Call for papers

THEME: \textit{Current directions in applied linguistics research}

We invite proposals for papers to the annual ALANZ symposium. The aim of this one-day symposium is to provide researchers in applied linguistics with an opportunity to present and discuss aspects of research projects that are either complete or currently being carried out in the area of Applied Linguistics. Submissions from researchers, academics, teachers, and post-graduate students are welcome. \textbf{Suggested sub-themes are:}

a) Learner identity

b) Teacher beliefs and practices

c) Text linguistics

d) Discourse analysis

e) Language and multimodal use

PLENARY SPEAKERS:

\textbf{Gary Barkhuizen}, University of Auckland, Auckland: \textit{Second language identity stories in study abroad programmes}

\textbf{John Macalister}, Victoria University, Wellington: \textit{Desire and desirability: the journey of Malaysian pre-service teachers in NZ}

SUBMISSION OF ABSTRACTS:

A title plus a short abstract of 250 words should be emailed, as an attachment, to Anthea Fester (amfester@waikato.ac.nz) by the \textbf{Friday, 17\textsuperscript{th} August}. A biodata of approximately 100 words should also be included which will go into the symposium programme. All presentations will be \textbf{30 minutes} allowing 20 minutes for the presentation and 10 minutes for the discussion. Abstracts should be single-spaced, use a 12-point font, and use italics rather than underlining (except for URL addresses). All abstracts will be blind-reviewed. Acceptance of abstracts will be notified by 10 September; this notification will include a statement to the effect that the abstract has been blind-reviewed.

POSTERS:

We welcome poster displays on (no more than) one A0-sheet poster. Posters will be displayed throughout the morning with poster presenters available in the morning tea break and lunch break to discuss their material with interested participants. Your abstract should be no more than 200 words and these should be emailed, as an attachment, to Anthea Fester (amfester@waikato.ac.nz) by Friday, 17th August.

EQUIPMENT:

Four fully equipped lecture rooms will be available. Presenters can therefore use PowerPoint or OHTs to aid their presentation. Hand-outs for the audience are also recommended.

REGISTRATION:

FURTHER INFORMATION:

Once the programme is finalised, it will be made available on the symposia website.
