary subject concerned with the study of Asia in its various aspects.

Asian Studies is available as a major for the BA and BSocSc. Asian Studies may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Asian Studies, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Asian Studies, including at least 60 points above 200 level. Students must include one of CHIN203, CHIN303, JAPA205 (before 2008), JAPA208, or JAPA209. It is recommended that students intending to major in Asian Studies include HUMA101, POLS104 and either ASIA102 or ASIA103 in the first year of their programme of study. Students are encouraged to consider taking one of the Asian languages as a supporting subject. In exceptional circumstances, and with the approval of the Convenor of the Asian Studies programme, students may include up to two Asian language papers in the Asian Studies major. To complete a supporting subject in Asian Studies, students must include at least one of CHIN203, CHIN303, JAPA205 (before 2008), JAPA208, or JAPA209. At the discretion of the Convenor of Asian Studies, one Asian language paper may be counted towards Asian Studies as a supporting subject.

Note: Candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in Asian Studies papers above 100 level, and at least 90 points at 100 and 200 level before enrolling in Asian Studies papers above 200 level. There will be no new intake into the Asian Studies major in 2010; however it is available as a supporting subject.

Biochemistry

Biochemistry is the explanation of life in molecular terms. It involves the study of proteins, lipids, carbohydrates and nucleic acids which are the fundamental molecules of life. Biochemists try to understand how these molecules interact in living organisms, in health and disease. Biochemistry is one of the fastest growing areas of modern science. By taking a combination of papers from both Biological Sciences and Chemistry students will gain a solid grounding in the molecular and chemical principles underlying Biochemistry.

Biochemistry is available as a major for the BSc and BSc(Tech). Biochemistry may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Biochemistry, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Biochemistry, comprising BIOL210, BIOL251, CHEM201, BIOL310, BIOL351 and CHEM301. As well as the 100 level prerequisites specified for papers at 200 level and above, it is recommended that students intending to major in Biochemistry include BIOL102, CHEM101 and STAT121 in the first year of their programme of study. BIOL362, CHEM204 and CHEM306 are recommended to be included in students' overall programme of study.

Note on Assessment: Māori language tutorials can be arranged on request, subject to the availability of tutors. However, because of the technical nature of the terminology and accepted international practice, this subject requires that assessment for all papers be presented in English.

Biological Sciences

Biological Sciences incorporates the major traditional biological disciplines of Botany, Microbiology and Zoology with the interdisciplinary subjects of Biochemistry, Physiology, Genetics, Ecology and Behaviour.

Biological Sciences is available as a major for the BSc and BSc(Tech). Biological Sciences may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

Within the BSc and BSc(Tech) Biological Sciences majors, a specialisation in Restoration Ecology is available. Details of the specialisation requirements can be obtained from the School of Science and Engineering.

Prospective MSc candidates should discuss their 300 level papers with the Chairperson of Biological Sciences in order to ensure that a suitable number and combination of papers are taken.

Note on Assessment: Māori language tutorials can be arranged on request, subject to the availability of tutors. However, because of the technical nature of the terminology and accepted international practice, this subject requires that assessment for all papers be presented in English.

Note: NCEA Level 3 Biology is recommended for students intending to study Biological Sciences. Students who do not have credits in NCEA Level 3 Biology, or equivalent, are advised to discuss their options with the first-year student mentor. Foundation Biology provides the prior knowledge required for studying 100 level papers in Biological Sciences.

Biotechnology

Biotechnology is the application of science and engineering to develop useful products from biological materials. Biotechnology is a very broad area, which ranges from cloning to cheese-making. Products include antibiotics, waste management technology and beer. This programme examines the extraction, recovery, and purification of biochemicals from the meat, dairy, and other industries. It explores technological applications at the industrial level as well as the molecular level.

Biotechnology is available as a major for the BSc and BSc(Tech). Biotechnology may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Biotechnology, students must complete 120 points above 100 level in Biotechnology, comprising 60 points at 200 level and 60 points at 300 level. As well as the 100 level prerequisites specified for papers at 200 level and above, it is recommended that students intending to major in Biotechnology include one or more of BIOL102, CHEM101, STAT121, or a 100 level Mathematics paper in the first year of their programme of study. It is also recommended that students include BIOL210 or ENMP241, and either BIOL362 or ENMP341.

Note on Assessment: Māori language tutorials can be arranged on request, subject to the availability of tutors. However, because of the technical nature of the terminology and accepted international practice, this subject requires that assessment for all papers be presented in English.

Note: A specified programme in Biochemical Engineering is also available for the BE.

Chinese

Chinese consists of language acquisition papers in Modern Standard Chinese (Mandarin) and papers on Chinese history, culture, business communication and society.

Chinese is available as a major for the BA. Chinese may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Chinese, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Chinese, including CHIN201, CHIN202, CHIN301, CHIN302 and at least 20 further points above 200 level. It is recommended that students intending to major in Chinese include HUMA101 in the first year of their programme of study. Within the BA, BBA(Fin), BCS, BCom, BMS, BSocSc and BTour a Chinese Language specialisation is available, within the BSc and BSc(Tech) a specialisation in Science International in Chinese is available, and within the BMS International Management major a specialisation in Chinese is also available. Details of the specialisation requirements can be obtained from the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, School of Science and Engineering or the Waikato Management School.

The language acquisition papers are designed primarily for learners of Modern Standard Chinese as a foreign or second language. Students with prior knowledge of Chinese must consult with Chinese Section staff before enrolling in language acquisition papers. The papers in Chinese history, culture and society are taught in English and are also available to non-language students.

Note: Candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in Chinese papers above 100 level, and at least 90 points at 100 and 200 level before enrolling in Chinese papers above 200 level.

Computer Science

Computer Science involves the study of all aspects of computers: their technology, algorithms and programming, underlying theory, and their application.

Computer Science is available as a major for the BCMS, BSc and BSc(Tech). Computer Science may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Computer Science for the BCMS, students must gain 180 points above 100 level in Computer Science, including COMP200, COMP202, COMP203, COMP204, COMP235, at least 120 points above 200 level, and at least 60 points above 300 level.

To complete a major in Computer Science for the BSc and BSc(Tech), students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Computer Science, including COMP200, COMP202, COMP203, COMP204, COMP235, and at least 60 points above 200 level.

As well as the 100 level prerequisites specified for papers at 200 level and above, it is recommended that students intending to major in Computer Science include STAT121 in the first year of their programme of study.

Within the BCMS and BSc the Computer Science major allows students to work towards specialisations. The specialisations include, but are not limited to, Applied Computing, Artificial Intelligence, Computer Technology, Data Mining, Games and Multimedia, Information Systems, Internet Applications, Networks, Software Development. For further details of specialisations, refer to the School of Computing and Mathematical Sciences Handbook.

Note on Assessment: To be eligible to pass these papers students should normally achieve a minimum grade of D in the internal assessment and the final examination, and an overall grade of C.

Corporate & Executive Education

The Centre for Corporate & Executive Education offers a range of highly regarded executive and corporate development programmes. These programmes are designed to meet the individual development needs of working managers along with the specific needs of corporate organisations and industry sectors. They are applied programmes that rely on participants bringing and sharing their own experience in the classroom. Executive programmes are generally offered on a 'cohort' basis where a group of participants maintains a collaborative learning process throughout the prescribed course of study. Therefore, enrolment into individual papers is often not possible. In most cases it is not possible to cross-credit papers from these applied postgraduate programmes to or from undergraduate or graduate qualifications. All Corporate & Executive Education papers are internally assessed.

Note: Not all papers are taught in any one year. Further information on these programmes is available from the Centre for Corporate & Executive Education at the Waikato Management School. The Centre for Corporate & Executive Education reserves the right to limit enrolment in papers in the interest of protecting the quality of the learning experience for students.

Prescriptions for the MBA

The Waikato Master of Business Administration (MBA) is a premier professional management and leadership qualification that incorporates the cross-functional areas of management with personal growth and leadership development. The programme focuses on the distinctive features of the Waikato MBA - international connectivity, leadership and organisational transformation, value creation and sustainability. The Waikato MBA equips existing managers to step into senior roles, broadens functional specialists' business understanding and adds best-practice theory to entrepreneurs' practical knowledge. It advances participants' strategic understanding of business and the complex issues faced by business leaders in the global environment.

Counselling

Counselling programmes at the University of Waikato take a distinctive orientation to counsellor education. These programmes are situated within a postmodern framework, emphasising what are often called narrative approaches in counselling and therapy. These approaches depend upon a social constructionist epistemological base. While the specific body of ideas, skills and approaches that draw upon constructionist and postmodern theories and practices are the focus of the programme, attention is also given to a diverse range of mainstream approaches to this work. Initial enquiries should be made to the Graduate Studies Office, School of Education.

Demography

Demography is concerned with the advanced, empirical analysis of population structure and trends. An important element is the application to social, economic environment and other areas of policy formulation and monitoring. An appreciation of the techniques of demographic research and analysis is essential to the study of both methodology and substantive issues.

Entry to the BSocSc(Hons) and MSocSc in Demography is open to suitably qualified graduates in any discipline who have at least one undergraduate Population Studies paper. For those students without this prerequisite, arrangements may be made for a qualifying programme. To be eligible to be considered for enrolment in graduate Demography papers, a student should normally have at least a B average in the best three of their 300 level papers from their undergraduate major and should have a significant research methods component (normally two papers) in that degree. All intending students should discuss their programme with the graduate adviser in the Department of Societies and Cultures.

Prescriptions for the PGCert(Dem), PGDip(Dem), BSocSc(Hons) and MSocSc

To complete a BSocSc(Hons) in Demography, students must gain 120 points at 500 level, including at least 30 points in research (normally POPS591), POPS507, POPS509, SSRP504, and a minimum of 15 points selected from POPS508, POPS589, SOCP506 and SOCP507.

Entry to the MSocSc in Demography is open to suitably qualified candidates who have completed the core papers for the BSocSc(Hons) in Demography. To complete an MSocSc in Demography, students must take a 120 point thesis, a 90 point thesis and 30 points from approved 500 level papers, or a 60 point dissertation and 60 points from approved 500 level papers.

