

Google Scholar

OVERVIEW

- Google Scholar searches a number of academic publications from all areas of research
- It supplements University of Waikato Library print and electronic resources
- Save items to 'My Library' and use 'Alerts' to be notified of new items matching your search
- Set up Scholar to link to full-text items from University of Waikato databases (see below):

TO SET UP GOOGLE SCHOLAR - FROM YOUR HOME COMPUTER

- Go to scholar.google.co.nz/

- Click the Menu button

- Click Settings
- Click on Library Links
- Type Waikato and click Search
- Tick University of Waikato – Find@WaikatoLibrary
- Click Save

USING THE STANDARD SEARCH SCREEN

- Use the standard search screen if the details of an item are known e.g. author or title author: Carr or An economic evaluation of community water fluoridation

USING ADVANCED SEARCH

- Use Advanced Search to find information on a specific topic
- Click the Menu button
- Click to open Advanced Search

- Enter the search terms in the appropriate field(s)
- Focus the search using Author, Publication or Date field(s)
- Click the Search icon

TIPS FOR USING GOOGLE SCHOLAR

- Enter important terms first as the order of the words influences the results
- The option with all of the words finds material containing all of the words entered except for common words such as how, is, the, where etc. To ensure that common words are searched include the + operator before the word, e.g. +de Goldi

LOCATING AND VIEWING AN ARTICLE

- Books, citations and journal articles are returned in the search
- The link to a book will provide a limited preview
- Journal articles will be in pdf or html form from a journals database that the University of Waikato Library subscribes to
- Click the title of the journal article for the full-text or abstract. If the University of Waikato Library subscribes to the journal for the required time period you should have immediate access to the article
- If there is no full-text click on the Find@WaikatoLibrary link (if there is one) or the database link which will bring up the abstract and the html or pdf of the article
- Download the article if you wish to email it to yourself
