Biographical Notes

Masters of Business Administration

Executive

STUART BERRYMAN

I have been working in the New Zealand dairy industry all my working life. I am currently the newly appointed Site Manager for Tasman Milk Products, Takaka branch. This facility is located in the heart of the Golden Bay, and enjoys close proximity to the Abel Tasman National Park, the Heaphy Track, snow capped mountains and golden sand beaches. My family and I intend to fully appreciate our adopted surroundings, and become actively involved in tramping, golf, water sports, exploring the South Island and who knows, we may even raise a sheep or two. The MBA is an achievement which follows a career of continuous education, both in the work place and in the academic arena. It has solidified my management expertise and broadened my horizons to a higher level of general management understanding. Whilst the journey was hard, the rewards are well worthwhile.

IAN BIDDICK

Prior to achieving my MBA my qualifications were up to diploma level. The MBA has been a milestone in both my personal and business life. I'm currently employed by Hills Industries Ltd New Zealand as General Manager and look forward to bringing the skills learnt on the MBA to the job. My main interests include family, snooker and travel.

PETER BROWN

Kia Ora. After much blood, sweat and tears I am now the proud recipient of the Waikato University Executive MBA. This will complement the BA/LLB I already hold and will enhance my skills in my role as a community economic developer in the East Cape region.

BRUCE BUCHANAN

I have built upon my BMS with the 'South Korean' MBA. My project was done in New Zealand and Malaysia for Newmans International Limited. The MBA makes my future in the sunny Bay of Plenty more secure. I can now stay within the Fletcher Challenge Group or become one of Handy's contract workers.

ROBERT CARSON

I am Regional Manager for the Education and Training Support Agency. The MBA has provided an excellent managerial framework for understanding and coping with the complexities of the market place. More time now for family, friends and sport.

LESLEY DOBSON

I am a Registered Comprehensive Nurse with a Bachelor of Social Science degree. With gaining my MBA I hope to broaden my work skills. I currently work for Health Waikato in mental health.

JAMES DOHERTY

I am a Director and shareholder of Octopus Advertising and Digital Printing Company. My MBA was intended to provide insights to assist in defining the next decade of career development. It has achieved that, in addition to adding value to the knowledge base both organisations can offer their clients.

BRIAN EMERY

I am Ngati Maniapoto, Ngati Haua, Ngati Kauwhata. The MBA refreshed my current skills and added new capabilities.

JACQUELINE GRAHAM

My enduring memories of the MBA programme will be of stimulating debate and the invitation to explore new ideas. As joint CEO of Pathways, I have been fortunate enough to be able to put theory into practice and to see the benefit of the application of new concepts.

LAURIE HAKIWAI

Ngati Kahungunu Te Iwi, Taki Timu Te Waka. Presently working for Midland Health Authority, a division of the transitional Health Authority. Thank you to both family and friends for all their support.

ADRIENNE HARRIS

My background is predominantly in marketing communications within the IT sector and more recently in business consultancy. The EMBA programme provided a challenging learning curve, enlightening myself and fellow students on the intricacies of our new global environment. Now it's time to 'walk the talk' and use the knowledge.

STEVE HODGKINSON

My qualifications are NZCS, MPhil, PhD and now the MBA. I am a science group leader within the Crown Research Institute - AgResearch and have a particular interest in organising to enhance biotechnological innovation.

ALAN JUTSUM

The MBA is my first tertiary qualification. I am delighted to have focused on this goal after 30 years of work experience. My thanks are due to the New Zealand Dairy Group for their support. The MBA has been an effective intellectual stimulant and an invaluable knowledge resource (which could be useful for the next 30 years).

JOHN McRAE

My qualifications are B.Com and now EMBA. I currently work as a lecturer for the Tourism Degree in Rotorua and provide management consulting to both the tourism and health sectors. The completion of the EMBA complements my work experience and builds on my existing qualifications. Main interests include family, windsurfing, skiing and cycling.

TERRANCE McHARDY

I am currently employed as a Practice Manager for Edmonds Judd, a law firm in Te Awamutu. The MBA has complemented my practical experience, and enabled me to change careers recently. My interests include skiing, gardening, travel and outdoor pursuits.