Economics

Economics is concerned with the way in which people and institutions make the best decisions to meet their objectives. It is relevant to the everyday life of individuals, businesses and government. Economics is available as a major for the BBA(Fin), BMS and BSocSc. Economics may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled. The requirements for the BBA(Fin) and BMS majors are prescribed in the Waikato Management School Student Handbook. To complete a major in Economics for the BSocSc, or as a second major for degrees other than the BBA(Fin) and BMS, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Economics, including ECON200 and at least 60 points above 200 level. It is recommended that students intending to major in Economics for the BSocSc include STAT160 in their programme of study.

No more than 40 points in FINA coded papers may be included in an Economics major.

Economics can also be taken as a specialisation to a major in Environmental Planning for the BSc, BSc(Tech) and BSocSc, to a major in Mathematics for the BCMS and BSc, or to a major in Statistics for the BSc.

Students intending to continue on to graduate study in Economics must complete an approved paper in macroeconomics, microeconomics and econometrics at 200 level or above. For further details, contact the Department of Economics at the Waikato Management School.

Note on Assessment: To be eligible to pass these papers students should normally achieve a minimum grade of D in the internal assessment and the final examination, and an overall grade of C.

Note: Candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in Economics papers at 200 level, and at least 180 points, including 60 points at 200 level, in any subject(s) before enrolling in Economics papers at 300 level.

Education

The study of education encompasses a broad range of options which reflect the far-reaching nature of the field. Educationists are interested in how knowledge, skills and values are constructed, accumulated, and conveyed through formal and informal means. The papers available in the subject Education provide opportunities for academic and professional development for those employed in the education sector. It is possible to plan a programme that is tailored to individuals' intellectual and/or professional needs. Students who are not necessarily working in the education sector may wish to consider the subject Education Studies.

Prescriptions for the Dip(Ed) and GradDip(Ed)

The Diploma in Education (Dip(Ed)) and the Graduate Diploma in Education (GradDip(Ed)) are available for students who are working in the education sector and who want to broaden their knowledge in the area of education. The GradDip(Ed) is also suitable for graduates from a teacher education programme who wish to develop their curriculum and pedagogical knowledge. The Dip(Ed) and the GradDip(Ed) do not lead to teacher registration in New Zealand. However, the GradDip(Ed) will place New Zealand registered teachers on the G3+ or Q3+ qualification level for salary purposes. Programmes of study for the GradDip(Ed) should be planned with the intention to create a strong basis for further study at postgraduate level. Initial inquiries should be made to the Graduate Studies Office, School of Education. The Dip(Ed) consists of 120 points, including 80 points at 200 level or above. Within the Dip(Ed) a specialisation is available in Adult Literacy and Numeracy Education. Details of the specialisation requirements can be obtained from the School of Education. The GradDip(Ed) consists of 120 points, including at least 80 points at 300 level or above.

Education Studies

Education Studies involves critical inquiry into the social, political, cultural, economic and personal theories and practices of lifelong education. Although its origins are in humanities and social science disciplines such as History, Philosophy, Psychology and Sociology, Education Studies today has close affinities with contemporary interdisciplinary fields exploring issues of social policy, culture, gender, work and leisure. Since education is as much concerned with who we might become as who we already are, it is relevant to all our collective and personal decision-making on questions of justice, rights and freedom.

Education Studies is available as a major for the BA and BSocSc. Education Studies may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Education Studies, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Education Studies, including 60 points at 200 level, including at least 40 points from PCSS coded papers, one of which is PCSS201, PCSS205 or PCSS231, and 60 points at 300 level, including at least 40 points from PCSS coded papers. As well as the 100 level prerequisites specified for papers at 200 level and above, it is recommended that students intending to major in Education Studies include one or more of HDCO100, HIST107, PHIL150, PSYC102, SMST102, SOCY101, TIKA163 or TIKA164 in the first year of their programme of study.

To complete a supporting subject in Education Studies, students must gain 30 points at 100 level, including PCSS101 and one of HDCO100, HIST107, PHIL150, PSYC102, SMST102, SOCY101, TIKA163 or TIKA164, and at least 40 points above 100 level, including one of PCSS201, PCSS205 or PCSS231.

Note: Candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in Education Studies papers above 100 level, and at least 90 points at 100 and 200 level before enrolling in Education Studies papers above 200 level. The (NET) offerings may include an on-campus component.

Electronic Business

Electronic Business (E-Business) gives students a hands-on understanding of electronic business. Students gain an appreciation of how information is collected, managed, and used for decision-making purposes, both internally using traditional back office systems, and externally, using the internet.

Electronic Business is available as a major for the BMS. Electronic Business may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled. The requirements for the BMS major are prescribed in the Waikato Management School Student Handbook.

To complete a second major in Electronic Business for degrees other than the BMS, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Electronic Business, including MSYS212, either MSYS351 or MSYS451, either MSYS358 or MSYS458, and at least 20 further points above 200 level.

Note: Candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in Electronic Business papers at 200 level, and at least 180 points, including 60 points at 200 level, in any subject(s) before enrolling in Electronic Business papers at 300 level.

Electronic Commerce

Electronic Commerce, or ecommerce as it is often called, is the use of computers and electronic networks to conduct business over the internet or another electronic network. Electronic Commerce is not restricted to large multinational companies. Perhaps the greatest advantage of electronic commerce for smaller companies is 'global reach' - the ability to immediately access world markets. Business-to-business electronic commerce provides significant cost reductions and the ability to strengthen relationships with external organisations.

Electronic Commerce is available as a major for the BCom. Electronic Commerce may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled. The requirements for the BCom major are prescribed in the Waikato Management School Student Handbook.

To complete a second major in Electronic Commerce for degrees other than the BCom, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Electronic Commerce, including ACCT324, COMP219, MSYS212, STMG346, and a further 40 points, including at least 20 points above 200 level, from COMP233, COMP321, COMP333, ECON318, MCOM337, MSYS221, MSYS321, MSYS351, MSYS358, MSYS365, MSYS366, MSYS421, MSYS451, MSYS458, MSYS465, MSYS466, STMG324 or STMG424.

Note: Candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in Electronic Commerce papers at 200 level, and at least 180 points, including 60 points at 200 level, in any subject(s) before enrolling in Electronic Commerce papers at 300 level.

Electronic Engineering

The Electronic Engineering programme is based on studies in computer science, electronics, mathematics, and physics. There are papers in design and a major electronic engineering project in the fourth year of study. Extensive experience is attained in electronic laboratories. Economic and professional training elements are also included. New Zealand's electronics manufacturing industry is one of the fastest growing industries in the country, and New Zealand has a shortage of skilled people. Companies are targeting niche markets, such as telecommunications, and export their products all over the world. The largest number of exporters is in the industrial/commercial field, followed by healthcare, radiocommunications and agriculture.

Electronic Engineering is available as a specified programme for the BE.

To complete the specified programme in Electronic Engineering, students must follow the following programme.

Note: A major in Electronics is also available for the BSc and BSc(Tech).

Electronics

Electronics is the science and technology concerned with the controlled flow of electrons and other carriers of electric charge. It covers theory, design, and construction of electronic devices, circuits, instruments, or systems.

Electronics is available as a major for the BSc and BSc(Tech). Electronics may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Electronics, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Electronics, including ENEL205, ENEL211, and at least 60 points above 200 level. English

English is about language, history and culture. It is about art and aesthetics, meaning and value. At the University of Waikato, papers are drawn from literatures written in English since medieval times, and from all major English-speaking cultures, especially from the United Kingdom, North America, India, Australia, and New Zealand.

English is available as a major for the BA. English may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in English, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in English, including at least 60 points above 200 level. It is recommended that students intending to major in English include two of ENGL104, ENGL105, ENGL108 or ENGL112 in the first year of their programme of study. The New Zealand Studies paper NZST300 may be counted towards a major in English, as may one of GERM302, SPAN305, and THST207.

Students considering graduate study in English are advised to include a range of modern and historical papers in English in their undergraduate programme of study.

Note: Candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in English papers above 100 level, and at least 90 points at 100 and 200 level before enrolling in English papers above 200 level.

English Studies

English Studies gives students an opportunity to consider why we read, and why we write, and how to do both effectively and creatively. Using a variety of texts, current literary theory, and dealing with contemporary issues, this subject examines readers' responses to text, and how those responses may be created. The study of language and literature will enhance the students' critical apparatus for study in all areas of communication by introducing students to the concepts of literary and language theory. By studying a variety of discourses, they will consider the differences race, nationality and gender may make to the communicative act. English Studies is of interest to anyone preparing for a career in communication.

English Studies is available as major for the BCS. English Studies may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in English Studies, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in English Studies, including ENGL217, either ENGL316 or NZST300, and at least 40 further points above 200 level. Entrepreneurship and Innovation

While successful e-commerce (EC) requires innovation, innovation alone does not guarantee success. Budding EC entrepreneurs need more than just technical know-how: they need to understand the global competitive environments and ways to minimise risk and ensure profitability. EC's short history is littered with stories of great ideas that have failed due to the absence of the necessary business acumen. Strategic planning, alliances and networks are integral to success when competing on the edge in the world of e-business.

A Graduate Diploma in Entrepreneurship and Innovation is available. Within the BMS Strategic Management major, a specialisation in Entrepreneurship and Innovation is also available. The requirements for the Graduate Diploma and specialisation are prescribed in the Waikato Management School Student Handbook.

Note on Assessment: To be eligible to pass these papers, students should normally achieve a minimum of D in the internal assessment and the final examination, and an overall grade of C.

Environmental Planning

Environmental Planning is an interdisciplinary subject that provides the knowledge and skills necessary for sustainable management of the environment. Environmental Planning encompasses an integrated approach to decisions about people's use of the environment that incorporates environmental, cultural, technological, social and economic dimensions to gain insight into environmental problems and help us manage our resources more effectively.

Environmental Planning is available as a major for the BEP, BSc, BSc(Tech) and BSocSc. Environmental Planning may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Environmental Planning for the BEP, students must complete the compulsory papers listed in the appendix to the regulations for the degree.

