BACKGROUND

The HEBUST programme is a collaborative project in transnational education between the University of Waikato and the Hebei University of Science and Technology, China. The programme offers courses from the Faculty of Science and Engineering as part of the Materials and Process Management Engineering Degree offered at HEBUST. The University of Waikato provides the course material and academic staff to deliver the programme.

The programme has attracted between 60 and 70 students each year since it commenced in 2016. While the students are taught by UoW staff and to UoW course outlines, the students graduate with a HEBUST degree. At the end of the third year students who have attained the required English score and passed all of the courses can transfer to Waikato with 180 credit points. Students will be enrolled in the BSc offered by the Faculty of Science and Engineering. On successful completion of the BSc, students will be eligible for the award of both the UoW and HEBUST degree. It is funded by the Faculty of Science and Engineering.
