

Library Search

OVERVIEW

- Library Search enables users to search the Library's online and print resources through a single search box

ACCESSING LIBRARY SEARCH

- Go to the Library homepage www.waikato.ac.nz/library
- Type the title of the book, title of the journal article or subject keywords in the search box. Hit enter or click the magnifying glass icon

TIPS FOR SEARCHING KNOWN ITEMS

- If you know the title of a book or journal article, type it in the search box of Library Search. It will search our print and online resources. Punctuation and capital letters are not necessary. Hit enter or click
- If a known online journal article title does not appear, search by journal title using the Ejournals tab

TIPS FOR SEARCHING A TOPIC USING KEYWORDS & SUBJECT TERMS

- Type keywords in the search box e.g. professional practice teaching. Hit enter or click
- A results list will display. Refine your results by choosing filters on the right. Filters limit the results by Resource Type, Subject, Author, Publication Date or Library Location etc.
- Retain individual filters within a session by clicking a term or type. It will display under the active filters heading. Hover the cursor over the term then click the . Remove by clicking the cross
- Click show more... to expand the list of terms. Select multiple filters by clicking the term's corresponding box, then the Apply filters tab
- Exclude terms by hovering the cursor over the term, then clicking the red square
- Use subject headings found in the full record for alternative search terms

GENERAL TIPS

- Sign in to get complete results and to request items
- If an item's brief record says available at, it is a physical copy
- If an item's brief record says online access or full text available, it is an electronic or digital copy. You can click the online access or full text available links to access the item
- Click the title of the item to see its full record. This displays its bibliographic details, a description of its contents, holdings information and its availability status
- A physical copy will say Get it in its full record. Use its call number or click the Map button to locate the item on the shelves. If it is issued out or in storage, click the 'Request' link  next to Request Options and fill out your details
- Use the virtual browse function to find physical items on the same subject as your original item

- The Library subscribes to databases that give online access to journal articles
- An electronic article will say View it in its full record. To access the full text of the article click the database name. Often a list of databases displays. Check the date and availability information carefully to help you select the appropriate database. Once you are in the database, click the PDF link to read, print, or save the article
- You may be taken directly to the journal. Dig down via the year, volume and issue to the table of contents. Locate the article title, then click the PDF link to read, print, or save
- If you have trouble accessing an article via the steps above, take note of the journal title and search using the Ejournals tab. Another option is to search specific databases via the database tab on the library homepage
- To reference an item, click the citation button and choose the relevant referencing style. Machine generated citations often miss elements required for referencing. Always check citations carefully and refer to referencing guides available on the Library website
- To email a link and bibliographic details of an item, click the email button, type an email address then click send. You can copy and paste the item's citation into the notes field
- Click Chat in the black bar to chat with a Librarian via instant messaging during office hours
- Search for High Demand items using your paper's course code e.g. type ACCT301 in the search box. Hit enter or click  A list of items held in the high demand room will display. This list will show only when the semester starts
- To access My Account, sign in and click on your name. To access loan history, select Loans, click the drop down arrow and then previous and historic loans
- Check out the Library Search Tips page for further help

KEEPING TRACK OF SEARCHES

- Save individual items to My Favorites by clicking the pin symbol next to the title
- After you have finished searching, click the pin symbol at the top of the page to access your My Favorites folder. Saved items can be sorted by author, date or title
- There is the option to assign a label to selected saved items. Click the numbered box next to a title, then the pen icon. Click the 3 ellipses (...) to view different actions available to you e.g. importing items to a referencing software, print or email. Click the 3 ellipses to make the action tab disappear
- Keep track of search terms by clicking Save query under the search box. Terms will save in My Favorites under Saved searches
- You can view the search history of a session by clicking  located at the top of the page. This history disappears when you close that session unless you click the pin symbol to save
- Click the  in the black bar at the top of the page to return to your search

ADVANCED SEARCH TIPS

- Search using Any field or choose a specific field by clicking the down arrow i.e. title, author, subject
- Click the arrow next to contains for options such as is (exact) or start with
- Select Material type, Language and Publication Date where necessary
- Find information on a topic within a specific journal by selecting title under Any field, is (exact) under contains, and typing the journal's title. On a new line, add keywords relating to a topic
- Click Search