To complete a major in Environmental Planning for the BSc and BSc(Tech), students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Environmental Planning, including BIOL212, ENVP206, 20 points at 200 level from the Earth Sciences papers listed below, GEOG306, and 20 points each from the 300 level Biological Sciences and Earth Sciences papers listed below. It is recommended that students intending to major in Environmental Planning take BIOL102, EARTH103 and GEOG103 in the first year of their programme of study in order to meet prerequisites for study at 200 level.

To complete a major in Environmental Planning for the BSocSc, students must gain 120 points in Environmental Planning comprising ENVP206, GEOG219, PHIL217, ENVP306, GEOG301 and 20 points from ECON315, GEOG306 or GEOG328. It is recommended that students intending to major in Environmental Planning include GEOG101 and GEOG103 in the first year of their programme of study in order to meet prerequisites at 200 and 300 levels.

Within the BEP and BSocSc, pathways lead to a number of specialisations. The Environmental Science and Resource Planning pathway will appeal most to those who wish to work in regional councils or in environmental organisations and has three specialisations: Coastal and Marine Environments; Freshwater Environments; and Terrestrial Environments. The Socio-Economic Policy and Planning pathway will appeal most to those interested in more policy-oriented positions and also has three specialisations: Society, Politics and the Environment; Environmental Economics; and Public Policy and the Environment. Within the BSc and BSc(Tech), three specialisations are available: Economics; Public Policy; and Resources and Environmental Planning. Details of the specialisation requirements can be obtained from the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences or School of Science and Engineering.

Note: The Bachelor of Environmental Planning is offered subject to approval by the NZVCC's Committee on University Academic Programmes (CUAP). Amendments to the Environmental Planning major for the BSocSc are subject to approval by the NZVCC's Committee on University Academic Programmes (CUAP).

Prescriptions for the GradCert(EnvPlan) and GradDip(EnvPlan)

A Graduate Certificate and Graduate Diploma are available to graduates who have not included Environmental Planning at an advanced level in their first degree. For further details, contact the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences Office.

Prescriptions for the PGCert(EnvPlan) and PGDip(EnvPlan) and MEP

To complete the Postgraduate Certificate in Environmental Planning students must complete 60 points at 500 level, including ENVP503, ENVP504 and GEOG505.

To complete the Postgraduate Diploma in Environmental Planning students must complete 120 points at 500 level, comprising ENVP503, ENVS521, GEOG505 and a further 45 points from ENVP504, ENVP505, ENVP508, ENVP509 and ENVP590.

The MEP is recognised by the New Zealand Planning Institute as meeting the academic requirements for admission to the Institute as a professional planner. To complete an MEP, students must normally complete ENVP501, ENVP502 and ENVP592. ENVP501 may be replaced with an approved elective. ENVP592 may be replaced with ENVP593. Papers approved for the elective may include any 500 level paper that, at the discretion of the Chairperson of Department or Convenor of the programme, can be demonstrated to be relevant to planning. Students should note the prerequisite papers.

Students wishing to pursue less specified planning related graduate study should consider the BSocSc(Hons) Resources and Environmental Planning programme.

Environmental Sciences

Environmental Sciences is an interdisciplinary subject and therefore requires study across Biological Sciences, Chemistry, and Earth Sciences, with a focus on ecology, soil and water environments and geochemistry.

Environmental Sciences is available as a major for the BSc and BSc(Tech). Environmental Sciences may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Environmental Sciences, students must gain 120 points in Environmental Sciences, including BIOL212, 40 further points at 200 level, at least 20 points at 300 level in each of Biological Sciences and Earth Sciences, and a further 20 points at 300 level, all from the papers listed below. It is recommended that students intending to major in Environmental Sciences include BIOL102 and at least two of ENV5101, ERT103, ERT104 or GEOG103 in the first year of their programme of study, as these are prerequisites for papers at 200 level or above. Within the BSc and BSc(Tech) Environmental Sciences majors, specialisations in Environmental Microbiology, Environmental Modelling, Land and Freshwater Environments, and Marine Sciences are available. Details of the specialisation requirements can be obtained from the School of Science and Engineering.

Note on Assessment: Māori language tutorials can be arranged on request, subject to the availability of tutors. However, because of the technical nature of the terminology and accepted international practice, this subject requires that assessment for all papers be presented in English.

Ethics

The study of Ethics provides an excellent grounding in evaluative theory and reasoning for a professional future in the public service, the health sector, social work, with environmental agencies, and in business. Students gain the tools and capabilities they need to become inspirational leaders in their communities and in their working lives, enabling them to feel confident in their capability to reflect on doing "the right thing" and following through on that reflection.

Ethics is available as a major for the BA and BSocSc. Ethics may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Ethics, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Ethics, including PHIL215, PHIL309, at least 20 points from PHIL217, PHIL218, PHIL219, or MNGT221, and at least 40 further points above 200 level. It is recommended that students intending to major in Ethics include two of PHIL103, PHIL106 and PHIL150 in the first year of their programme of study.

Note: Candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in Ethics papers above 100 level, and at least 90 points at 100 and 200 level before enrolling in Ethics papers above 200 level.

French

The French programme offers papers in language, literature, linguistics, civilisation and translation. Students majoring in French will acquire a good grounding in the core areas of the subject that will prepare them for graduate studies in French. The University has exchange agreements with several French universities, and students are encouraged to undertake a semester of study in France. French may be usefully combined with subjects outside the BA, including Law, Management, Music and Science. Students intending to pursue a career in secondary language teaching should enrol in another language as well.

French is available as a major for the BA. French may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in French, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in French, including at least 60 points above 200 level. It is recommended that students intending to major in French include HUMA101 in the first year of their programme of study. Within the BA, BBA(Fin), BCS, BECom, BMS, BSocSc and BTour a French Language specialisation is available, within the BSc and BSc(Tech) a specialisation in Science International in French is available, and within the BMS International Management major a specialisation in French is also available. Details of the specialisation requirements can be obtained from the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, School of Science and Engineering or the Waikato Management School.

The point of entry into the French programme depends on previous experience. Those with no previous experience of French take FREN131 and FREN132. Students normally take both papers in a single year and take FREN231 and FREN232 in the following year. Students with some experience of French (Year 11 or equivalent) will begin with FREN132. Students with 14 credits at Level 3 in NCEA French, or equivalent, will gain direct entry into FREN231. Students with excellent results at Level 2 in NCEA French, or equivalent, may, at the discretion of the Convenor of French, begin with FREN231.

Note: Normally, candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in French papers above 100 level, and at least 90 points at 100 and 200 level before enrolling in French papers above 200 level.

Geography

Geography matters because it is about basic human relationships: between people and the environment, between people and other people. A clearer grasp of Geography can provide insight into environmental problems and help us manage our resources more effectively.

Geography is available as major for the BA, BSocSc and BTour. Geography may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Geography for the BA and BSocSc, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Geography, including at least 60 points above 200 level.

To complete a major in Geography for the BTour, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Geography, including GEOG224, TOST306, and a further 40 points at 300 level.

It is recommended that students intending to major in Geography include GEOG101 and GEOG103 in the first year of their programme of study in order to meet prerequisites for study at 200 level.

Most Geography papers include practical work in the laboratory and/or fieldwork. Fieldwork is carried out in weekends or in teaching recess.

Further details are available from the Department of Geography, Tourism and Environmental Planning.

Note: Candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in Geography papers above 100 level, and at least 90 points at 100 and 200 level before enrolling in Geography papers above 200 level.

German

German is the most widely spoken language in the European Union. The German programme offers papers in German language (conversation, composition, grammar), German literature, and culture. The University has exchange agreements with several German universities.

German is available as a major for the BA. German may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in German, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in German, including GERM231, GERM233, GERM301, GERM302, and at least 20 further points above 200 level. It is recommended that students intending to major in German include GERM102 and HUMA101 in the first year of their programme of study. Within the BA, BBA(Fin), BCS, BCom, BMS, BSocSc and BTour a German Language specialisation is available, within the BSc and BSc(Tech) a specialisation in Science International in German is available, and within the BMS International Management major a specialisation in German is also available. Details of the specialisation requirements can be obtained from the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, School of Science and Engineering or the Waikato Management School.

The point of entry into the German programme depends on previous experience. Those with no previous experience of German take GERM131 and GERM132, followed by GERM231 and GERM233 in the second year, and GERM301 and GERM302 in the third year. Students with some experience of German (Year 11 or equivalent) will begin with GERM132. Students with 14 credits at Level 3 in NCEA German, or equivalent, will gain direct entry into GERM231. Students with excellent results at Level 2 in NCEA German, or equivalent, may, at the discretion of the Convenor of German, begin with GERM231.

Note: Normally, candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in German papers above 100 level, and at least 90 points at 100 and 200 level before enrolling in German papers above 200 level.

Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management

Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management (IR&HRM) is an interdisciplinary subject designed to prepare students for careers in the broad, ever-changing field of employment relations, human resource management, workplace change, and education and training. The subject also prepares students well for graduate studies. This is achieved by bringing together relevant papers from Education Studies, Human Resource Management, Labour Studies, and Psychology.

Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management (IR&HRM) is available as major for the BSocSc. IR&HRM may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in IR&HRM, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in IR&HRM, comprising HRMG241, LBST201, PCSS231, HRMG342, LBST331, and one of HRMG343, HRMG374, LBST301, PCSS330 or PSYC317. It is recommended that students intending to major in IR&HRM include LBST101, SOCY101 and STMG191 in the first year of their programme of study in order to meet prerequisites for study at 200 and 300 levels. It is also recommended that students complete a supporting subject in Education Studies, Labour Studies or Psychology, or a second major in another social science subject.

To complete a supporting subject in IR&HRM, students must include LBST201 and HRMG342.

Enquiries about undergraduate, diploma and graduate studies in IR&HRM should be directed to the subject Convenor, Gemma Piercy, in the Department of Societies and Cultures.

Note: Candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management papers above 100 level, and at least 90 points at 100 and 200 level before enrolling in Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management papers above 200 level.

