Paulo Freire: The Global Legacy

Eds. Michael A. Peters and Tina Besley

Foreword
The Understanding of Paulo Freire’s Education: Ethics, Hope, and Human Rights
Nita Freire

Introduction to Paulo Freire—The Global Legacy
Michael A. Peters and Tina Besley

SECTION 1: THEORETICAL PERSPECTIVES—RECLAIMING THE LEGACY

Chapter 1
Reflections on Paulo Freire, Critical Pedagogy and the Current Crisis of Capitalism
Peter McLaren

Chapter 2
Paulo Freire and the Continuing Struggle to Decolonize Education
Antonia Darder

Chapter 3
Equity as Critical Praxis: The Self-Development of Te Whare Wānanga o Awanuiārangi
Graham Hingangaroa Smith

Chapter 4
Paulo Freire and the Idea of Openness
Peter Roberts

Chapter 5
Freeing Ourselves: An Indigenous Response to Neo-colonial Dominance in Research, Classrooms, Schools and Education Systems
Russell Bishop

Chapter 6
Humanization in Decolonizing Educational Research: A Tree of Life Metaphor
Renee Baynes

Chapter 7
Warfare as Pedagogy: Shaping Curriculum From the Margins; A Freirean Counter-Narrative of War
Eric D. Torres

Chapter 8
Paulo Freire’s Prophetic Voice at the Intersection of Liberation Pedagogy and Liberation Theology
Debora B. A. Junker

Chapter 9
Social Emancipation and Human Rights
Mauro Torres Siqueria

SECTION 2: READING THE WORLD

Chapter 10
The Popular Education Network of Australia (PENA) and Twenty-First-Century Critical Education
Tracey Ollis, Jo Williams, Rob Townsend, Anne Harris, Jorge Jorquera, and Lea Campbell

Chapter 11
Freire’s Legacy for Communities Seeking Change in Sub-Saharan Africa
Tim Budge

Chapter 12
Autoethnography in a Kabyle Landscape
Si Belkacem Taieb

Chapter 13
Travellers in Time: A Critical Dialogue With the Gypsy Travellers of Lancashire
Alethea Melling and Yasmeen Ali

Chapter 14
How the MST’s Educational Principles in Brazil Respond to Global Capitalism, Neoliberalism, and “Reactionary Postmodernity”
Júlio Emílio Diniz-Pereira

Chapter 15
Enough Is Enough—(de)Constructing Measurement Through Exposing Aspects of the Australian Curriculum in Mathematics as a White-Centric Epistemic Location
Glen Parkes

Chapter 16
Shattering Silence in Kinshasa—Reading the World With Freire Under the Mango Tree
Holger Nord

Chapter 17
Re-claiming Traditional Māori Ways of Knowing, Being and Doing, to Re-frame Our Realities and Transform Our Worlds
Lesley Rameka and Kura Paul-Burke

Chapter 18
Pakistan in Praxis: The Development of a Peer Education Programme as a Tool Kit in Developing Young People for Critical Consciousness
Alethea Melling and Wajid Khan

Chapter 19
The Changing Life Patterns of the Veddas of Sri Lanka: Translocation From a Forest Environment to an Agricultural Settlement
Asoka Jayasena and Susila Kumari Embekke

Chapter 20
On the Streets With Paulo Freire and Simone Weil, Talking With Gamilaraay Students About Hélio Oiticica
Charlotte Sexton

Chapter 21
Teaching English for Academic Purposes in a Japanese Setting: Problematizing and Dialogizing Essentialist Constructions of Language Pedagogy, Culture and identity
Glenn Toh

Chapter 22
The Customer Knows Best: The Opposite of the Banking Concept in the Case of the United Arab Emirates
Liz Jackson

Chapter 23
Freire, Sublative Hope and Early Childhood Education in Aotearoa New Zealand
Bradley Hannigan

SECTION 3: EDUCATION AS THE PRACTICE OF FREEDOM

Chapter 24
A Freirean Approach to Internationalization in Higher Education Within the Context of Globalization
Rosetta Khalideen

Chapter 25
A Dialogue About Dialogue: Freire and Bakhtin Talk Pedagogy in Response to Percy’s ‘Problem’
Leon Benade and Jayne White

Chapter 26
Voices of Resistance: Positioning Steiner Education as a Living Expression of Freire’s Pedagogy of Freedom
Althea Lambert

Chapter 27
Bilingual Education, Culture, and the Challenge of Developing Freirean Dispositions in Teacher Education
Jacob Neumann

Chapter 28
A Contribution to Perspectives on Educational Partnerships for Social Justice
Jo Williams

Chapter 29
Working for the World
M. J. Stuart

Chapter 30
Education as an Aesthetic Exercise in Everyday School Performances
Muriel Yuen-fun Law

Chapter 31
Decolonizing Ways of Knowing: Communion, Conversion and Conscientization
Jon Austin

Chapter 32
Music Education as a ‘Practice of Freedom’
Linda M. Locke

Chapter 33
Activism, Reflection and Paulo Freire—an Embodied Pedagogy
Tracey Ollis

Chapter 34
Entwining Three Threads: Working Within and Through a Culturally Responsive Pedagogy of Relations
Iti Joyce and Dawn Lawrence

Chapter 35
Freire’s Theory as a Reference to the Teaching Practice in Adult Education
Veronica Branco and Sonia Maria Chaves Haracemiv

Chapter 36
Freire and Skinner: Is There Space for a Dialogue on Education?
Denise Bachega and João dos Santos Carmo
Chapter 37
Appropriate/Critical Educational Technology Within Freire's Framework for a Social Inclusion
Beatriz Lidia Fainholc