Onion Industry Postgraduate Scholarship
Applications open 1 November: Closing date: 15 December 2019
Level: Postgraduate
The New Zealand onion industry wishes to invest in its future by encouraging postgraduate research of relevance to onions. As a levy funded organisation, one of Onions NZ key focuses is research that will aid the whole industry in its pursuit of effective and efficient growing practices. As such, every year, Onions NZ awards scholarships to a select few post graduate students completing research in a field of relevance to the onion industry. The topics listed below are some key research areas which Onions NZ would consider relevant and may be eligible for Onions New Zealand post-graduate scholarship funding. Research topics of interest include:

- Solutions for improving onion growing:
  - pest and disease control,
  - onion disease diagnostics including molecular tools and new approaches,
  - improving crop quality,
  - yield improvements,
  - nutrition,
  - breeding

- Alternative approaches to agrichemicals and applications within onion production

- Consumer insights (NZ and international) and onion attributes (i.e food safety, quality, price, nutrition)

- Industry environmental analysis or solutions
  - Carbon profile or modelling
  - Nitrogen profiling, leeching or efficacy.

- Solutions for waste steams

The scholarship is available to students of any New Zealand university or students registered in other recognised New Zealand tertiary institutions who are enrolled for a postgraduate degree. The monetary value and number of scholarships awarded will be at the discretion of Onions NZ Board, but at least one award of between $5,000 and $10,000 will usually be awarded each year. The scholarships will be awarded for one year but with the possibility of renewal or extension.