Labour Studies

Labour Studies is an interdisciplinary subject concerned with the world of work and employment, and the social and economic context in which they take place. The subject draws on a number of disciplines in order to provide students with an understanding of contemporary issues. Papers cover a wide range of relevant topics such as the nature of work, industrial relations, labour market issues, workers' education and training, and international comparisons. Labour Studies is a contributing subject to the major in Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management (IR&HRM).

Labour Studies is available as a major for the BSocSc. Labour Studies may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Labour Studies, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Labour Studies, including LBST201, LBST202, LBST301, and at least 40 further points above 200 level. It is recommended that students intending to major in Labour Studies include LBST101 and SOCY101 in the first year of their programme of study in order to meet prerequisites at 200 and 300 levels.

To complete a supporting subject in Labour Studies, students must include LBST201 and two other LBST coded papers.

Students may include SSRP202 as part of a major or supporting subject in Labour Studies.

Enquiries about undergraduate and graduate programmes in Labour Studies should be directed to the Subject Convenor in the Department of Societies and Cultures.

Note: Candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in Labour Studies papers above 100 level, and at least 90 points at 100 and 200 level before enrolling in Labour Studies papers above 200 level.

Law

The Rule of Law is a cornerstone of a civilised society. It defines rights and obligations and provides structure to institutions of government and commerce. The LLB programme follows a course of study which, in addition to giving students a broad understanding of legal principles, meets the professional requirements to practice as a barrister and solicitor in New Zealand.

Law is available as a major for the LLB. Law may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the School of Law Admissions Committee and the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Law for the LLB, students must complete the requirements specified in the LLB regulations.

To complete a second major in Law, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Law, including at least 60 points above 200 level. Students intending to complete a second major in Law must first gain 40 points at 100 level in Law before enrolling in Law papers at 200 level and above.

The Law programme is structured as follows:

Law 1 introduces students to the legal system, the relationship between culture and the law and legal system, legal reasoning, writing and research, and the constitutional framework

Law 2 introduces the theories of law, the relationship between the state, administrative agencies and the individual, the law of contract, and the law of tort

Law 3 covers the principles of private law and dispute resolution

Law 4 focuses on specialist papers in Law.

Linguistics

Linguistics is the scientific study of language in all its facets. Language is a fundamentally important aspect of human life, and impinges on virtually everything that we do. Thus, Linguistics is a study which shares interests with a very wide range of other disciplines, and usefully complements a variety of other subject areas, such as the language subjects, Philosophy, Education, Sociology, Social Anthropology, Psychology and Artificial Intelligence.

Linguistics is available as a major for the BA, BCS and BSocSc. Linguistics may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Linguistics for the BA and BSocSc, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Linguistics, including LING231, LING301, LING302 and LING304.

To complete a major in Linguistics for the BCS, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Linguistics, including LING231, LING302, LING304, and 20 further points above 200 level.

It is recommended that students intending to major in Linguistics include LING131 and LING132 in the first year of their programme of study in order to meet prerequisites for study at 200 level and above.

To complete a supporting subject in Linguistics, students must include LING131, LING132 and LING231.

It is recommended that students intending to take Linguistics as a major or supporting subject include a language skills paper in a language other than their first language in their programme of study. Such a paper would not count as a Linguistics paper for the purpose of the degree regulations.

Note: Candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in Linguistics papers above 100 level, and at least 90 points at 100 and 200 level before enrolling in Linguistics papers above 200 level. There will be no new intake into the BCS Linguistics major from 2011.

Materials and Process Engineering

The Materials and Process Engineering programme covers a wide range of skills and contains two engineering disciplines that overlap in many areas. The materials engineer makes critical decisions in selecting the best materials for a particular function; the process engineer makes critical decisions in the processes and utilities required to manufacture the product. For example, materials engineering involves understanding the properties and uses of wood and steel, designing and constructing new filters for sewage treatment, and providing new materials for the energy industry. Process engineering include converting trees into paper and fibre board, iron sand into steel, effluent into drinkable water, and gas into electricity.

Materials and Process Engineering is available as a specified programme for the BE. To complete the specified programme in Materials and Process Engineering, students must follow the following programme.

Materials and Processing

Materials and Processing is an engineering discipline concerned with understanding the characteristics of materials and the processes used to convert materials into products. It includes biotechnology, environmental technology, materials, process engineering and innovation and technology management. The major in Materials and Processing includes properties and uses of materials, processing of these materials, and designing industrial systems.

Materials and Processing is available as a major for the BSc and BSc(Tech). Materials and Processing may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Materials and Processing, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Materials and Processing, including at least 60 points above 200 level. It is recommended that students include ENGG180, ENMP102, ENMP211, ENMP221, one other 200 level ENMP paper, ENMP311, ENMP321, and one other 300 level ENMP paper in their programme of study.

Note on Assessment: Māori language tutorials can be arranged on request, subject to the availability of tutors. However, because of the technical nature of the terminology and accepted international practice, this Department requires that all material for assessment for all papers be presented in English.

Note: A specified programme in Materials and Process Engineering is also available for the BE.

Mathematics

Mathematics is a language of fundamental importance which underpins many activities of society. It plays a crucial role, both theoretically and practically, in many areas such as science, computing, economics and finance.

Mathematics is available as a major for the BA, BCMS and BSc. Mathematics may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Mathematics for the BA, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Mathematics, including MATH251, MATH252, MATH311, and at least 40 further points above 200 level. MATH252 is also recommended.

To complete a major in Mathematics for the BCMS, students must gain 180 points above 100 level in Mathematics, including MATH251, MATH252, MATH253, MATH255, MATH311, and at least 100 further points above 200 level, including 60 points above 300 level.

To complete a major in Mathematics for the BSc, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Mathematics, including MATH251, MATH252, MATH253, MATH255, MATH311, and at least 40 further points above 200 level.

As well as the 100 level prerequisites specified for papers at 200 level and above, it is recommended that students intending to major in Mathematics for the BCMS or BSc include COMP103, COMP104 and STAT121 in the first year of their programme of study. Within the BCMS and BSc Mathematics majors, specialisations in Economics and Finance are available. Details of the specialisation requirements can be obtained from the School of Computing and Mathematical Sciences.

Note on Assessment: To be eligible to pass these papers students should normally achieve a minimum grade of D in the internal assessment and the final examination, and an overall grade of C. Because of the technical nature of the terminology and accepted international protocol, the Department of Mathematics requires that all assessment for all papers be presented in English. Payment for translation will not be available from the Department.

Mechanical Engineering

The Mechanical Engineering programme combines papers in mechanical engineering, science and mathematics to give graduates a good balance between intellectual rigour and engineering practice. This typically prepares graduates for employment in industry and a wide range of other careers. During the first three years, the curriculum includes engineering design as a major theme, which integrates papers in engineering science. In the final year students specialise in areas such as advanced product development and undertake a major design or laboratory-based project.

Mechanical Engineering is available as a specified programme for the BE.

Physics

Physics is a branch of science that studies matter, energy, and the relation between them. It aims to understand the entire world, from the sub-atomic to the cosmological. Physics papers cover theoretical and experimental subject areas. A distinctive feature of the physics teaching and research at the University of Waikato is its focus on biophysics and biomedical applications. This emphasis is evident in the papers offered at 300 level and above. Many undergraduate papers include laboratory work.

Physics is available as a major for the BSc and BSc(Tech). Physics may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Physics, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Physics, including ENEL284, ENEL285, PHYS204, PHYS205, PHYS206, PHYS301, and at least 40 further points above 200 level. ENEL312 or ENEL324 may be counted as Physics papers to satisfy the requirements for a major.

Note on Assessment: Māori language tutorials can be arranged on request, subject to the availability of tutors. However, because of the technical nature of the terminology and accepted international practice, this Department requires that all material for assessment for all papers be presented in English.

Policy, Cultural and Social Studies in Education

Policy, Cultural and Social Studies in Education is concerned with the political, social, and cultural issues in relation to educational systems, theories and curricula in schools and adult education. It is also concerned with the form education should take. Some papers focus on the historical and contemporary contexts in which learning and teaching take place, for example the impact of changing government policies, cultural dynamics, educational theories and wider social change. Other papers focus on how the curriculum at various levels addresses, and has addressed political, social, historical, and cultural questions as topics of study in subjects such as social studies, history, and geography. Papers with the subject code PCSS are Professional Education and Education Studies papers. Papers with the subject code TEPC are Professional Education papers and are only available for students enrolled in a School of Education teacher education programme.

Note: The (NET) offerings may include an on-campus component.

Political Science

In Political Science we study all aspects of political life. We ask such questions as: Why do some crises lead to conflict while others are resolved peacefully? What lessons can we draw from the policy experience of other countries? How ought we to deal with the growing international environmental crisis? Why does democracy survive in some countries and not in others? Can we have both freedom and equality - or must we choose between them? What did the great political thinkers of the past really say?

Political Science comprises four main areas of study. Comparative Politics examines the political institutions and societies of particular countries, and looks at the comparisons and contrasts between them. International Relations focuses on the relations between states, on their foreign policies, and on international organisations like the UN and NATO. Political Theory examines theories about politics and society, and the philosophical and methodological questions that arise in studying political life. Public Policy explores and evaluates the processes by which national, regional and local institutions of the state formulate and implement policies. Students taking political science papers may focus on one or more of these areas, or follow a broader programme reflecting the diverse interests of political science.

Political Science is available as major for the BA and BSocSc. Political Science may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Political Science, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Political Science, including at least two of POLS201, POLS206, POLS211 or POLS212, and at least 60 points above 200 level. Within the BA and BSocSc Political Science majors, a specialisation in International Relations and Security Studies is available. Public Policy

Public Policy papers analyse and evaluate how national, regional and local institutions of the state formulate and implement policies. They discuss theories of organisation, decision-making and administration, public management, and how public officials work and interact with both the public and the political executive. Papers examine policies in the context of political values and culture, economic constraints, political party agendas, and seek to explain how and why particular policies are adopted by governments.

