SECTION B: TERMINATION OF EMPLOYMENT

B.1 Notice of termination will be one week by either party or one week's wages paid or forfeited as the case may be, but the period may be reduced by mutual agreement. This will not prevent the employer from summarily dismissing an employee for misconduct.

B.2 Abandonment of Employment

Where an employee is absent from work for more than three working days without notification to the employer, service will be deemed to have been terminated without notice provided that it is the duty of the employer to make all reasonable efforts to contact the employee during this period, and provided further that where an employee is unable through no fault of their own to notify the employer, they will not be deemed to have abandoned employment.

B.3 Redundancy

The period of notice for a fixed-term employee will be no greater than the unexpired portion of the term.
- B.3.2 The employer will, where possible, assist in placing the employee in a position in the University similar to the position lost and will consult and explore options with the employee affected.

Payments will be equivalent to six weeks taxable salary for service up to two years, and one weeks taxable salary for each subsequent six months of service or part thereof, with a maximum of 40 weeks. Any payment to a fixed-term employee under this clause will be no greater than the salary that would be due over the unexpired portion of the term.

F.1.1 University Holidays

Five days each year are prescribed as University holidays and paid at ordinary rates. The days are normally the Tuesday after Easter Monday, the last day on which the University is open before Christmas Day and the first three days after Boxing Day which are not a Saturday, Sunday or public holiday. A University Holiday that occurs during an employee's annual holidays will be treated as a University Holiday and not part of the employee's annual holidays.

F.1.2 Public Holidays

F.1.2.1 The following days will be observed as public holidays and paid at the relevant daily pay rate in accordance with the provisions of the Holidays Act 2003 and subsequent amendments:

Christmas Day, Boxing Day, New Year's Day, 2 January, Waitangi Day, Good Friday, Easter Monday, Anzac Day, the Birthday of the reigning Sovereign, Matariki Labour Day, and Anniversary Day.

F.1.2.2 Where an employee is required to work on the day a public holiday is observed, they will be paid at T0.5 for the hours worked in addition to the relevant daily pay rate. If the public holiday concerned falls on a day that would otherwise be a working day for the employee they will additionally receive a day off in lieu of an ordinary working day. Alternative holidays will be granted in accordance with the provisions of the Holidays Act 2003.

F.1.2.3 If any of Christmas Day, Boxing Day, New Year's Day or 2 January falls on a Saturday or Sunday that would not otherwise be a working day for an employee, the holiday will be treated as falling on the following Monday or Tuesday respectively.

F.1.2.4 Relevant daily pay will be calculated in accordance with the provisions of the Holidays Act 2003.

F.2 Annual Holidays

F.2.1 Annual holidays of four weeks will be allowed after the completion of 12 months' service in accordance with the Holidays Act 2003.

F.2.2 The employer expects all leave to be taken within 12 months of the date on which the entitlement falls due.

F.3 Long Service Leave

F.3.1 on completion of 10 years' continuous University service, a special holiday of two weeks and on completion of 20 years' continuous University service a further two weeks special holiday or;

F.3.2 on completion of 20 years' continuous University service, a special holiday of four weeks. The leave must be taken within five years of the 20 years entitlement becoming due or be forfeited. This is a once only entitlement.

F.4 Sick Leave

F.4.1 Employees are entitled to sick leave on pay as set out below:
up to six months service 4 days
six months to 18 months service 10 days per annum
Leave not taken may be accumulated up to a maximum of 160 days.

F.4.3 The employee will make every reasonable endeavour to ensure notice is given to the employer on the first day of absence due to illness.

F.4.4 The employer also has the right to require the employee to produce additionally a medical certificate at the employer's expense from a doctor nominated by the employer.

F.4.5 The above entitlement is inclusive of the provisions of the Holidays Act 2003.

F.4.6 At the discretion of the employer additional sick leave, paid or unpaid, may be approved in exceptional circumstances.

F.5 Bereavement/Tangihanga Leave

F.5.1 An employee will be granted special bereavement leave on full pay to discharge their obligation and/or to pay their respects to a deceased person with whom they have had a close association. Such obligations may exist because of blood or family ties or because of particular cultural requirements such as attendance at all or part of a Tangihanga (or its equivalent).

F.5.2 Bereavement leave will be granted for reasons specified in the Holidays Act 2003 and its amendments.

F.5.3 In granting time off therefore, and for how long, the employer will administer these provisions in a culturally sensitive manner taking into account:

- (a) The closeness of the association between the employee and the deceased, which association need not be a blood relationship;
- (b) Whether the employee has to take significant responsibility for any or all of the arrangements to do with the ceremonies resulting from the death;
- (c) The amount of time needed to discharge properly any responsibilities or obligations;
- (d) Reasonable travelling time should be allowed, but for cases involving overseas travel that may not be the full period of travel;
- (e) The minimum periods of bereavement leave specified in the Holidays Act 2003.

F.5.4 A decision must be made as quickly as possible so that the employee is given the maximum time possible to make any necessary arrangements. In most cases the necessary approval will be given immediately, but may be given retrospectively where necessary.

F.5.5 If paid special bereavement leave is not appropriate, then annual leave or leave without pay should be granted, but as a last resort.

F.5.6 If a bereavement occurs while an employee is absent on annual leave, sick leave on pay, long service leave (except when this is taken after relinquishment of office) or other special leave on pay, such leave may be interrupted and bereavement leave granted in terms of the preceding clauses. This provision will not apply if the employee is on leave without pay.

F.6 Parental Leave

F.6.1 Parental leave will be granted in accordance with the Parental Leave and Employment Protection Act 1987 and its amendments.

