The Sir Paul Callaghan Eureka! Awards
Closing date: 30 June 2020
Level: Secondary School / Undergraduate
The Sir Paul Callaghan Eureka! Awards competition challenges secondary school and tertiary undergrads to deliver a 12-minute presentation about how an application of science or technology will benefit New Zealand’s economic, environmental and social wealth and well-being.
To deliver a successful Eureka! presentation contestants will demonstrate:
1. Knowledge of an area of science, technology, engineering or mathematics
2. How their area of knowledge and interest can be (or is being) applied to enable tangible benefit to New Zealand’s economic, environmental and social wealth and well-being, so helping deliver on Sir Paul Callaghan’s ambition for New Zealand
3. The presence and capability to communicate clearly, succinctly and persuasively to a general audience comprising people from business and the political arenas as well as the wider public.
The entry process into the Sir Paul Callaghan Eureka! Awards is split into two forms. In the first form, due at the end of June, you will submit your contact information and in the second form, due one week after the first form closes, you will submit your presentation name and your choice of scholarship. The reason for splitting up entry into contact and presentation information is that you can sign up early and we can remind you when deadlines are coming up but when you first register you may not know what you are going to do your presentation on. Entry into the Sir Paul Callaghan Eureka! Awards is open to all secondary school and undergraduate tertiary students, younger than 25.

The Banking and Financial Services Law Association (BFSLA) Research Essay Competition

Closing date: 31 July 2020
Level: Undergraduate / Graduate / Postgraduate

The Banking and Financial Services Law Association is the leading professional organisation for banking and financial services law in Australia and New Zealand. The BFSLA’s objects include the pursuit and dissemination of knowledge of banking and financial services law and practice in Australia and New Zealand, including by encouraging research.

To that end, each year the BFSLA invites citizens and permanent residents of Australia and New Zealand to submit research essays on important matters in banking and financial services law and/or practice (including insolvency) that are currently topical in Australia or New Zealand, in competition for a prize pool. The value of the Prize is A$5,000. Entries must be submitted by 5pm (Australian Eastern Standard Time) on Friday, 31 July 2020. The winner or winners, if any, will be announced by publication on the Association’s website on Friday, 4 September 2020.

To be eligible, entries need to display a high degree of legal scholarship and original thinking, and to be of a standard, as regards both content and presentation, that is suitable for publication in a refereed law journal.

Essays which (or a substantial part of which) have previously been submitted for assessment as part of tertiary studies are welcome, but we will require certain information and authority to check that the author of both works is the same person.

For a full list of conditions, more information about the prize and an explanation of how to enter, go to the Association’s website, www.bfsla.org.

For any further information, email Julia Clancy at 2020researchprize@bfsla.org

The Centenary History Project of New Zealand and the First World War Postgraduate Research Scholarships

Closing date: 31 July 2020
Level: Postgraduate

The Centenary History Project (CHP) of New Zealand and the First World War is a partnership between Massey University, the New Zealand Defence Force and the Ministry for Culture and Heritage. It aims to produce definitive histories of New Zealand experiences during one of the deadliest conflicts in world history. Massey University hosts the CHP and is responsible, through the Centenary History Project Governance Group (CHPGG), for administering the associated funding. A guiding principle of the CHP is that royalties earned from the published volumes, in addition to funds raised that were surplus to publishing the volumes, should be used to promote further historical research into New Zealand and the First World War. The CHPGG determined that this would be done through the provision of scholarships designed to support postgraduate research and study undertaken by students at any New Zealand university. The scholarships aim to promote the study of New Zealand history, with particular reference to the history of New Zealand’s involvement in and experiences of the First World War.

HEERF Scholarships

Application date: Accepts applications year-round – applications generally considered March/April

Levels: Postgraduate

HEERF makes available annually a series of postgraduate research scholarships open to NZ citizens and NZ permanent residence holders. The scholarships are typically linked to heavy engineering industry related research proposals administered by HERA, however scholarship applicants are also able to submit their own research project proposal.

All scholarship research proposals intended for funding through HEERF are required to go through the HERA Research Panel system for evaluation and prior approval before being submitted through the HERA Director to the HEERF Trustees. For further information, visit the website http://www.hera.org.nz/MainMenu.

LEARN Fellowships

No set closing date:

The Livestock Emissions & Abatement Research Network (LEARN) is an international research network focused upon improving the understanding of greenhouse gas emissions from livestock agriculture. The Ministry of Agriculture and Forestry offers up to nine New Zealand LEARN Fellowships per annum for scientists or technicians from developing countries to work in New Zealand in the area of Livestock Emissions Research. The objectives of the network are to improve the quantification of non-CO\textsubscript{2} greenhouse gas emissions from animal agriculture at all scales, and to facilitate the development of cost effective and practical greenhouse gas mitigation solutions.

There are two separate categories available. These are LEARN Work Trainee Awards (tenure up to six months) and LEARN Postdoctoral Fellowships (tenure up to twelve months). There is no set application close date for the Fellowships, instead they are dealt with on a case by case basis by MAF's advisory panel. It is expected that the majority of applications/nominations will be from/or individuals who have already established links with researchers at the NZ host institution/organisation. All candidates must be registered members of the LEARN Network, and may register at www.livestockemissions.net. The terms and conditions and application form can be downloaded from the Education New Zealand (ENZ) website www.newzealandeducated.com/scholarships.