Public Policy is available as a major for the BSocSc. Public Policy may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Public Policy, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Public Policy, including POLS212 and at least 60 points above 200 level. It is recommended that students intending to major in Public Policy include POLS105 in the first year of their programme of study.

Note: Candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in Public Policy papers above 100 level, and at least 90 points at 100 and 200 level before enrolling in Public Policy papers above 200 level.

Public Relations

Public Relations involves managing relationships between organisations and their publics. Within Public Relations a range of strategic communications are practiced; such as crisis and issues management, event management, sponsorship and fundraising, employee relations, government relations and public affairs. Public Relations professionals work with the media, act as the communication intersection between organisations and their publics, and provide the communication support that an organisation requires to achieve its mission.

Public Relations is available as a major for the BCS and BMS. Public Relations may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled. The requirements for the BCS and BMS majors are prescribed in the Waikato Management School Student Handbook.

To complete a second major in Public Relations for degrees other than the BCS and BMS, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Public Relations, including MCOM233, MCOM235, MCOM332, MCOM333, and at least 20 further points above 200 level.

Screen and Media Studies

The media are a central fact of life in the 21st century. Screen and Media Studies provides students with the skills and understanding necessary for citizens in today's rapidly evolving media environments. The Screen and Media Studies major combines an education in critical thinking with instruction in how the media are made, focusing on the relations between the local and the global, and the origins and futures of both the traditional and new media. From video to games, from news to New Zealand films, students learn about how established media, such as cinema and broadcasting, have shaped our ways of seeing the world and discover how those media are being 'remediated' by the new technologies.

Screen and Media Studies is available as a major for the BA and BMCT. Screen and Media Studies may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Screen and Media Studies for the BA, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Screen and Media Studies, including SMST207, SMST214, SMST302, and at least 40 further points above 200 level. It is recommended that students intending to major in Screen and Media Studies for the BA include SMST101 and SMST102 in the first year of their programme of study. To complete a major in Screen and Media Studies for the BMCT, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Screen and Media Studies, including SMST217, SMST308, 40 points from SMST209, SMST210, SMST212 or SMST216, and 40 points from SMST310, SMST312, SMST318 or SMST319. As well as the 100 level compulsory papers, it is recommended that students intending to major in Screen and Media Studies for the BMCT include papers in the first year of their programme of study that meet prerequisites for study at 200 level and above.

Note: Candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in Screen and Media Studies papers above 100 level, and at least 90 points at 100 and 200 level before enrolling in Screen and Media Studies papers above 200 level.

Social Enterprise

The 'third sector' of modern economies is made up of a large number of organisations that have a social objective as their principal goal. This sector includes: community organisations, sports clubs, cultural/art organisations and museums, religious organisations, iwi and Māori organisations, disability support groups, and many others. These organisations are typically involved in enterprise activities, including marketing, fund-raising, the provision of financial information and performance assessment, human resource management and strategic planning.

These papers and programmes will develop advanced management skills for managers and potential managers in the sector, and introduce research and build research skills in the Social Enterprise area.

Social Policy

Social Policy provides students with an interdisciplinary perspective to key social issues of policy concern and opens up possibilities of employment in areas such as governmental social policy agencies, local bodies, non-governmental organisations and the private sector.

Students may choose from a combination of core and elective papers in Economics, Education Studies, Labour Studies, Political Science and Public Policy, Population Studies, Social Science Research, and Sociology which, when combined, offer theoretical and applied approaches to the study of social policy issues.

Social Policy is available as a major for the BSocSc. Social Policy may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Social Policy, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Social Policy, including SOCP206, SSRP202, SOCP302, SOCP303, SSRP307, and at least 20 further points above 200 level. It is recommended that students intending to major in Social Policy include SOCP102 and SOCY101 in the first year of their programme of study in order to meet prerequisites at 200 and 300 levels.

To complete a supporting subject in Social Policy, students must include two of SOCP102, SOCP206 or SOCP302.

Enquiries about undergraduate programmes in Social Policy should be directed to the subject Convenors in the Department of Societies and Cultures. Enquiries about diploma and graduate programmes in Social Policy should be directed to the Graduate Adviser.

Note: Candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in Social Policy papers above 100 level, and at least 90 points at 100 and 200 level before enrolling in Social Policy papers above 200 level.

Social Work

Social Work is a valuable and necessary profession in our society, particularly as society grows ever more complex. Social Workers enable people to function within society with as much ease as possible. They work to promote self-determination and autonomy and to help people develop to the very best of their intellectual, physical, and emotional potential in society.

Social Work is available as a specified programme for the BSW.

To complete the specified programme in Social Work, students must complete the programme set out below.

For more information, contact the Department of Societies and Cultures, Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences.

Note: Papers with the subject code SOCW are only available to students enrolled in the BSW. The Social Work programme is only available at the University of Waikato at Tauranga.

Sociology

Sociology involves analysis of society: that is, how people organise and participate in groups and larger social structures, and how societies change. Sociologists ask questions about society, challenging what is normally taken for granted. Students who major in Sociology develop, not only a good understanding of social structures, social issues and policies, and social change, but also strong research and information literacy skills that prepare them well for employment in many fields.

Sociology is available as a major for the BSocSc. Sociology may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled. Students studying Sociology can take a general Sociology major or can include focused electives from one of the following optional streams:

- Education, Inequality and Society
- Popular Culture
- Sociology of Health and Illness
- Sociology of the Family
- Social Issues, Social Policy and Social Change
- Social Science Research
- Work and Employment

To complete a major in Sociology, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Sociology, including SOCY204, SSRP202, SOCY301, and at least 40 further points above 200 level. It is recommended that students intending to major in Sociology include SOCY101 and SOCY150 in the first year of their programme of study, in order to meet prerequisites at 200 level, and at least one of LBST303, SOCP302, SOCY304, SOCY311 or SOCY390.

To complete a supporting subject in Sociology, students must include either SOCY101 or SOCY150, SOCY204 and SSRP202.

Further details can be obtained from the departmental handbook and from the Undergraduate Adviser.

Note: Candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in Sociology papers above 100 level, and at least 90 points at 100 and 200 level before enrolling in Sociology papers above 200 level.

Software Engineering

Software engineering is the scientific, disciplined and quantifiable approach to developing, operating and maintaining complex software systems. These software systems include operating systems, networks, real-time and embedded systems, distributed and parallel systems, as well as engineering, scientific and business application software. The Software Engineering programme at Waikato emphasises the software engineering process, formal methods for software engineering, and human-computer interaction. The programme starts from scratch, and teaches programming skills using C# and Microsoft Visual Studio. The final year project assimilates material taught in the earlier years with material from related disciplines such as electronics and industrial sources. It prepares students well for professional practice as well as continuing, or further, education and research.

Software Engineering is available as a specified programme for the BE.

To complete the specified programme in Software Engineering, students must follow the following programme.

Spanish

The Spanish programme consists of papers in grammar, conversation, composition, Spanish literature and Latin American literature. All literature and language papers beyond SPAN131 are taught in Spanish.

Spanish is available as a major for the BA. Spanish may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Spanish, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Spanish, including SPAN231, SPAN232, SPAN305, SPAN310, and at least 20 further points above 200 level. It is recommended that students intending to take Spanish as a major include HUMA101 in the first year of their programme of study. Within the BA, BBA(Fin), BCS, BCom, BMS, BSocSc and BTour a Spanish Language specialisation is available, within the BSc and BSc(Tech) a specialisation in Science International in Spanish is available, and within the BMS International Management major a specialisation in Spanish is also available. Details of the specialisation requirements can be obtained from the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, School of Science and Engineering or the Waikato Management School.

The point of entry into the Spanish programme depends on previous experience. Those with no previous experience of Spanish take SPAN131 and SPAN132, followed by SPAN231 in the second year. Students with some experience of Spanish (Year 11 or equivalent) will begin with SPAN132. Students with 14 credits at Level 3 in NCEA Spanish, or equivalent, will gain direct entry into SPAN231.

Note: Normally, candidates must gain at least 60 points at 100 level in any subject(s) before enrolling in Spanish papers above 100 level, and at least 90 points at 100 and 200 level before enrolling in Spanish papers above 200 level.

Statistics

Statistics is the science of collecting and interpreting data subject to uncertainty. We live in a world where variability is everywhere. To make informed decisions we must understand the nature of variability, and make use of meaningful information. Without data we have to resort to hunches or guesses, neither of which can be relied on. Statistics tells us how to deal with variability, and how to collect and use data so that we can make good decisions.

Statistics is available as a major for the BSc. Statistics may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled.

To complete a major in Statistics, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Statistics, including STAT221, STAT226 and at least 60 points above 200 level. As well as the 100 level prerequisites specified for papers at 200 level and above, it is recommended that students intending to major in Statistics include COMP103, COMP104 and MATH101 in the first year of their programme of study. ECON304, MATH251 and MATH253 may be counted as Statistics papers to satisfy the requirements for a major. Within the Statistics major, a specialisation in Economics is available. Details of the specialisation requirements can be obtained from the School of Computing and Mathematical Sciences.

Note on Assessment: To be eligible to pass these papers students should normally achieve a minimum grade of D in the internal assessment and the final examination, and an overall grade of C. Because of the technical nature of the terminology and accepted international protocol, the Department of Statistics requires that all assessment for all papers be presented in English. Payment for translation will not be available from the Department.

Teaching

Waikato offers teaching qualifications that cover early childhood, primary and secondary education. The BTchg (Early Childhood) programme is a professional teaching qualification that prepares students for work in a variety of early childhood settings with children from birth to five or six years. The BTchg (Primary) programme is a professional degree designed for students wanting to pursue a teaching career in New Zealand primary, middle, composite and intermediate schools. A BTchg (Primary) conjoint degree is also offered. The BTchg (Secondary) conjoint degree is designed for people wanting to pursue a teaching career in New Zealand secondary schools. The conjoint degree programmes are interwoven so one supports and enhances the other and include a Bachelor of Teaching majoring in Professional Education and a subject degree with a major and supporting subject that support the New Zealand curriculum. Qualified early childhood and primary teachers can upgrade their Diploma of Teaching (DipT) to a BTchg. Professional qualifications are also offered for technology teachers who wish to upgrade their qualifications or for experienced tradespeople who want a career change from tradesperson to teacher.