WILLIAM McMILLAN

Having graduated with a B.Agr. Sci (Hons 1) and Ph.D, I have spent the last 15 years as an agricultural scientist. On the day I handed in my final MBA project, I commenced a secondment position as Corporate Manager, Science and Technology for AgResearch in New Zealand's largest science and technology company.

CAROLE McMINN

The MBA has consolidated 6 years of management practice as an accountant for a local motor vehicle dealership with the latest management theory. The combination has given me a more balanced view of management, an insight into new ways of looking at business and life in general. My newly rediscovered interests include gardening, singing and tramping.

DAVID MATTHEWS

Currently holding a NZCE-Civil and B.Eng-Civil (second class honours) I am now rounding off my qualifications with the MBA. My career has developed from site engineering roles through to line management. After some 9 years tertiary study, while working, I am now well prepared to develop my career to its potential.

GEOFFREY MERRYWEATHER

I did a Mechanical Engineering degree five years before my MBA. I am currently using my MBA training to start up a bathroom ventilation company. Outside of work my interests include motorcycle racing, blacksmithing and wood turning.

STEVE PIKE

I am a tourism lecturer and consultant. I celebrated the completion of the MBA with a Queenstown bungy jump and a new malibu surfboard. I am indebted to my wife Louise's support and encouragement. My main interests are my son Jesse (4) and daughter Alexandra (3).

AMOS POH

A Fellow Chartered Certified Accountant of England and a Chartered Accountant of New Zealand. Currently employed as the Chief Financial Officer of Richina Media and Entertainment Limited. My MBA complements the changing workplace and international environment of the company I worked for. My main interests include reading, skiing and travel.

JAMES REO

The Executive MBA has complemented my experience in various management roles both here and overseas. It has proven to be excellent preparation for the establishment of my Strategic Management and Information Systems consultancy in New Zealand. Prior to completing the MBA, I graduated from the Royal New Zealand Air Force's Officer Training School. I then completed a commercial pilot licence in at the Auckland Aviation Academy. Over the last ten years, I have been heavily involved in information systems management roles.

BRENDA SAYERS

Having undertaken General Management Studies at Auckland University Graduate School in 1992, I wanted to cap it off with the Waikato MBA. The qualification enhances my position as Principal Consultant with Deloitte Touche Tomatsu, where I work in organisational development and business improvement. I can now look forward to revitalising my outside interests, theatre and music, as well as having more fun times with friends and family.

GREG SCHMIDT

I undertook the Executive MBA to update and increase my knowledge of modern day business practice and theory. I have held a number of senior financial positions and am proud to be a Chartered Accountant (CA). My other qualifications include a Diploma in Business Studies, Advanced Diploma in Business Studies, as well as completing the professional examinations of the New Zealand Society of Accountants. I am an enthusiastic family man, who is passionate about most sports and I like to enjoy life.

AFFIF SHAH

My MBA is another milestone in achieving my ultimate goal - to consult in businesses in a wide variety of industries. My achievement recognises support from many individuals over the last two years. Thank you to all!

JAMES SHEARER

I am the General Manager for an Auckland City Hotel. Gaining the MBA has been a personal challenge, being my first university qualification. The MBA enhances my existing business skills, enabling me to take on a more strategic role in the hospitality industry. My main interests are family, squash, running and skiing.

CHRISTINE STIFTER

The MBA follows my other qualifications: LTCL and TTC. I am a Co-Director/Owner of the family business and the MBA was undertaken to strengthen and complement my management skills base. My interests include tennis, jogging and family pursuits.

PAUL UTTING

My background is B.Eng, Registered Engineer. I have a management role for Manukau City Council in providing water and drainage services. My MBA provides an essential toolbox as this business becomes more commercial. Pre MBA interests included family, renovating and sailing.

JOHN WHITTA

My qualifications are AIINZ (Associate of the Insurance Institute of New Zealand) and now the MBA. I am employed by National Insurance and wear two hats, Manager Customer Service for the organisation and Manager Regional Office Takapuna. My MBA is a personal milestone and complements my practical managerial experience. My interests include my family, sport, loud music and philately.

RAEWYN WILSON

I have close to twenty years experience in real estate sales as an A.R.E.I.N.Z., owning and managing R. Wilson and Associates Ltd - a member of the Professionals Group in Howick, Auckland. The MBA presented many new opportunities to lead the company through changes affecting all agency style operations. I am intensely interested in leadership issues and my family.

International
