

Te Piringa - Faculty of Law

Degree Structure

Bachelor of Laws/Bachelor of Social Sciences (BSocSc/LLB) single major 6 Years 650 Points

Year 1	Legal Method LAWS103	Legal Systems & Societies LAWS106	Constitutional Law LAWS107	100 Level Social Science Supporting Subject	100 Level Social Science Methodology	100 Level Social Science	100 Level Social Science	Compulsory Law Papers
Year 2	Jurisprudence LAWS203	Contracts LAWS204	Administrative Law LAWS206	Torts LAWS207	100 Level Social Science Supporting Subject	100 Level Social Science		Elective Law Papers
Year 3	Crimes LAWS301	Corporate Entities LAWS305 OR Commercial Transactions LAWS426	Dispute Resolution LAWS306	Land Law LAWS307	Equity & Succession LAWS308	200 Level Social Science Supporting Subject		Bachelor of Social Science Major
Year 4	400 Level Paper	400 Level Paper	400 Level Paper	400 Level Paper	200 Level Social Science Supporting Subject	200 Level Social Science Methodology		Bachelor of Social Science Papers
Year 5	400 Level Paper	400 Level Paper	400 Level Paper	200 Level Social Science Major	200 Level Social Science Major	200 Level Social Science Major
Year 6	300 Level Social Science Major	300 Level Social Science Major	300 Level Social Science Major

The BSocSc/LLB with a single major requires 650 points to complete. This template is intended as a model only. The order in which papers are taken can be adapted to suit students' individual requirements.

Every Social Sciences programme of study must include at least two methodology papers from a schedule approved by the Dean of the Faculty of Arts & Social Sciences.

Students who wish to enroll in both LAWS305 and LAWS426 may count LAWS426 as one of the optional law 4 papers.

To satisfy Council of Legal Education requirements, students wishing to proceed to the Institute of Professional Legal Studies Programme and admission as a Barrister and Solicitor, must complete a level 4 paper in Legal Ethics (10 points).

Students must enroll in at least one paper for each of the component degrees each year, unless the requirements of one component degree have already been completed.

This degree planner is indicative only. Your programme will be approved by Te Piringa - Faculty of law.

You must obtain approval for your Arts programme from the Faculty of Arts & Social Sciences.