The requirements for the BTchg are prescribed in the School of Education Teacher Education Handbook. For details of the papers that make up BTchg programmes, see Arts and Language Education, Human Development, Mathematics, Science and Technology Education, Policy, Cultural and Social Studies in Education, Professional Studies in Education, and Sport and Leisure Studies. A Graduate Diploma in Teaching (GradDipT) is available for students who have completed a bachelors degree and who wish to gain a professional teaching qualification. Initial enquiries for the BTchg and GradDipT programmes should be made to the Student Recruitment and Advisory Centre, School of Education. A Bachelor of Teaching with Honours is available for students or teachers who have completed the BTchg or equivalent. Initial enquiries should be made to the Graduate Studies Office, School of Education.

Prescriptions for the BTchg (Early Childhood) and (Primary) Option Papers

The main function of the option papers in the initial teacher education programmes for early childhood and primary student teachers is to continue the study of teaching and learning, and to enhance subject knowledge in areas of the New Zealand Curriculum (for primary teachers) and Te Whāriki (for early childhood teachers), along with developing understanding of the political, historical and socio-cultural contexts that relate to teacher education.

Tourism Management

The study of tourism involves describing, explaining, and forecasting the intentions, activities, and experiences of people in leisure and travel pursuits, as well as understanding the social, cultural, and environmental implications of tourism activity. The rapid growth of domestic and international tourism has led to an increasing demand for graduates who have a functional and critical understanding of tourism in its wider social, cultural, economic, and political contexts.

Tourism Management is available as a major for the BMS and BTour. Tourism Management may also be taken as a second major or as a supporting subject within other undergraduate degrees, subject to academic approval of the Faculty or School of Studies in which the student is enrolled. An undergraduate Diploma in Tourism with a specialisation in Tourism Management is also available. The requirements for the BMS and BTour majors, Diploma, and specialisation are prescribed in the Waikato Management School Student Handbook.

To complete a second major in Tourism Management for degrees other than the BMS and BTour, students must gain 120 points above 100 level in Tourism Management, comprising TOMG200, TOMG202, TOMG203, TOMG301, TOMG304 and TOMG403.

Off Campus Papers

The off campus programme aims to provide an opportunity for people who are unable to enrol for papers taught on campus in Hamilton or Tauranga to undertake university studies. The co-operation of polytechnics in some locations where distance education papers are taught in the wider University region assists the programme and also strengthens the links with these institutions. Papers taught off campus are identical in terms of content, assessment and credit weighting to the equivalent papers taught on campus.

The specific papers that the University expects to be able to offer off campus in 2010 and the locations in which they will be taught are listed below. Full details of these papers are set out under the relevant subject entries of this Calendar.

These papers will be offered subject to sufficient interest being shown and the availability of staffing and resources.

Student Discipline Regulations

Preamble

At the time they enrol, students are required to sign a Student Declaration agreeing to abide by the regulations of the University of Waikato as published in the University of Waikato Calendar. The Student Discipline Regulations provide the framework for addressing alleged breaches of University regulations by students and for applying penalties where breaches are substantiated. Members of the University community are entitled to operate and interact in an environment of safety and respect. It is expected that students will act with integrity and demonstrate respect for others.

If differences and disputes arise between members of the University community, it is expected that they will attempt to resolve such conflicts reasonably and co-operatively. Formal procedures should be used only where other methods of resolving conflicts have been ineffective or would be inappropriate.

It is the policy of the University that all discipline procedures conform to the principles of natural justice. The procedures in these regulations have been adopted to safeguard the rights of individuals in this respect.

Student Complaints Policy

Preamble

Consistent with its commitment to excellence, the University has adopted this policy to assist both students and staff in the resolution of student concerns and complaints constructively, quickly and fairly.

Where minor concerns arise, students are encouraged to take a common-sense approach and raise them directly with the relevant staff, with the aim of resolving them at the lowest possible level and without undue formality. However, where informal discussions have not yielded a satisfactory resolution, or where the matter is more serious, the following policy provides for a more formal process to be pursued.

Complaints made under this policy will be monitored and reviewed to enable the University to continually improve processes and services in support of student learning.

Student and staff rights and responsibilities in relation to this policy are set out in the appendix to this policy.

Policy

1. Definitions

In this policy

complaint means a written statement submitted by a student about a matter that requires formal consideration and resolution by the University in the terms set out in this policy natural justice means the right to have a decision made by an unbiased decision-maker who observes fair and impartial procedures.

2. Application and scope

(1) Subject to subsection (2), this policy applies to complaints about any aspect of the teaching and learning process and the broad provision made by the University to support that process.

(2) This policy may not be used

(a) where the complaint can be dealt with under the Student Discipline Regulations 2008, the Assessment Regulations 2005, or the Sexual Harassment and Harassment Policy, or

(b) to challenge the academic judgement of examiners.

(3) Depending on the nature of the complaint, this policy should be read in conjunction with the Staff Code of Conduct, the Code of Ethics for Academic Staff, and/or the Code of Practice for the Pastoral Care of International Students.

(4) No action will be taken on malicious or anonymous complaints.

(5) A complainant must be able to demonstrate that the complaint is brought without malice and is based on evidence that the complainant honestly and reasonably believes to be substantially true. Those responsible for resolving complaints under this policy must take all reasonable steps to ensure that the complainant is protected against any subsequent recrimination or victimisation.

(6) Students and staff involved in the consideration and resolution of concerns and complaints have various rights and responsibilities, which are outlined in the appendix to the policy.

3. Informal resolution of concerns

(1) Before making formal written complaints, students are encouraged to seek a resolution to any concerns by raising and discussing them informally with the relevant staff member who is most directly associated with the matter.

- (2) A staff member with whom a concern is raised by a student is expected to deal with the matter in an open and professional manner and to take reasonable and prompt action to try to resolve it informally.
 - (3) A student who is uncertain about how to seek informal resolution of a concern is encouraged to seek advice from the Student Support Coordinator (Office of Student Life) or the Student Advocate (Waikato Students' Union).
4. Formal complaints procedures
- (1) Where it has not been possible to resolve a concern informally, a student may make a formal complaint.
 - (2) A student who wishes to make a formal complaint must submit it in writing, on the prescribed form (available online at www.waikato.ac.nz/sasd/files/docs/complaintform.doc), to the Dean or Director who is responsible for the action or matter that has given rise to the complaint.
 - (3) The written complaint must be submitted within three months after the occurrence of the action or matter that has given rise to the complaint, unless the Dean or Director agrees to receive it beyond this timeframe.
 - (4) If the complainant prefers not to address the complaint to the person recommended in subsection (2) it may be addressed to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor, who will address the complaint and make a decision in accordance with these procedures.
 - (5) A Dean or Director who receives a student complaint must acknowledge it in writing within three working days. He or she must also lodge the complaint in the relevant College, Division, Faculty or School of Studies complaints register, using the student ID number as identifier (rather than the student's name), and must maintain a file of all documentation in relation to the consideration of the complaint.
 - (6) The Dean or Director must ensure that any staff member named in the complaint receives a copy as soon as practicable.
 - (7) The Dean or Director must consider the complaint in accordance with the principles of natural justice, and must ensure that all parties to the complaint are accorded the full benefit of those principles.
 - (8) The process may include meetings with relevant staff and/or the complainant. Where meetings are held, the parties may, if they wish, be accompanied by a peer support person.
5. Resolution of complaints
- (1) The Dean or Director must make a decision in relation to the complaint and must notify his or her decision to the parties, in writing, within 28 days of receiving the complaint.
 - (2) If the complaint involves a university process or service and if, in the opinion of the relevant Dean or Director, the complaint has substance, the Dean or Director must arrange for the relevant process or service to be reviewed, with a view to preventing a recurrence and ensuring continued improvement.
6. Appeals
- (1) Any party to a student complaint who is dissatisfied with a decision by a Dean or Director under this policy may appeal to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor.
 - (2) The appeal must be submitted in writing within 28 days of the letter notifying the decision.
 - (3) The Deputy Vice-Chancellor will consider the relevant documentation and may, at his or her discretion, consult the Dean or Director who made the decision. The Deputy Vice-Chancellor may also interview any parties to the complaint.

- (4) If he or she determines that the complaint process has been conducted in accordance with this policy and the outcome is appropriate, the Deputy Vice-Chancellor may dismiss the appeal. Otherwise, he or she will decide the appeal in consultation with the relevant Dean or Director and any other parties. Subject to subsections (6) and (7), the decision of the Deputy Vice-Chancellor under this section is final.
 - (5) The Deputy Vice-Chancellor will notify his or her appeal decision in writing to the parties.
 - (6) When he or she notifies the parties of the appeal decision, the Deputy Vice-Chancellor will inform the parties of the Ombudsman's role in relation to complaints about government organisations (including universities) that affect people in their personal capacities.
 - (7) The Deputy Vice-Chancellor will also inform any staff members who are dissatisfied with a student complaint process of the steps available to them under the University's Procedure for Resolving Employment Relationship Problems and Personal Grievances.
 - (8) If the original complaint was addressed to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor under section 4(4), any appeal must be made to the Vice-Chancellor. That appeal will be considered and decided, in accordance with appeal processes consistent with those set out in this policy, by a nominee of the Vice-Chancellor.
7. Confidentiality
All processes and decisions under this policy are confidential to the parties and staff directly involved.
8. Annual report to the Academic Board
The Deputy Vice-Chancellor must submit an annual report to the Academic Board, including an overview of student complaints and decisions during the relevant year, together with any consequent recommendations with respect to the teaching and learning process and the provision made by the University to support that process.

The Accommodation and Conference Services Office assists students to find accommodation in the University's four Halls of Residences, Orchard Park, College Hall, Student Village and Bryant Hall. Orchard Park is a series of cottages where students cater for themselves. The other Halls are fully-catered although they all have flats where self-catering accommodation is available.

