The Flower Agribusiness Conference Participation Award was established in 2018 in memory of Bill and Joan Flower who had a long-standing connection with the University, particularly in the area of agribusiness. The Award aims to encourage future generations of agribusiness students to advance their studies and engagement with the community. The Award rewards students who have a paper accepted at a recognised agribusiness conference and supports some costs involved in attending the conference. The Awards are supported by funds held in the Foundation and will be offered twice a year starting in 2019 until the funds are depleted.