F.6.2 If the employee is entitled to 52 weeks primary carer/extended leave under the terms of the Act, the following supplementary provisions will also apply:

F.6.2.1 either: subject to returning to work on the agreed date, an ex-gratia payment equivalent to six weeks salary at the rate applying at the time of the commencement of the leave (excluding any period when a woman has worked less than normal hours for a short period only for reasons related to her pregnancy). If the employee is absent on parental leave for less than six weeks they will receive that proportion of the payment that their absence represents. Payment will be made six weeks after the employee returns to duty provided they have not given notice to resign during that six week period.

or: six weeks paid leave to commence at the beginning of the period of parental leave. The employee will be required to agree in writing to repay any payments made under this provision if the employee resigns before or does not return to work on an agreed date.

F.6.2.2 In addition, if the employee is entitled to the ex gratia payment or paid leave provisions set out in 6.2.1 above and has been granted leave for a period greater than six weeks they will also receive an ex gratia payment or paid leave equivalent to the difference between the employee's salary at the time of ceasing duty and the amount received by the employee under the government-funded paid parental leave provisions of the Act for a further period of three weeks or the remainder of the leave, whichever is the lesser. The further ex gratia payment will be made six weeks after the employee returns to duty provided the employee has not given notice to resign during that six week period.

F.6.3 Applications for the provisions set out in 6.2.1 and 6.2.2 above must be submitted on the University's Parental Leave Application Form at least three months in advance of the scheduled date of delivery in the case of a birth or at least 14 days in advance in the case of adoption/care for life/whangai.

F.6.4 An employee on parental leave is required to give at least 21 days' written notice of their intention to return to work on the scheduled date.

F.7 Retirement and Retirement Leave

F.7.1 Employees must give one months notice in writing of their wish to retire.

F.7.2 Each case will be considered on its individual merits and will take into account any future employment plans the employee may have.

F.7.3 Where retirement is approved in terms of clause F.7.2 employees who have 10 years or more University service are eligible for a retirement allowance calculated in accordance with the following scale:

40 or more years service	131 days salary
20 or more years service	91 days salary plus one days salary for every two months service in excess of 25 years
10 or more years service	31 days salary plus one days salary for every two months service in excess of 10 years.

F.7.4 If the employee wishes, the retirement allowance may be converted to retirement leave. Retirement leave does not count as service; service for retirement leave purposes is calculated up to and including the last day of work plus any annual and/or long service leave due.

F.7.5 The employer will notify an employee who has retired during the preceding 12 months of any salary increase that is backdated to any period of annual or long service leave taken after cessation of duties, provided the employee has left a contact address with the employer, and will pay the increase on written application from the employee.

F.8 Jury Service

Where an employee is called for jury service, the employer will, upon production of a statement or payment for such service, make up the difference of loss of wages, provided that the employee returns to work immediately on any day when not actually serving on a jury.

F.9 Special Leave

At the discretion of the employer special leave, paid or unpaid, may be approved for any purpose including on compassionate grounds or in respect of cultural obligations.

F.10 Domestic Violence Leave

F.10.1 An employee affected by domestic violence will be granted up to 10 days paid domestic violence leave per year for the purpose of assisting the employee to deal with the effects on them of the domestic violence. This leave is in addition to other leave entitlements contained in this agreement and can be taken as consecutive, single or fractional days. Domestic violence leave does not require prior approval but the employee's manager must be notified of the absence as soon as possible.

To support the employee the employer will support the employee with any reasonable requests to ensure safety and avoidance of harassment.

The above provisions are inclusive of any entitlement under the Domestic Violence – Victims' Protection Act 2018.

The University of Waikato – Te Whare Wānanga o Waikato Procedure for Resolving Employment Relationship Problems and Personal Grievances

The Employment Relations Act 2000 requires that all collective and individual employment agreements contain a plain-language explanation of the services and processes available to resolve any employment relationship problems. The University and the staff unions have agreed on the following procedure and wish to draw it to the attention of all existing staff.

1. Employment relationship problems include:
 - a personal grievance (a claim of unjustifiable dismissal, unjustifiable disadvantage, discrimination, sexual or racial harassment, or duress in relation to membership or non-membership of a union or employee organisation).
 - a dispute (about the interpretation, application or operation of an employment agreement).
 - any other problem relating to or arising out of your employment relationship with the University except matters relating to the fixing of new terms and conditions of employment.
2. If you believe there is a problem with your employment relationship with the University, you should tell your line manager, either personally or through your union or other representative, as soon as possible that:
 - there is a problem; and
 - the nature of the problem; and
 - what you want done about the problem.
3. If for any reason you feel unable to raise the matter with your line manager, other suggested contacts are Pro Vice-Chancellors, Deputy Vice-Chancellors or equivalent, Heads of Schools, Directors or equivalent; or the Director of Human Resources and Employment Relations.
4. In the case of a personal grievance, you must raise the matter with the employer within 90 days of the grievance occurring or coming to your notice, whichever is the later. There is an exception for cases of personal grievances related to sexual harassment, for which the employee has a 12-month window to raise a grievance. A written submission is preferable but not necessary.
5. You have the right to seek the support and assistance of your union or representative or information from the Employment Mediation Services within the Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment (MBIE) at any time.
6. We will try to resolve the matter through discussion with you and/or your union or representative.
7. If the problem cannot be resolved through discussion, then either you or the University can request assistance from MBIE which may provide mediation services.
8. If the problem is not resolved by mediation, you may apply to the Employment Relations Authority for investigation and determination.
9. In certain circumstances the decision of the Employment Relations Authority may be appealed by you or the University to the Employment Court.