Full details about the Halls of Residence can be obtained from the Accommodation and Conference Services Office. Applications, which can be made online, close on 1 October each year for the following year's accommodation. Late applications and applications made during the course of the year will be considered. Residence is for the duration of the academic year. A new application must be made if students wish to return to the Halls for the following year. A contingency deposit is required at the time of acceptance, and this is refunded, less any charges, at the end of the academic year.

Off-Campus Accommodation

The University owns a block of eight one-bedroom flats in Scotland Place (adjacent to the University) which are available to full-time graduate students. Further information concerning these flats may be obtained from the Accommodation Adviser, who is located in the Accommodation and Conference Services Office.

The Accommodation Adviser has information regarding other accommodation available in Hamilton, and is able to assist students to find private board, houses to rent, flatmates, or flats. The cost of full board in a private home is generally about $140-$150 per week around the University area, but can be less if situated further away. Flats and houses are listed in local newspapers and with rental agencies. The Accommodation Adviser can provide printouts of all types of student housing available in the University area. The room rental cost of sharing a house or flat usually ranges between $95 and $105 per week per person.

To avoid major difficulties in finding accommodation, students are advised, if possible, to visit the University prior to the commencement of the academic year to discuss their needs with the Accommodation Adviser.

The Student Support Adviser provides training for Class Representatives and develops resources to assist them in fulfilling their roles. The Adviser, who is located in the Office of Student Life in the Student Services Building (opposite the Recreation Centre), is also available to provide information, advice and support for Class Representatives and for members of staff who deal with Class Representatives.

The Student Support Adviser can be contacted on extension 6264.

Waikato Pathways College

Waikato Pathways College comprises the University's foundation and bridging programmes, continuing education activities, student learning support including academic literacy, entrepreneurial non-formal educational activity, and international study groups. The College has a key role in contributing to the distinctiveness, excellence and international connectedness of the University.

Continuing Education

Continuing Education is an integral part of the College and the wider University, functioning as a key liaison between the University and the Community.

Non-assessed programmes are developed in conjunction with University academic staff to share advanced knowledge and to convey research outcomes to the community through accessible short courses. Continuing Education is also responsive to the needs and aspirations of adults wishing to study by providing a range of bridging and refresher programmes.

Short Bridging Courses

Continuing Education runs a number of short bridging courses for those wishing to take up university study or return to study. Varied in length, timing and content, these courses are designed to suit the needs and commitments of a range of adult learners to ensure they are prepared for tertiary study. Completion of bridging courses can assist with special admission to university, such as for school leavers, or to gain support for entry into qualifications requiring competency standards. Courses are offered in Hamilton and Tauranga and include New Start, Bridging for Women, Bridging for Māori, and QuickStart.

Science and Mathematics Bridging Courses

Continuing Education offers subject-specific bridging programmes in the areas of biology, chemistry, physics and mathematics. Science Foundation runs in February prior to semester A, and Gateway to Science runs during semester B. These pre-entry courses are suitable for those enrolling in degree level study in the School of Science and Engineering. Bridging Mathematics for Psychology is also offered.

Research Based Courses

A wide variety of short courses covering all areas of university endeavour is offered through the year through the Centre for Continuing Education. The University has a responsibility to share its research findings in the community and expert lecturers are engaged to present one-off seminars or mini lecture series. These presentations inform and reflect on the latest university research and discussion among the community participants is encouraged. Popular subjects include history, languages, sustainability, writing, climate change, Māori culture, health and educational issues, and travel.

General English

General English programmes offer an exciting opportunity for people from around the world to learn everyday English in an English-speaking environment, integrating aspects of New Zealand culture. General English programmes from elementary to advanced levels are offered in both Hamilton and Tauranga. Students at intermediate level and above can choose special afternoon study options including: Listening, Speaking and Pronunciation; Reading, Writing and Grammar; Business English; News and Current Affairs. General English is a full-time programme of 23 hours per week or part-time for 15 hours per week. Students can start any Monday (except New Zealand public Holidays).

International Study Groups

Study programmes are customised for visiting international groups and combine English with almost any other activity or specialist area. Programmes run for a minimum of two weeks and with a minimum of 10 students (students must be 16 years or older). Groups and Study Tour programmes are held in both Hamilton and Tauranga and include the following: English plus Specialised Training (based on any of the degree programmes at the University of Waikato); English and New Zealand Life and Culture (offering a choice of activities such as weekend trips to Rotorua, Waitomo Caves, snow skiing, horse riding, jet boating, kayaking, hot pools, farm visits, black water rafting, indoor rock climbing); English with a University Focus (experience of life at the University of Waikato Hamilton or Tauranga campuses and including meeting students and staff, and attending university lectures); English and International Business Focus (lectures on international business at the Waikato Management School, for students with at least an upper intermediate level of English).

Student Learning

Student Learning is actively involved in the fulfillment of the University's commitment to successful higher education.

Learning Support tutors help students develop and improve their academic literacy competence. This support is provided through one-on-one appointments, focused workshops, or online self-access materials. Tutors can assist students to interpret assignment requirements, develop tertiary-level writing skills, improve academic reading skills, or prepare for examinations, for example.

The English Language Resource Centre (ELRC) provides students with a range of English language learning materials and has a lending library of self-study books and other audio-visual resources for improving English language skills. Materials include graded readers, reference books, magazines, easy fiction, and non-fiction books DVDs, CDs and video tapes.

International English Language Testing System (IELTS) Office

The University of Waikato is the IELTS testing centre for the Waikato region. IELTS is designed to assess the language proficiency of candidates who need to study or work in English. Second language learners can sit the IELTS test at either our Hamilton or Tauranga centres.

Further information is available on the website: www.waikato.ac.nz/pathways.

Waikato International

International Student Support

The International Student Support team advises and assists international students by identifying their needs, helping them find solutions, and directing them to appropriate services on and off campus. This includes personal issues, academic support, medical and travel insurance, Student Visa and Permit requirements, orientation, accommodation, and general concerns. Orientation programmes are run for all new international students prior to beginning their studies and regular information sessions are run throughout the academic year. During office hours we have a student lounge with computer access for international students' use. International Student Advisers are available to see students and appointments can be made at Waikato International; phone +64 7 838 4439, email int.centre@waikato.ac.nz, website www.waikato.ac.nz/international.

Compulsory Medical and Travel Insurance

International students must have appropriate and current health and travel insurance while studying in New Zealand, as stated in the Code of Practice for the Pastoral Care of International Students. This must be for the full period of study in New Zealand and enrolment is dependent on proof of appropriate insurance. To simplify the process of selecting insurance, the University has selected Studentsafe-University (underwritten by New Zealand Insurance Limited) as the preferred insurance policy for all international students. The Studentsafe-University insurance premium can be added to tuition fees at the time of enrolment, resulting in international students being automatically enrolled in the Studentsafe-University insurance scheme. This premium will not be charged if evidence of an alternative compliant insurance policy is provided to the University before the specified deadline (please note there are only a small number of approved alternative compliant policies). For further information please refer to the website www.waikato.ac.nz/international.

Eligibility for Health Services

Most international students are not entitled to publicly funded health services while in New Zealand. If they receive medical treatment during their visit they may be liable for the full costs of that treatment. Full details on entitlements to publicly funded health services are available through the Ministry of Health, and can be viewed on the website www.moh.govt.nz.

The Accident Compensation Corporation (ACC) provides accident insurance for all New Zealand citizens, residents and temporary visitors to New Zealand, but they may still be liable for all other medical and related costs. Further information can be viewed on the ACC website www.acc.co.nz.

New Zealand Government Scholarships

New Zealand Development Scholarships (NZDS) and NZAID-funded Commonwealth Scholarships are awarded by the New Zealand Agency for International Development (NZAID) on behalf of the New Zealand Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade. Open to designated countries, the scholarships are for postgraduate and undergraduate (limited) study in New Zealand in areas of developmental relevance which will enable students to make a significant impact on return to their home countries. NZDS Scholarships have two categories; Public and Open. Students can only apply under one of these categories and must be resident in their home country at the time of application. The scholarships cover tuition fees, enrolment/orientation fees, return economy travel, medical insurance, and an allowance to meet course and basic living costs. Limited assistance may be available for dependants in New Zealand for courses of study 18 months or longer.

Further information on the scholarships and eligible countries can be found at www.nzaid.govt.nz or www.waikato.ac.nz/international.

New Zealand International Doctoral Research Scholarships (NZIDRS) and New Zealand International Undergraduate Fees Scholarships (NZIUFS) are funded by the New Zealand Government and administered by Education New Zealand. NZIDRS are open to all countries and entitlements include tuition fees and living allowances. NZIUFS are open to designated countries and cover tuition fees only. Scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic merit. Further information can be found on the website www.newzealandeducated.com/scholarships.

Waikato International Student Exchange

Waikato International administers the University's international student exchange programmes and is the central resource of promotional material from partner universities from around the world. Domestic and international students who are in good academic standing should be eligible to apply for an appropriate exchange after having completed the equivalent of two semesters of full-time degree-level study at the University of Waikato. Students may not go on exchange to their home country. Exchange students are expected to be positive ambassadors for the University of Waikato and New Zealand. With prior approval, study completed at the partner university can be credited towards students' University of Waikato qualifications, although this cannot always be guaranteed in advance. Further information can be obtained from Waikato International.

Strategic Alliances, International Partnerships and Agreements

The University is a forward-looking, innovative institution that welcomes strategic alliances, international partnerships, and agreements. Consideration is given to international institutions that match the University of Waikato profile in terms of reputation, academic standing, and research output.

All proposals for University to University linkages should be discussed in the first instance with the Director, International Strategy and Services.

Proposals for guaranteed credit agreements need submission of full documentation to Waikato International, which will refer them to the appropriate academic authority for approval. Partnership proposals are welcome and will be explored on a case by case basis. Memorandums of Understanding should also be submitted as proposals to Waikato International, which will refer them to the appropriate authority.

Overseas visitors are welcome. Prospective visitors should contact Waikato International with full background information about their proposed visit. Waikato International will assist in arranging an itinerary which meets both the visitors' and the University of Waikato's needs.

The Research Hub

The Research Hub is the University's 'one-stop-shop' for research and development. It brings together staff from the Research Office (UNILink and Scholarships), WaikatoLink (technology development and commercialisation) and Postgraduate Studies to form a single centre for providing University research and commercial services to business and the community. The Hub is located on the Ground Floor, B Block, Gate 5, Hillcrest Road, Hamilton.

UNILink

University research contracts are administered by UNILink to ensure that contract terms, objectives, intellectual property (IP), progress reporting, budget and financial matters are professionally managed to protect the interests of the University and its staff. UNILink is also the official interface between staff and external agencies such as the government, commercial and other organisations which seek to contract the University to supply research services. UNILink also services the Research Committee, Human Research Ethics Committee, and the Animal Ethics Committee.

For more information, visit the UNILink website: www.waikato.ac.nz/research/unilink.

Scholarships

Scholarships are responsible for all administration associated with scholarships and prizes awarded by the University and outside sponsors. These include University of Waikato Scholarships, and New Zealand Vice-Chancellors' Committee Scholarships. Students interested in applying for scholarships are encouraged to consult the Scholarships website at www.waikato.ac.nz/scholarships and to subscribe to the monthly electronic scholarships newsletter by e-mailing a request to that effect to scholarships@waikato.ac.nz.

The following is a list of scholarships, awards and prizes that are administered in part or fully by the University of Waikato.

WaikatoLink

WaikatoLink Limited is the commercialisation and technology transfer office of the University of Waikato. It is responsible for protecting, managing and commercialising intellectual property generated by the University. Intellectual property can take many forms, including software, hardware, designs, processes or know-how.

All academics should be aware that their research may have commercial applications, whether this is undertaken with industry partners or research collaborators, or by the University alone. The potential to realise these may be lost if these outcomes are not evaluated for market relevance and commercial potential prior to them being made public. Publication of research can take many forms, including journal articles, presentations, media releases, workshops, conference abstracts, and discussions with other people who are not directly involved in the research. WaikatoLink can advise academics on the potential value of their research outcomes and protect these so that results may be published while retaining their potential commercial relevance and value.

Academics and their Schools stand to benefit considerably through commercialisation of their research outcomes, including direct financial benefits, further research and development funding, recognition and linkages with industry, and the satisfaction of seeing research outcomes used in 'the real world'. Notifying WaikatoLink of research plans and outcomes and protecting these appropriately is key to realising these benefits.

WaikatoLink evaluates research outcomes and concepts disclosed by academics for market potential and, if there is good market potential, determines the most appropriate path to market and drives this commercialisation process. External funding may be required to develop a technology to a commercial form. This may be provided by WaikatoLink or WaikatoLink may seek external funding from partners or investors, including venture capitalists. Commercialisation of intellectual property generated by research can take many forms. Rights to use the intellectual property can be granted to other parties, as a licence or an outright sale, joint ventures with industry partners with complementary strengths may be established, or new companies may be established to take products or services to the market.

University of Waikato technologies successfully commercialised to date include enzyme-based biotechnology products, machine learning software applied to laboratory sample analysis, wireless network technologies and honey-based wound care products.

WaikatoLink is located in the Core Facilities Building on Level One of the Waikato Innovation Park, on Ruakura Road.

For more information, visit the WaikatoLink website: www.waikatolink.ac.nz, phone (07) 858-5172, or fax (07) 857-0781.

Waikato Students' Union

The Waikato Students' Union (WSU) is an incorporated society and a member of the New Zealand Union of Students' Associations (NZUSA). It is governed by an elected board, who take care of the day-to-day business of representing its members' interests to the University and the wider community and promoting educational, social, cultural, and sporting life on campus.

Academic Representation and Support

The WSU represents its members' academic interests by working with the University on such key committees as the University Council, Finance Committee and the Academic Board. At a national level, students' interests are represented by NZUSA, which is concerned with Student Job Search, government policy on user-pays education, the student loan scheme, and other issues affecting members. The WSU is also a member of the national sporting body University Sports New Zealand.

The WSU provides various scholarships like the WSU Scholarship for cultural contribution, the John Houston Memorial Scholarship for academic/cultural contribution, and the WSU sole parent/caregiver awards. The union also has a small fund to help students whose attendance at university is threatened by financial hardship.

Advocacy

The WSU has an Advocacy Service that provides professional and confidential assistance free to members. The service deals with problems ranging from academic and financial troubles to employment, tenancy and accommodation difficulties.

Other Activities and Services

The WSU represents its members' sporting, cultural, political, religious and ethnic interests by providing services for clubs and help to members wanting to set up or join a club. Affiliated clubs can apply for grants for a project or to run an event. The union publishes a weekly magazine, Nexus, and a free student diary and wall planner. It also provides other services such as a telephone for free local calls and a Ticketmaster agency which sells tickets to various concerts. Through sponsorship, the union helps students to participate in specific events including the New Zealand University Games and Blues Awards.

The WSU organises Orientation Week at the beginning of A and B semesters to welcome new students on campus. The WSU also promotes and coordinates a range of events and activities including open forums on current and contentious issues.

Through a joint venture with the University, the WSU owns a 50% stake in U Leisure, which controls the Rec Centre and Campus Pools.

The WSU is situated in the Student Union Building (SUB). Office hours are 8.30am to 4.30pm Monday to Friday.

The Waikato Chapter is involved in many projects, both academic and community service based. The chapter is regularly involved with various local environmental efforts and other volunteer activities each year. Student members annually run the Daffodil Day fundraising at the University for the Cancer Society, and endeavour to engage both University and local school students in an academic sense by holding literacy based fundraising or volunteer efforts. In 2009 the Waikato chapter was awarded the society's highest standing - a gold rating - based on the community service events and activities held in 2008.

Membership into Golden Key can greatly enhance students' academic careers, and members are well received by many Universities and organisations around the world.

Research Centres

Centre for Biodiversity and Ecology Research

The Centre for Biodiversity and Ecology Research (CBER) facilitates a coordinated, integrated approach to biodiversity and ecology research, consultancy, education and advocacy. CBER's emphasis is on New Zealand's indigenous biodiversity and natural ecosystems because the long history of evolutionary isolation has created highly distinctive and unique biota and ecosystems. CBER describes and assesses biodiversity, researches how organisms and ecosystems function, how genes, biota and ecosystems might be conserved or sustainably managed, and how to restore damaged or degraded ecosystems.

CBER hosts a Foundation for Research Science and Technology funded Outcome Based Investment (OBI) focusing on lake restoration and FRST-funded projects on urban ecological restoration and resilience of forest remnants. The lake restoration OBI focuses on harmful algal blooms and pest fish management. Our key research partners are Landcare Research, Geological and Nuclear Sciences, and Scion. Major end-users include the Department of Conservation, NZ Fish and Game, the Ministry for the Environment, Environment Bay of Plenty, and Environment Waikato.

For more information, visit the Centre for Biodiversity and Ecology Research website: cber.bio.waikato.ac.nz, and Lake Ecosystem Restoration New Zealand website: www.LERNZ.co.nz.

Centre for Māori and Pacific Development Research

The strategic goal of the Centre for Māori and Pacific Development Research (CMPDR) is to uphold the University's commitment to the Treaty of Waitangi by becoming a centre of research excellence capable of fostering and facilitating the self-determination, self-governance and development efforts of indigenous peoples in New Zealand, Australia, and Pacific Rim countries generally. Its research and development activities will be supported and extended through research scholarships, and through the provision of opportunities for emerging scholars to conduct doctoral and post-doctoral research. The Centre aims to form strategic alliances with institutions involved in relevant research activities both within New Zealand and overseas. It also aims to conduct research in collaboration with staff of these institutions, provide an advisory service, and facilitate the dissemination and publication of research and development findings. The Centre works to facilitate academic exchanges, conferences, hui, seminars and convocations. The Centre is also committed to working in the community, particularly on Waitangi claims and resource management issues. In cooperating to support and conduct research and to provide research scholarships, the Centre will build upon the University's existing reputation for excellence in research on Mātauranga Māori, Te Reo Māori, Tikanga Māori, Māori and Pacific Development, and comparative indigenous studies.

International Centre for Terrestrial Antarctic Research

The primary mission of the International Centre for Terrestrial Antarctic Research (ICTAR) is to promote the protection of Antarctica through integrated international research into Antarctic terrestrial ecosystems, assuring New Zealand's continued leadership in this area. ICTAR aims to provide the science that will underpin the conservation, protection, and management of terrestrial ecosystems of the Ross Sea region. Its innovative interdisciplinary approach will help elucidate the status of the present biodiversity, and to predict the effects of multiple impacts on ecosystems. The Centre will interact closely with end-users, in particular government agencies, to identify and protect the present biodiversity of the Ross Sea region, to confidently assist in the management of environmental impacts, such as climate change, and to be able to do this in the highest international forums. The interdisciplinary nature of the Centre draws in current and prospective research talent from both the School of Science and Engineering (Biology and Earth and Ocean Sciences) and the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences (Geography). The Centre includes primary collaborators from Gateway Antarctica and the University of Canterbury, as well as researchers from more than nine countries.

Mediarena Centre for Research

The Mediarena Centre for Research in Participatory Cultures and Creative Technologies brings together a transdisciplinary community of researchers to work on a broadly-based programme of research, aligned with international-scale issues, and concerned with the emergence, impact and futures of technologically-enabled participatory cultures, i.e. the widespread shift from cultural consumption to cultural production, triggered by 'new media'. The Mediarena Centre operates across the creative arts and creative practice-based research fields, including screen and media studies, aspects of computing, performance studies, music, dance, design, and Māori creative practices, developing a collaborative high-level research focus across that field as a whole. Particular research interests of the Centre include the creation of a more open and more democratic media and cultural space, given the increasingly low barriers to creative expression and civic engagement through 'new media' and related practices; the nature of new social connections between creator and consumer, between co-creators, between media and audience, and between arts and communities; and emerging social practices using creative technologies. The Mediarena Centre has a research and development facility in the basement of S-block.
